DEFENDERS MOP UP MANY UNITS OF FOE IN TRAP

Counterblow Halts Foe's Advance.

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—An onslaught by Japanese assault troops today succeeded in penetrating the defense line on Bataan peninsula before the invaders were halted by an American-Filipino counterattack.

The war department reported, however, that the line was restored, and a "considerable number" of enemy units trapped. These were being mopped up late in the day, Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright advised.

Meanwhile the anti-aircraft gunners of Corregidor fortress off the southern end of Bataan destroyed three Japanese heavy bombers and a fourth bomber blew up in midair.

Two Attacks in 24 Hours

The attack which penetrated the defenders' main line was the second launched in 24 hours, a late day communique said. The first, made near the center, was readily mastered by heavy artillery fire and counterattacks which regained outposts that had been abandoned to the foe.

The second, launched about 10 a. m., was directed against the left center of Gen. Wainwright's line. Supported by a heavy concentration of artillery fire, the Japanese assault troops advanced dangerously, the war department made clear, before the spearhead of the assault was smashed by a counterattack which trapped the advance forces.

"Our main line of resistance has been restored and the enemy advance halted," the communique reported, adding that while Japanese losses were heavy, the defenders' casualties were "surprisingly small."

On Alert for Sea Attack.

The onslaughts were the second and third to be made in rapid succession by Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's reenforced invasion forces and indicated strongly to observers that the Japanese were intent on ending the Philippine stalemate of more than three months.

The four bombers raised the definite Japanese losses over the Manila bay fortifications to 32. The air raids were accompanied by further artillery duels with Japanese batteries on the south shore of the bay.

Enemy air raids on beach defenses of Bataan put Gen. Wainwright's forces on the alert for an attempted Japanese flanking attack by sea.

The war department reported strong points along the western shore of the rugged peninsula were bombed as yesterday's frustrated major land attack dwindled to skirmishing, air raids, and artillery dueling.

Warships Shell Coasts.

The suspicion that Gen. Yamashita planned soon to supplement indecisive land and air attacks with a flanking naval foray from the China sea, such as figured in his conquest of Malaya, arose when Japanese warships shelled American-Filipino positions along the west coast of Bataan yesterday for the first time in two months. Assaults from the sea were reported smashed on Jan. 25 and Feb. 3, but only after des-

OUTLINE OF DAY'S WAR NEWS FROM WORLD'S FRONTS

Latest war developments:

The 11th bombing of Port Darwin, Australia, by seven Japanese bombers, escorted by fighter planes, and the prospect of a Japanese sea attack on Port Moresby in New Guinea were reported in a dispatch from Melbourne.

Japs 100 Miles from India.

Advices from Chungking, China, said that Japanese troops in four transports protected by 10 warships, had landed at Akyab, western Burma port, within 100 miles of India. On the Toungoo front, a Japanese vanguard was said to be advancing to the west, reaching a point only six miles above the positions of the defending Chinese around Nangyun.

Japanese assault troops penetrated the American defense line on Bataan peninsula in the Philippines, the war department said, but a counterattack restored the line and trapped a "considerable number" of enemy units.

Claim 22,000 Nazis Killed.

Moscow reported that 22,000 Germans had been killed in recent fighting in the Leningrad and Kalinin sectors. The Russians listed an enormous haul of German booty.

A large force of German planes attacked a southeast British coast town. British bombers again struck at the manufacturing suburbs of Paris and railroads in Germany, but 15 planes were missing, it was announced.

What Chicago Boys Want in AEF—Beans!

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 2. — Beans — yes, beans — that is what Chicagoans of the American expeditionary force in Australia are longing for.

"The chow is good," said Jack Herman, "but what we need is good beans. We haven't had a one since we got here."

Today I visited a camp of special troops in southern Australia where many Americans are living comfortably in a huge tent city.

It's Fall "Down Under" Now.

It is fall now in Australia, but the men keep snug and warm inside wooden floored tents heated by charcoal stoves. Six men live in each tent, sleeping on army cots and straw mattresses. Their food is drawn from the Australian army quartermaster and, in the beginning, army cooks had a little difficulty preparing it United States style because it was of a different type than that usually served in the American army.

There is a preponderance of mutton here. It is called "Billy goat" by the troops and has been replaced to a large extent by beef and pork. Tea, cabbage, and pumpkin puzzled some of the army cooks, but the tea has been replaced by coffee, and the cabbage and pumpkin frequently give way to other vegetables.

Here is a sample menu:

Breakfast: Dry cereal, milk, ham, omelets, oven browned potatoes, rolled oats, jam, bread, butter, coffee, and sugar. Dinner: Swiss steak, mashed potatoes, stewed pumpkin, boiled cabbage, creamed carrots, stewed apricots, sugar, bread, butter, coffee, and milk. Supper: Braised beef, boiled potatoes, cream gravy, macaroni and tomatoes, apricots, bread, butter, jam, coffee, milk, and sugar.

They Eat Standing Up.

At present the soldiers eat standing up at high tables, but mess huts are under construction.

Outside the cook tent, I found J. M. Kinder of Chicago, sitting at a tub of FILIPINOS ASK: WHAT ABOUT AID FROM AMERICA?

Tour Shows U.S. Still Holds Most Isles.

[Clark Lee, who covered the fall of Manila and for more than two months reported the defense of Bataan, left Bataan some time before Gen. MacArthur, but landed in Australia just two weeks after MacArthur. Army censorship required Lee to withhold details of his trip. In the following dispatch, however, he sheds fresh light on the conditions in the Philippines and on waters supposedly controled by the Japanese.]

BY CLARK LEE.

UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 2 (AP).—By far the greatest part of the Philippines, both in territory and in population, still is free of the Japanese invader and still is under the American flag.

The people are unwavering in their loyalty to the United States, altho considerably puzzled over the allies' continued withdrawals and their failure to take the initiative against Japan. They also are asking about help from America.

En route to Australia, where I arrived three days ago, I traveled hundreds of miles over Philippine waters and by car over the islands without seeing a single Japanese plane, warship, or soldier. It is well to recall that there are 7,000 islands and reefs in the archipelago and that so far the enemy has landed on only five.

The Five Islands Japs Hold.

The Japanese control the principal cities and highways in central and northern Luzon and a few ports in southeastern Luzon. However, the main prize, Manila bay, still is beyond their reach.

Recently the Japanese occupied five points on northern Mindoro. They maintain a small force on the island of Masbate; occupy Davao and Zamboanga, at the eastern and western extremities of Mindanao, and also hold the island of Jolo.

The Japanese do not control the inner Philippine Islands or the inland waters. Occasionally an enemy warship raids shipping and ports in the so-called "inland sea." But the Japanese apparently are afraid to keep a destroyer or a light cruiser on patrol there.

Field for Speedy Boats.

From what I have seen of the American torpedo boats in action, I believe a few squadrons of those hard-hitting, speedy vessels in which Gen. Douglas MacArthur began his trip to Australia could keep the islands' inner shipping lanes entirely clear of the enemy.

There are dozens of air fields and scores of ports in the inner Philippines from which American planes and ships could operate. There are American and Filipino fighting forces on almost every island.

The war goes on not only on Bataan but on Mindanao, where the Moros, under American officers, frequently attack the Japanese.

[American and Filipino raiders striking on the Island of Mindanao on Wednesday demolished Japanese mili-

2 Slug Union Revolt Leader at Home Door

For six months Larry Belles has been leading a rebellion against officers of local 11 of the roofers' union. Last week he carried his fight to the floor of the international union's convention in Philadelphia, Pa. Last night he was slugged by two husky men at the door of his third floor apartment at 553 Oakdale avenue.

Sergt. George Barnes of the police labor detail and Harry Kronenberg, attorney for Belles' rebel faction, quickly declared their beliefs that the slugging was motivated by the union fight here and in Philadelphia. Meantime Belles, 41 years old, lay in the Alexian Brothers hospital with six stitches on the back of his head. Physicians feared that his skull had been fractured.

Called Typical Goon Attack.

The slugging was a typical goon affair, said Sergt. Barnes. Belles was in his apartment with his wife, Thera, when two men in overalls appeared at the door. One, he noticed, had an upper gold tooth. "Larry, is there anything we can do for you?" asked one. Suspicious, Belles turned to warn his wife.

One of the men then struck Belles with a club or billy. Both fled. Belles later told Detectives Louis Christofori and James Nevans he did not recognize his assailants.

The union fight dates back to last October, when Belles and 125 other members of local 11 protested to the parent union, the United Slate, Tile and Composition Roofers, Damp and Waterproof Workers' association [AFL], against the rule of the local's officers. The petitioners charged the rank and file were denied a voice in the union's affairs. Particularly named were Peter Riley and Luke Ward, an ex-convict, the business agents.

Expelled and Reinstated.

Riley retaliated by expelling Belles and 26 other signers of the petition, but reinstated them when the dissidents sued in the courts for an injunction and accounting. This suit is pending.

Then last week Belles carried his fight to the Philadelphia convention. He asked an investigation of local 11. He also attacked George Jones, up for reëlection as international president. Jones formerly headed local 11 and allegedly sponsored Riley and others. As a result of Belles' attack, it was said, Jones withdrew as a candidate.

3 SOLDIERS KILLED DURING RACE RIOTING AT U. S. ARMY CAMP

Fort Dix, N. J., April 2 (AP).—Three soldiers were killed and five wounded in a battle between whites and Negroes last night described by Maj. Aage Woldike as "the first manifestation of any ill feeling among different races at the post."

At least 50 shots were fired in the dispute which developed in a sports palace in the community of Pointville, surrounded by the Fort Dix reservation.

Negro and white soldiers had been waiting to use a telephone when, Maj. Woldike said, one of the Negro soldiers attempted to seize a pistol from a white military police officer.

The dead were: Private Mannie W. Strouth, white, Honeycamp, Va., a military policeman; Private Isaac W. Brown, Henderson, Tenn., and Corp. W. E. Hall, both Negroes.

MAJOR KILLED, TWO WOUNDED IN PISTOL DUEL

Santa Barbara, Cal., April 2 [Special].—In what police here described as a duel with pistols, Maj. William H. Wenstrom, 47 year old retired army officer, was killed tonight on the front lawn of his home.

His wife and Maj. Buell Hammett, 42, were critically wounded in the gunplay and were taken to a hospital.

Investigators said the two men, both instrumental in the organization of the Santa Barbara home guard and active in the proposed formation of a guerrilla fighter band, had become involved in a violent argument over the affairs of the military groups.

Puerto Rico May Offer Its Internal Revenue to U. S.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, April 2 (AP).—Puerto Rico would return to the United States treasury all internal revenues as a war contribution under a bill now pending in the legislature. Last year's receipts would be refunded and payments continued until the President declares the state of emergency passed.

Bird Attempts to Alight on Head of Schoolgirl

A big bird fluttered down yesterday and tried to alight on the head of Joan Hahn, 9324 Oglesby avenue, at 92d street and Chappel avenue as she was on her way to school. She screamed, driving the bird away.

So Fred Pulls a Lady's Leg, and Vice Versa

It was 1 o'clock in the morning and Fred Carey was on his way home to 432 New York street, Aurora, after a hard day at the Moose club in that thriving city. Ahead of him Fred noted a lady traveling in the same direction.

At Park place Fred overtook his fellow pedestrian. As she stepped off the curb she moaned. Fred went to her aid at once.

"I have turned my ankle," said the lady, suppressing cries of pain. "Can you pull it back in place?"

He Does the Gallant Thing.

Now Fred, as custodian of the Moose club, knows little of first aid for ladies, but he said he'd try. He decided she'd need something to lean against, so he helped her to a nearby gas station.

There the lady braced herself against a car. Fred turned his back to her, straddled her leg, and began tugging. After four or five efforts something snapped. The lady fell over on Fred's back from the force of the last tug, but she was very grateful.

The lady limped westward from the scene of the accident. Fred walked east to his home.

Wallet Sequel Gives Him Pain.

Last night he reached for his wallet. It was in the wrong hip pocket. And it was empty.

Then Fred remembered the lady. He hastened to the police station to tell them about it. He couldn't give a very good description of the woman, but said he thought she was middle aged. She wore a dark hat and a dark dress and weighed, Fred was sure, about 130 pounds.

Carey said there were a $5 bill and a $10 bill in the wallet when he left the club. There was also a $28 I. O. U., but Fred hadn't figured that was an asset anyway.

Audit Reveals Shortage in State Office

Lawrence J. O'Connell.

Lawrence J. O'Connell appeared voluntarily at the state's attorney's office last night to deny assertions that there was a shortage of $54,073 in his accounts when he resigned last fall as chief security supervisor of the Illinois Industrial commission. The charges were made earlier in the day by Alfred J. Borah, commission chairman.

After several hours' questioning, O'Connell was held overnight in the witness room at the prosecutor's offices. Prosecutors said they would ask Borah today to sign a complaint against O'Connell today. The courts are closed today, Good Friday, so such action would have to be in a judge's home, or a judge would have to be brought to the Criminal Courts building for the purpose.

The state's attorney's aid in the investigation was requested by Borah, who asserted the full shortage was disclosed by an audit completed in January. Borah, a Republican, was appointed by Gov. Green to succeed Peter J. Angsten, Democrat, and the sponsor of O'Connell. Angsten had held the office for eight years.

Forced Out of Job.

O'Connell's resignation was "forced," according to Borah, after it had been discovered that the supervisor's books showed no record of a check that an employer had paid in to cover possible insurance claims of his employés.

"He had civil service standing," Borah asserted, "but gave up the place at once when I asked his resignation. We had an employer's canceled check to show the payment, but nothing to show for it in the books of the commission."

Borah and Jack Peterson, first assistant attorney general, said the audit showed that $35,000 had been turned over to O'Connell's department, as well as more than $19,000 in cash by "self-insurers," and that all this property was unaccounted for.

Calls It "Political Matter."

O'Connell is 38 years old and lives at 1333 Pratt boulevard. Questioned by Assistant State's Attorney James A. Brown, he defended his acts.

"This is a political matter," he said. "I don't believe there is any shortage and I can prove it if they let me inspect the last audit of the funds in my charge.

"When I went into the office eight years ago there was no money in the insurance fund. When I quit there was over $12,000,000. Most of the companies were represented by insurance policies.

"Those who deposited money or securities were principally small firms, mostly junkmen. It is my guess that these people didn't keep accurate records and that they are mistaken."

O'Connell asserted that Borah has "been resentful" toward him since long before Borah became chairman.

Bonds Pledged with Banks.

Borah charged that Richard Piper of the state department of public safety had discovered bonds with a face value of $12,000 had been pledged with Chicago banks by O'Connell to cover personal loans.

When the audit was completed in January, Borah said, O'Connell was notified of the shortage and ordered to produce money to make it up. He also said that a bonding company which was surety for O'Connell indicated a willingness to pay the $20,000 it had guaranteed. The delay in asking for the prosecutor's aid, he said, was requested by this bonding company.

O'Connell, who is married and the father of five children, said he had been working recently as a construction foreman at the Great Lakes Naval Training station. He denied that he had ever lost any large sums playing the races, or gambling, or otherwise. His home is a modest frame structure.

Cousin of Probate Judge.

Angsten said he didn't know "how it could have happened." He said O'Connell had been recommended for his place by the 49th ward Democratic organization, that he had been active in politics, and that he was a cousin of John F. O'Connell, judge of the Probate court. The relationship with the judge was corroborated by O'Connell.

Policemen of the state's attorney's force went to the home on Pratt boulevard last night and when O'Connell learned of this he called and arranged to meet them in the Criminal courts building.

ADULT BICYCLE SALES BANNED; PLAN RATIONING

War Workers Will Get First Call.

Ban Tin Bottle Caps

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The War Production board tonight ordered production halted after April 28 of tin caps for containers to be used for beer, soft drinks, catsup, jellies, and preserves. Also barred, ending this month, will be the manufacture of tin lids for containers of coffee, tea, candy, peanut butter, radiator cement, fly spray, dry cleaning fluids, and dry spices, except those containing salt. Tin covered plate will no longer be used for glass containers of animal food. The order is to conserve an estimated 1,600 tons a year of tin needed for armaments. WPB spokesmen suggested that as a substitute for tin the blackplate, the thin steel sheeting to which tin is applied, be coated with wax or lacquer or used plain.

[Story on fixing of $10,000 fines for violation of tooth paste tube law on page 10.]

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Stocks of new adult bicycles were frozen in the hands of manufacturers and dealers tonight under a War Production board order, effective at 10:59 p. m. [Chicago war time]. Adult sizes were given as those measuring more than 19 inches from the center of the pedal crank to the top of the seat stand.

The order cut off sales, shipment, delivery or transfer of bicycles until further action is taken by the WPB. Shipments in transit from factories at the deadline will be frozen when they reach their destination, with only one exception. This is when the bicycle has been consigned and is on the way to an ultimate consumer.

Even if bicycles have been bought and paid for, the order provides, they are frozen at the factory or shop. WPB officials refused to estimate the number affected, but said inventories are the lowest in history.

WPB Official Explains.

M. D. Moore, chief of the durable goods branch of the WPB, explained: "The order was issued because of the terrific rate at which bicycles have been going to people who don't need them, with too few going to people like defense workers who have to have them or soon will need them."

Indicating that a rationing order will follow, as in the case of automobiles and tires, he said defense workers will get first call on frozen stocks and future production. Then essential civilian needs will be filled, with whatever is left being made available for general sales.

Issuing of the freezing order follows by less than three weeks WPB regulations curtailing bicycle production and limiting manufacturers to two types of lightweight models. Previously regarded as a child's plaything or an exercising device for fresh air enthusiasts, the bicycle is expected to come into its own as a result of conversion of the auto industry to war production and the severe rationing of tires.

Cut Out Junior Sizes.

Under the curtailment regulations, junior sizes were eliminated entirely beginning yesterday, and production of adult models for 1942 was cut 58 per cent below the 1941 figure. In addition, all bright metal work and nonessential gadgets were eliminated.

Manufacturers are required to limit products to a top weight of 31 pounds; frame measurements must be not less than 20 inches and balloon tires are not allowed. Types of frames for men's and women's models are also specified.

Last year the industry manufactured 1,800,000 units, of which 85 per cent were for juveniles.

ARRESTS REVEAL INSIDE STORY OF BIRTH OF A GANG

3 Ex-Convicts and Girl Seized by Police.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

Detectives Leo Mikell and Leonard Kreussler of Summerdale police last night heard the tale of how Dillinger gangs are born.

The story moved from Wichita Falls, Tex., thru Missouri and Ohio into Chicago. It involved the chance meeting of two penniless paroled convicts near Cincinnati, the recruiting of a third ex-convict member thru the chance pickup of a hitch-hiker.

Then an 18 year old girl joined "because she wanted to see a big city" and the mob was ready for the big time in Chicago. Twenty-five robberies, in which police estimated $2,000 was netted; two kidnapings, six stolen cars, and one shooting marked the gang's activities.

Wide Choice of Charges.

Among the charges which can be invoked thru these activities are violation of the Lindbergh law, the Dyer and Mann acts, robbery, larceny, assault, assault to kill with a deadly weapon, carrying concealed weapons, and failure to have draft cards.

The gang career was ended at 4 o'clock in the morning of April 1. Mikell and Kreussler, cruising their district, saw three men and a girl get out of an automobile back of 1605 Devon avenue.

They tried to outtalk the policemen, told conflicting stories, and were searched. Watches and money came to light.

Reveal Their Records.

The quartet identified themselves as follows: Jess Crawford, 25 years old, of Sayor, Tenn., on parole from San Quentin, where he had done an indeterminate sentence for statutory rape; Corbett Chambers, 25 years old, Hazel Green, Ky., paroled from Pendleton, Ind., on a sentence of 1 to 10 years for larceny; Virgel King, 33, Gary, Ind., ex-convict who did 3 to 10 years in Michigan City prison, and Hattie Vires, 18, of Pine Ridge, Ky.

Crawford, who has three living wives—all divorced, he says—was the moving figure He said it started when he got tired of his parole in Alhambra, Cal., last December. There he met Slim Boyd, now held in an army guard house in Stilwell, Okla.

Take $60 from Salesman.

They picked out a salesman in a large sedan, pretended to have pistols, took $60. Then they made the man drive them to a place 30 miles from Oklahoma City.

From there they got to Joplin, Mo., by an undetermined method. They bought an automatic pistol from a farmer for $10 and spent 15 cents for cartridges. They bought a second pistol for $5 at a pawnshop in East St. Louis.

They robbed a man at Granville avenue and Clark street in Chicago of $40. Stanley Simulus, 2150 South Hoyne, was a victim on Feb. 9 at Franklin and Madison streets. They took $40, his wrist watch, overcoat, and put him on the car floor.

List of Victims Grows.

At Rosemont and Broadway, Crawford herded Donald Richie, 6230 Kenmore, back to the car with him. Richie gave up $10 and his wrist watch. Simulus went along to Evanston, where he lost the rest of his clothing and was evicted.

Another job the police are sure of was the robbery in which Julius Eckert, 596 Locust, Winnetka, lost his car and got a bullet in the arm in front of 1460 Foster avenue.

Crawford used the same car the next night when he robbed the liquor store of Bernard Bernstein at 2357 Peterson avenue of a pint of whisky and $50. Crawford then went to Springfield for a $100 robbery of a liquor store.

In Newport, Ky., he met Chambers. They discovered both were ex-convicts, Chambers said, so they stole an auto and went down to Chambers' home place in Kentucky.

There they met the Vires girl. They took her in the car, and down the road, according to Crawford, they met up with King, who was hitch-hiking his way.

LA GUARDIA GOES BEFORE JURY IN FLYNN SCANDAL

New York, April 2 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia spent an hour and 15 minutes before the Bronx county grand jury today—exactly half the time spent Monday by Paul J. Kern, ousted civil service commissioner, whose accusation that the mayor tried to suppress investigation of the laying of city paving blocks by city workmen on the Lake Mahopac estate of Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national chairman, was one of the incidents precipitating the present grand jury investigation.

"It was very interesting," the mayor said as he emerged from the grand jury room. "The matters are in the courts now. Everything will come out."

Once a Day Milk Delivery Fully Effective Monday

Peter Hoban, vice president of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, local 753, announced yesterday that the milk drivers will do their part to save tires and gasoline by beginning deliveries at 8 a. m. instead of 5:30, thus enabling them to collect or fill belated orders as they deliver. and doing away with the previous system of going over each route twice daily. Hoban said the plan would be in full operation by Monday morning.

LIBRARY STUDENTS PLAN TOUR.

Urbana, Ill., April 2 [Special].—Students in the University of Illinois library school will leave Monday on a five day tour of libraries, printing establishments, and binderies. One group will visit Bloomington, La Salle-Peru, and Rockford, while the other will visit four Chicago suburbs. Both will unite in Chicago.

TRIPLE SLAYER GIVEN LIFE ON DAY OF CAPTURE

Ex-Convict Blames Grudge for One Killing.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Jackson, Mich., April 2—Dominick Piccone, the 20 year old ex-convict who killed three Michigan farmers, entered Jackson prison tonight to commence serving a life term. Sentence was pronounced this afternoon by Judge H. Russell Holland in Pontiac.

Piccone was seized by state policemen at 3 a. m. today after creating a 30 hour reign of terror over four southeastern Michigan counties.

Clanging of the prison gates behind him completed a weird cycle of violence that commenced two weeks ago when he walked a free man from the same institution. The youth brooded at the Detroit home of his parents for 12 days, then struck in a mad fashion, killing three men to satisfy an 11 year old grudge against one of them, and kidnaping a fourth man who was kept prisoner until rescued by police when they captured the killer at Otisville, near Pontiac, early today.

Trial Takes 17 Minutes.

The whole story over which hovered the breath of insanity, was reviewed briefly in the 17 minute trial. Swift justice then followed as Piccone, apparently sunk in the depths of complete apathy toward his surroundings and the action the state was taking, pleaded guilty before the bar.

Piccone didn't move a muscle of his heavy, puffy face or his furtive eyes when nearing sentence.

In his confession of the crimes Piccone said the slayings commenced when he bought a .22 caliber rifle in Detroit last Tuesday and set out to kill Cassius Barber, 71 year old farmer living near Oxford, Mich., Piccone had been paroled to the Barber farm 11 years earlier while serving time for a minor offense. He was once beaten by the farmer, he said.

But Barber was not the first to fall. Piccone hitch-hiked out to Oxford from Detroit, then walked toward Barber's farm. He got cold, he said, by the time he reached the home of C. Romaine Potter, 75, a cousin and neighbor of Barber. He knocked at the door and entered to warm himself, but Potter saw the gun and recognized the youth.

"Didn't Mean" to Kill.

"I didn't mean to do Potter any harm," was Piccone's explanation in court for this killing. "Potter saw the gun, made some cracks about it, and told me to get out. He said he knew I wanted to kill Barber and tried to grab the gun. I shot him in the struggle."

Leaving Potter dead, Piccone headed on to Barber's home. On the way he stopped Roy Thorp, a neighbor who was driving by. Piccone then made Thorp his chauffeur.

Together they went to Barber's home. Piccone opened the door, told Barber he had come to pay off for old scores, and thereupon shot him. He ransacked Barber's bedroom and obtained an old revolver that he added to his arms. Barber's 90 year old mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, recognized the killer and informed the police.

The final murder was the killing of Carl McKenzie, 46, a farmer near Concord. McKenzie was shot on his own land after sighting Thorp's automobile. When he ordered Piccone to move on the young slayer emptied the rifle point blank into the farmer's body.

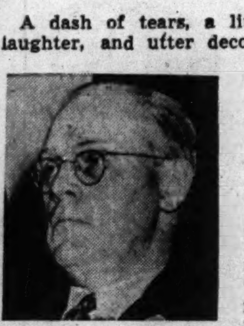
DILLING DIVORCE TRIAL HITS PEAK —OF DECORUM!

Tears and Genteel Titters Replace Turmoil.

A dash of tears, a little genteel laughter, and utter decorum. That was the Dilling divorce hearing yesterday as it went into its fourth round before Judge Rudolph Desort under the watchful eyes of 10 bailiffs and six uniformed sheriff's policemen.



Albert W. Dilling.

There were bitter exchanges between Albert W. Dilling, the attorney-engineer plaintiff, and Theodore W. Miller, attorney for Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling. But there was nothing to compare with the rough and tumble session of last week when Mrs. Dilling was held in contempt of court and all the spectators were ordered out.

Draws Overflow Crowd.

More than 200 persons were turned away from the courtroom door yesterday and no one was allowed to enter who could not find a seat. The hearing began with Dilling on the stand answering questions regarding a temporary injunction he obtained to tie up his wife's bank accounts on Feb. 27 when he filed his divorce bill which originally charged use of drugs and liquor.

These charges were deleted after they had been broadcast by Walter Winchell. Mrs. Dilling since has named Winchell, Dilling, and Dilling's attorney, Maurice T. Weinshenk, in a million dollar damage suit. They also were named with Howard Mayer, publicity counsel, in a contempt action.

When Miller tried to question Dilling on the drugs and liquor charges yesterday, the witness insisted they had been deleted, but Judge Desort ruled he must answer whether or not the charges were true. He replied that Mrs. Dilling had drunk wine and brandy to excess and had taken sleeping tablets which contained drugs.

Drank Only to Induce Sleep.

"I'm willing to state for the record," Dilling continued, "that she drank brandy and wine only to induce sleep, but she took them to excess and became intoxicated."

"Did any one besides yourself ever see her intoxicated?" asked Miller.

"Our children did; also employés at our Rush creek farm in McHenry county."

At this point Mrs. Dilling began to weep and was comforted by her son, Kirkpatrick, 24 years old, and daughter, Elizabeth Jane, 16.

Miller then introduced a letter, signed by Dilling and addressed to Leo Luchey, caretaker on the farm, in which it was explained that Mrs. Dilling's wine was bought by Dilling and drunk by her at his insistence. The letter described Mrs. Dilling as a teetotaler "just as her mother was."

"Were you lying when you wrote that letter, or were you lying in your testimony of a moment ago?" the attorney asked.

"I have never lied," said Dilling. "That letter was written by Mrs. Dilling and I signed it to keep peace in the family."

Admits Falsifying for Peace.

Q.—Are you accustomed to signing lying statements under pressure? A.—Yes, frequently to protect the name of my wife and family.

Q.—Was the divorce complaint signed by you a falsehood? A.—Only insofar as it referred to sleeping tablets as "drugs."

Further questioning on the divorce bill brought the statement from Dilling that he had been distrait and had overlooked the allusion to drugs. He admitted he had been upset after the Winchell broadcast March 1.

Miller then sought to introduce an electrical transcription of the broadcast, but Judge Desort ruled no question hinged upon it and that the proper foundation had not been laid.

Miller also went into Mrs. Dilling's charges that her husband had threatened to "smear" her from coast to coast thru the aid of a religious fraternal organization.

"That is not true," said Dilling. "We were in the bank at Harvard, Ill., and she was blasting away and threatening me in a loud voice.

"I spoke to her in a low, calm voice and said that if she sued me for divorce, charging only cruelty, I would not contest it. I added: 'If there are any other charges I'll file a countersuit charging habitual drunkenness.'"

The next hearing of the case will be held next Thursday at 3 p. m. The contempt action against Winchell, Weinshenk, Dilling, and Mayer was set for hearing April 16 at 3 p. m. Mayer informed the court thru counsel yesterday that he does not represent Winchell in Chicago as charged.

SAILOR, JUKEBOX GIRL SPREAD ALARM, FOIL HOLDUP OF TAP ROOM

New York, April 2 [Special].—A sailor from a warship and a telephone operator, talking thru a jukebox microphone from a Greenwich Village tap room, brought about the capture of three ex-convicts who robbed the bartender and 12 patrons of $300.

The sailor was about to request the girl to play a popular song when the gunman entered and announced: "This is a stickup; everybody in the rear!" The sailor spoke into the microphone: "Did you hear that?" The girl said she did and promptly went into action.

Her quick call to police brought several squad cars of detectives and patrolmen, summoned by radio. They spread over the district and soon rounded up the three gunmen, who were identified by the victims, and recovered the loot.

BRITISH SAILOR FREED IN DEATH OF U. S. HECKLER

Philadelphia, Pa., April 2 (AP).—Alfred Thompson, 21 year old British sailor, was acquitted of a manslaughter charge today in the death of an American defense worker who, Thompson testified, made "very nasty remarks" about the British navy.

Thompson had told a jury he struck Herman Weigand, 48, in self-defense and he "fell to the street, injuring his head." He denied striking the blow because of Weigand's conversation.

"This is a most deplorable accident and nobody feels worse about it than the defendant himself," Defense Counsel John Blakely said.

Gen. Lawton to Get New Regiment for 33d Division

Camp Forrest, Tenn., April 2 (AP).—Maj. Gen. Samuel Lawton today announced that a new infantry regiment, known as the 136th, will be organized as part of the 33d division, which he commands. The personnel, he said, will come from the 129th and 130th regiments.

PLANE CRASHES INTO MESS HALL; TWO LOSE LIVES

Everett, Wash., April 2 (AP).—A pursuit plane crashed into the mess hall at Paine field air base today, killing two soldier mess attendants and injuring the pilot seriously.

The dead were Private James R. Hanley, Little Rock, Ark., and Private Henry H. Robertson, Elk City, Okla.

Second Lieut. Oscar L. Morse of Cook, Neb., was the pilot.

The plane burst into flames. The fire spread to the hall, but was extinguished.

Cadet and Teacher Killed.

Red Rock, Ariz., April 2 (AP).—A flying instructor and a young British cadet were burned to death in a training plane crash at Red Rock airport yesterday.

Falcon field officers, said the dead were: Barney John Gordon, Panhandle, Tex., and F. Glew, member of the primary class.

Plane Falls in Sea; 2 Die.

San Pedro, Cal., April 2 (AP).—Capt. Richard B. Coffman, naval operations base commander, said today two navy flyers crashed into the ocean off Santa Barbara last night on a patrol flight. The dead: Ensign Weldon A. Baird, pilot, of Kilbourne, O., and Morgan M. Atwood, radio man, third class, of New Orleans.

Georgia Crash Kills Three.

Savannah, Ga., April 2 (AP).—Three flyers were killed today when their Savannah air base training plane crashed about noon near Pearson, southwest of here.

The dead included Corp. Emanuel A. Vollweiler of Blackfoot, Idaho.

Col. Bernard T. Castor, air base commanding officer, said that the cause of the crash, which occurred on a routine training flight, was unknown.

Two Die as Plane Explodes.

Merced, Cal., April 2 (AP).—Two flying cadets died today as their two seated training plane from the Merced flying school crashed and exploded 15 miles east of Merced. The victims were:

Cadet Luther W. Jones, 23 years old, Scottsville, Ky., son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Jones.

Cadet Donald J. Gann, 22, Evansville, Ind., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gann.

Losses of Owners Are Paid by Nine Counties.

Dogs, wolves, and foxes cost the nine counties surrounding Chicago $11,525 during the year ending April 1, county treasurers disclosed yesterday. While some counties showed material increases, the total figure was more than $1,000 lower than 1940's total of $12,887.

The bounties, paid to farmers for their losses to predatory animals, come out of dog tax funds. Officials hold that wild dogs, those that stray from domestication and run in packs, are principal culprits. Sometimes farm dogs stray for a night or two to run with the pack.

Heavy Toll in Sheep.

In McHenry county sheep were the most frequent victims. There were 133 head on which farmers claimed bounties. Heaviest single loss of the year in that county was suffered by W. G. Moorhead, a Chicago business man who operates a farm near Woodstock. He was paid $735 for 49 sheep.

In Will county, it was much the same story. Sheep suffered the heaviest losses. Turkeys were a close second, numerically, but the heaviest monetary losses were among cattle. Ten cows and steers, for which the county pays $45 and $60 each, were killed by the wolves and dogs.

25 Claims in Lake County.

In Lake county, there were 25 claims by 22 individuals, totaling $2,254 as compared with last year's $962.10. Sheep again led the list. Largest individual claim there was $1,141 by William Duncan of Wadsworth for 73 sheep killed and three injured.

Totals by counties for this year and last follow:

	1941.	1940.
Boone	$ 162.00	$ 604.00
De Kalb	2,294.30	1,657.00
Du Page	193.75	254.00
Kane	1,172.00	1,492.00
Kendall	494.00	1,507.50
Lake [Ill.]	2,554.00	962.10
Lake [Ind.]	922.00	2,420.00
McHenry	2,050.00	906.00
Will	1,683.00	3,084.00

Claims in Lake county, Ind., showed a marked decrease this year, $922 compared with $2,420.

BURMA LANDING PUTS JAPS 100 MILES FROM INDIA

Mountain Road Leads to Rich Oil Fields.

BULLETIN.

NEW DELHI, India, April 3 [Friday]—(AP).—A British communique denied today a Chungking announcement that Japanese forces had landed at Akyab, west Burma port within 100 miles of the Indian frontier. No Japanese landing has been made in that area, it said.

LONDON, April 2 (AP).—Japanese troops protected by cruisers and destroyers have landed at Akyab, the chief western Burma port within 100 miles of the Indian frontier, and thus have raised a menace to the whole of the present right allied Burmese line, a Chinese army spokesman announced today in Chungking.

British and Chinese communiques indicated that action afield in central Burma had fallen into a lull, but a Chungking dispatch said the Japanese vanguard on the Toungoo front was advancing west and had reached a point to the southwest of Yedashe, which is six miles above Nangyun, and the new Chinese positions.

Mountain Range Intervenes.

Between Akyab and the Irrawaddy basin a mountain range intervenes, but a trail leads from the city across the mountains to Minbu, 100 miles north of Prome and only 20 miles below the center of the Burma oil fields at Yenangyaung.

A heavy enemy flanking movement over that trail, it was pointed out, might soon make indefensible the present British positions about Prome, aside from putting the oil fields in imminent danger.

The Chinese spokesman said the enemy units comprised two heavy cruisers, three light cruisers, five destroyers, four transports, and two supply ships.

Traitors Peril Allies.

Already outnumbered, the British forces—English and Scottish troops and some Indians—were faced with a rising threat by traitorous Burmese. Four thousand such mercenaries were officially reported now to be in action in aid of the Japanese on the Prome front alone.

There was no confirmation of a report broadcast by the German controled Paris radio that the Japanese had gone up the Sittang river to land at Yedashe.

CHINESE CUT RAIL LINE IN 20 SPOTS TO HOLD UP JAPS

CHUNGKING, China, April 2 (AP).—Chinese forces have destroyed the Tatung-Puchow railway running south into Shansi province in 20 places to prevent the Japanese from sending reënforcements into the Shensi battle area, Chinese dispatches said today.

Heavy Japanese troop movements over this line have been reported recently, apparently in preparation for a large scale drive against the Chinese still holding part of the mountainous interior or for an attempt to cross the Yellow river to invade Shensi province, to the west.

Artillery duels between Chinese and Japanese batteries across the Yellow river were reported continuing.

New Jap Move Envisioned in Southwest Pacific War

SEE POSSIBILITY OF COMPROMISE ON INDIAN RULE

Congress Rejects Plan, but Hope Remains.

NEW DELHI, India, April 2 (AP).—With Japanese invaders reported barely 100 miles from the Bengal border, the pressing problem of India's fighting participation in the war tonight appeared to have been saved from a stalemate by indications of willingness to compromise on details of the independence issue.

The executive committee of the powerful All-India Congress party rejected Britain's offer of post-war dominion status in return for full war participation under British direction, but it was reported to have advanced its own counterproposals.

Sir Stafford Cripps, special envoy who brought Britain's offer to India, changed his mind about leaving for home next Monday. He declared, instead, that "I think I can possibly do something useful next week."

Moslems to Be Heard from.

He already had before him the previous rejections of Britain's proposal by the Sikhs, warriors of the Punjab, and by the extremist Mahasabha group of Hindus.

Yet to be heard from formally, however, was the Moslem league, second largest of India's complex political and religious groups.

The Congress party's reply was understood to criticize particularly the British proposal to keep the direction of India's defense in British hands and to question the option which Britain would give for certain provinces to remain outside the India union.

Plea to Cabinet Hinted.

It was intimated that the British war cabinet might be asked to make concession to Indian demands for an immediate voice in defense responsibility rather than acceptance of purely British leadership.

[The Exchange Telegraph agency in London said Indian moderate leaders had received tentative assurance that the formula for defense coördination advanced by the moderate Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru would be acceptable to Cripps. This formula was said to call for a minister of defense acting in coördination with a small defense council including the commander in chief. The council would deal with civilian defense and internal security.]

ESCAPED DOCTOR SAYS ALLIED PRISONERS IN HONGKONG FACE DEATH

LONDON, April 2 (AP).—Dr. Gordon King, who has just escaped from Hongkong and reached Chungking, China, was quoted by Reuters news agency tonight as declaring that half the 1,600 Britons and 300 Americans interned in Hongkong's Stanley prison were in danger of death by starvation within six months.

Dr. King, a physician and former professor in Hongkong university, said the Japanese had refused requests by an Italian bishop, the Swedish consul, and others for better treatment of the prisoners.

"U. S. Prisoners Well Treated."

Washington, April 3 [Friday]—(AP).—The 366 United States prisoners of war, who were captured on Gilbert, Wake, and Guam islands by the Japanese and interned at Zentsuji, Island of Skikoku, are being well treated, the International Red Cross reported in a cablegram made public today by Rep. Compton I. White [D., Ida.].

Canadian Commandos Get Training in Britain

GREENOCK, Scotland, April 2 (AP).—A force of Canadian sea Commandos, manning specially constructed boats, is being trained to take part in combined army-navy-air force operations, Capt. R. I. Agnew, commanding Canadian naval establishments in Britain, said today.

ALLIES CAN HOLD AUSTRALIA, SEN. CONNALLY SAYS

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Chairman Connally [D., Tex.] said today that on the basis of information given the senate foreign relations committee today by Vice Adm. Thomas C. Hart he was encouraged to believe that the united nations' forces were sufficiently strong to hold Australia as a base for future offensive action.

Hart, appearing before the committee in a closed session, was said to have been questioned in detail about the disposition of allied forces in the southwestern Pacific, where he turned over the command of the united nations naval units to a Dutch admiral before the fall of Java to the Japanese.

"Apparently," Connally told reporters, "the military and naval situation in the southwest Pacific is much more hopeful than some of us had thought. From such information as is available, in my opinion the united nations have been able to get considerable supplies and aircraft to Australia."

Adm. Hart, reviewing operations in the whole Pacific war theater, was said to have declined to estimate how long American and Filipino troops could hold out on Luzon and Corregidor in the Philippines before reënforcements came.

5% Wage Increase Granted Workers in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, April 2.—A general wage increase to all New Zealand workers operating under wage agreements has been announced by the industrial court. The order steps up by 5 per cent all wages up to $25 weekly.

DARWIN BOMBED FOR 11TH TIME BY ENEMY RAIDERS

Predict Jap Sea Attack on Port Moresby.

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 2 (AP).—The Japanese bombed the northern port of Darwin today for the 11th time, but their loss of air superiority in this theater of war led to predictions that their next move might be a sea borne attack on Port Moresby, key city of New Guinea.

Prime Minister John Curtin said that Japanese planes dropped 35 bombs on Darwin but caused only slight damage and one minor casualty. The action was the only one reported in the entire area of the far southwest Pacific.

[A London broadcast quoting Sydney messages said the American and Australian flyers had destroyed or crippled 96 Japanese planes since March 10 at a cost of only 12 of their own planes, of which five crews were saved.]

Switch to Sea Thrust?

The probability that the Japanese will switch to a sea thrust at Port Moresby, less than 300 miles from the Australian mainland, was raised by the Sydney Sun. It said that with heavy rains halting the Japanese drive overland from the northern New Guinea coast and with the American and Australian forces having won at least temporary air superiority, a resort to naval action was "suggested by recent movements of enemy ships, which are constantly being attacked at Lae and Salamaua by the allied air forces."

Japs Race U. S. Aid.

The paper warned, however, that the Japanese were obtaining aerial reënforcements "which must be described as considerable," and that "the air supremacy we have gained may not be permanent and at most will dislocate the Japanese plans only temporarily."

The same paper reported eight Japanese divisions totaling 120,000 to 150,000 men and including parachutists were believed to be concentrated in Java and Singapore in readiness for the next Japanese move.

The increasing American aid to Australia was regarded as likely to cause the Japanese to hasten their attack plans.

REPORT DUTCH IN INDIES STILL BATTLING JAPS

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Netherlands Indies forces were reported today to be still giving blows to the Japanese invaders, nearly four weeks after the loss of Java. Authorized sources said isolated detachments were known to be fighting in Java, Borneo, Sumatra and Celebes, and possibly other islands.

Netherlands flyers and planes which escaped from Java were said to be operating with American and Australian air forces. Some ground forces likewise were believed to have been transferred from Java to reënforce Australia's defenders.

RAF BOMBS NAZI WAR PLANTS FOR 2D NIGHT IN ROW

Strikes Near Paris; Foe Raids British Towns.

LONDON, April 3 [Friday]—(AP).—The royal air force's heavy bombers struck for the second straight night last night at the Nazi directed Matford automotive works outside Paris, while German raiders attacked along the southeastern English coast.

British flyers had dropped leaflets over Paris warning the French they were coming back again after their destructive raid last month on the Renault tank and automotive plant, working to supply the Nazi eastern front armies.

An informed British source today indicated the second blow at the Matford works was lighter than Wednesday night's attack, but said the British "got in some good licks."

Nazi Blow Called Worst.

The German counterattack on Britain's coastal defense belt was the worst yet experienced by some townsmen there who had weathered the heavy 1940 blows. A number of persons were killed and wounded. Others were buried in their wrecked homes.

The Germans, favored by bright moonlight, also were reported over southern Wales.

The RAF attacks of Wednesday night also were directed at the reich's railroad network, which is shuttling munitions toward the Russian front.

Fifteen British bombers were missing from Wednesday night's big RAF raids, interpreted authoritatively here as primarily blows to assist Russia. The Paris factories are reported turning out vehicles for the Germans in the east and the German railroads are strained to the utmost in transporting supplies for spring offensive action against the Red armies.

Bombs in Paris Suburbs.

It was the RAF's biggest loss in a single night since the Nov. 7 raid on Berlin in which 37 British planes were destroyed, and it was above the average of 10 to 12 which the RAF feels it can afford to lose in one night at the present scale of operations.

Reports from Vichy said that fairly heavy damage was caused at Poissy, with the Matford factory the chief target. Bombs also were reported dropped in several western and northwestern Paris outskirts.

[The Ford Motor company has an interest in the Matford works, but at Ford headquarters in Detroit it was said there had been no contact with the plant in the Paris suburbs since the conquest of France.]

20,444 BUTTONS OF MacARTHUR SOLD IN A DAY

The daily sale of MacArthur buttons thru Tribune Public Service offices climbed above the 20,000 mark again yesterday, with the office at 1 South Dearborn street selling 17,705 over the counter and 941 by mail, and the Tower office disposing of 1,798 across the counter. The day's total of 20,444 brings the grand total to 196,875 in nine days.

The buttons, which sell for 2 cents each at the Public Service offices and 5 cents each by mail, bear a likeness of Gen. Douglas MacArthur reproduced from a portrait painted for THE TRIBUNE by Oskar Gross.

All profits from the sale will go to nearby soldiers' and sailors' camps.

New York News button sales yesterday totaled 4,577, bringing the grand total to 178,232 for 12 days. In Washington, D. C., the Times-Herald placed them on sale at 3 p. m. and disposed of 1,000 in less than two hours.

British and German Plane Losses

U.S. SINKS 101, DAMAGES 58 JAP VESSELS

New York, April 2 (AP).—An unofficial compilation of official United States claims against Japanese ships of all types since Pearl Harbor showed today that 101 vessels were sunk and 58 damaged.

The summary:

Japanese ships—	Sunk.	Damaged.
Transports	42	24
Battleships	1	3
Cruisers	6	14
Destroyers	8	7
Submarines	7	1
Minesweepers	1	1
Seaplane tenders	1	1
Gunboats	1	2
Supply ships	3	0
Lighters	2	0
Freighters	19	2
Tankers	6	1
Aircraft carriers	2	2
Barges	2	0
Totals	101	58

Where Australian and Netherlands East Indies forces took part in actions and announcements did not make clear which results were credited exclusively to the United States, the totals have been marked as United States achievements, probable or possible sinkings, unless confirmed, are listed in the "damaged" column.

LAVAL CONFERS AT VICHY WITH MARSHAL PETAIN

VICHY, France, April 2 (AP).—Former Premier Pierre Laval came to Vichy today for the first time since he was ousted from the Vichy régime and conferred with Chief of State Marshal Petain on Franco-German relations. After the meeting Laval, a proponent of collaboration with Germany, issued a communique referring to a recent series of such meetings elsewhere with Marshal Petain on the French-German issue. The last meeting was March 27.

JEWELRY STOLEN FROM INTERNES.

Doctors Herbert Karol and Otto Kilian, internes, reported to police yesterday that their room in the Jackson Park hospital at 7531 Stoney Island avenue, had been broken into and $300 worth of jewelry stolen.

Britain Loses 144

LONDON, April 2 (AP).—Germany lost 159 planes in March over the British Isles, the Mediterranean areas, and Europe, exclusive of Russia, according to figures released today by British officials. Britain's losses came to 144. The officials gave this sectional breakdown: Over Britain—Germany, 7; Britain, 0. Over Europe—Germany, 59; Britain, 102. Over Mediterranean area—German, 93, including 59 brought down by Malta's defenders; Britain, 42. In addition, the admiralty reported six axis planes were shot down by warships.

ARMY TAKES NEW STEP TO DOVETAIL WITH NAVY WORK

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—New steps toward coördinating the war effort were reported today by the war department in announcing the change of the army general staff's war plans division into an operations division.

Maj. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has been designated chief of operations. As such he "heads the division which is the controling nerve center of the army for all United States theaters of operations and overseas garrisons," the war department announced.

"This division also will coördinate strategical and operational planning with the United States navy and with the military headquarters of all united powers," it added.

As a part of the move strategical planning groups of the army and navy have been merged, shifted from the war and navy departments, and put under direction of the United States chiefs of staff in the headquarters of the allied combined chiefs of staff, it was announced. A similar military-naval intelligence group also has been established.

22,000 GERMANS KILLED IN BATTLE ON 2 RED FRONTS

MOSCOW, April 3 [Friday] (AP).—The Russians announced officially today that more than 22,000 Germans had keen killed in the Leningrad and Kalinin sectors in a Red prelude to Adolf Hitler's threatening spring attempt to smash the soviet union.

Twelve thousand Germans were slain in the Leningrad area between March 23 and March 31, a special communique said. Of these 3,000 Germans were killed in the last two days, indicating the growing intensity of the battles around the approaches to Russia's second largest city.

On the Kalinin, or northwestern front between Lake Ilmen and Rzhev, the Russians said 10,000 more Nazi dead were counted between March 21 and April 1. It is in this area, at Staraya Russa, that the Russians have been steadily cutting down the encircled 16th Nazi army despite vast numbers of German reserves thrown against the Red cordon.

Enormous Haul of Booty.

After days of official silence, the Russians issued a series of communiques listing an enormous haul of German booty, captured or destroyed. Among the items reported destroyed on both fronts were 58 Nazi airplanes, 642 ammunition and supply trucks, 108 trench mortars, 39 tanks, and six ammunition dumps.

On one unidentified sector the Russians asserted they repulsed another German effort to capture village "K," and that 18 German tanks were smashed and hundreds of Nazis slain.

Last night's regular Russian communique told of soviet advances and said 57 German planes were destroyed on Wednesday with a loss of 11 Russian craft.

Shell Leningrad Suburbs.

BERLIN, April 2 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The high command reported today that "military installations in the suburbs of Leningrad were subjected to heavy artillery fire" in German offensive operations on that front.

MALTA DOWNS 14 AXIS RAIDERS; 13 OTHERS ARE HIT

VALETTA, Malta, April 2 (AP).—The Germans in a dawn to dawn attack begun yesterday morning lost a total of 27 planes destroyed, probably destroyed, or damaged, the British announced tonight. This was the heaviest loss the Germans have suffered in a 24 hour period over Malta. The Germans certainly lost 14 planes, the communique said, and the additional 13 were "probably destroyed."

CHILE PRESIDENT HINTS HE WON'T BREAK WITH AXIS

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 2 (AP).—President Juan Antonio Rios indicated in his inaugural address tonight that the new administration of Chile plans no immediate diplomatic break with the axis.

He hinted that he would make the break only if "the national will" calls for it. Then he promised that Chile would "faithfully carry out her duties of continental solidarity."

Chile had worked jointly with Argentina to stall off attempts at the Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, conference last January for a solid American break with Germany, Japan, and Italy. Neither has broken off relations.

Argentine Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu attended the inaugural ceremonies here.

Japs Report Damaging Air Attacks.

TOKIO, April 2 [from Japanese broadcasts]—(AP).—Imperial headquarters today claimed that anti-aircraft batteries, an airfield, barracks, and other military establishments on Corregidor had been damaged beyond repair by repeated Japanese naval air attacks between March 24 and 31.

66 JAP PLANES DOWNED

CORREGIDOR, P. I., March 31 [Delayed]—(AP).—Corregidor's anti-aircraft guns shot down 12 Japanese planes in the last week, making a total of 66 bagged by the island fortress' guns since the start of the war.

The figures are taken from the scoreboard which lists only confirmed losses inflicted on the enemy.

[A war department communique yesterday listed four more bombers downed over Manila bay fortifications, but placed the definite number of Japanese losses at 32.]

The 16th coast artillery anti-aircraft units are over careful in crediting the batteries with hits and with recording planes actually downed.

Corregidor Raided 120 Times.

The motto of the hard hitting 16th, commanded by Col. Theodore M. Chase, of Washington, D. C., is "Coelis Imperamus," which translated literally means: "We rule the heavens."

Since the start of the war, they have demonstrated they can dish it out to the enemy, as well as take it.

According to Maj. T. K. McNair, of Red Bank, N. J., Corregidor has undergone more than 120 air raids since Dec. 29. The longest raid lasted six hours.

Japanese planes, operating from a nearby Luzon Island base, place Corregidor in a state of almost continuous alarm, altho each day the flyers have evidenced a growing respect for the anti-aircraft guns.

One battery, under the command of Capt. C. R. Ames, Rockaway Beach, N. Y., has been dishing it out to the enemy while ducking artillery shells from the Cavite shore across the bay, as well as bombs.

The Score: "2 Up, 2 Down."

Last evening Ames' men all were in high spirits. A few minutes before they had assisted in some of the best shooting yet.

Two bombers were flying over Corregidor at dusk, slightly lower than previously. Ames' men and the men of the other batteries trained their guns to make each shot count.

The gun crew under Sergt. E. J. Swanson, of Lewistown, Mont., was given the order to fire. The first bomber was hit. The wing broke off, sending the plane plunging into the bay. The action required only a few moments of intense fire.

The score for this raid was "two up, two down, all clear."

The soldiers and marines on Corregidor let out a mighty football cheer as the two planes were shot down.

New Commander

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Maj. Gen. George Grunert, new commander of the 6th corps area, as he took over his new post yesterday.

GRUNERT TAKES OVER 6TH CORPS AREA COMMAND

Believes Japs Weaker on Defensive.

Belief that Japan's armies will not make as good a showing when the impetus of their original onslaught is gone and they are placed on the defensive was expressed yesterday by Maj. Gen. George Grunert, new commander of the 6th corps area army headquarters in Chicago. Gen. Grunert took over his new post yesterday, succeeding Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Cummins, who was assigned to command the army general depot at Columbus, O.

"Troops of Japan are trained only in offensive warfare," Gen. Grunert explained. "The Nipponese conception of warfare is one of attack. It will be interesting to see what happens when the Japanese are placed on the defensive."

Formerly in Philippines.

Gen. Grunert, who comes to Chicago from the command of the 6th army corps with headquarters at Providence, R. I., was chief of the Philippine department of the army from May, 1940, to October, 1941. He left the Philippines on Oct. 31.

Asked for an estimate as to how long the besieged American-Filipino troops on the Bataan peninsula will be able to fight off the Japanese invaders, Gen. Grunert said he could not even hazard a guess.

"The holding of Bataan depends on so many things," he said. "I don't know how much of their food and munitions our troops have used. I don't know how many natives and refugees are behind their lines and have to be fed from the army stores. I don't know whether any supplies are reaching Bataan in small driblets.

Cites Strength of Forts.

"But even if Bataan goes, the island forts such as Corregidor may be able to hold out. They are really immovable, concrete battleships, armed with heavy caliber guns, stocked with supplies and manned by full strength garrisons."

Gen. Grunert's son-in-law, Maj. H. R. Wynkoop, is now on duty with the infantry on Bataan. Gen. Grunert's son, Capt. George R. Grunert, is a cavalry officer.

British Pledge All-Out Aid for Zealand If Invaded

tary installations in the center of Zamboanga and leveled 22 war stocked warehouses near another enemy stronghold.]

The Japanese are reported to have put in uniform several thousand young Japanese nationals who lived at Davao before the war. Yet despite their overwhelming numerical superiority, the invaders are said to fear the Moros so much that every night hundreds of the Japanese return to their ships to sleep. The Moros turned back one Japanese drive south of Davao in January.

When Will Tokio Be Bombed?

On other islands we found American and Filipino forces which were ready to fight despite their shortage of equipment, if the Japanese should come. Our greatest difficulty in traveling thru the Philippines was in answering questions about help from the United States. Everybody, everywhere asked the same questions.

To inquiries as to when Tokio would be bombed, our customary reply was "The bombing will start soon, probably the middle of this month [March]."

Then some one would proffer the polite objection that "we believe it would be difficult for us to bomb Tokio before April, sir, as the air fields in Alaska still are covered with snow, and objectives in Japan probably would be hidden by clouds."

Some bright youngster usually would add:

"We believe arrangements can be made for the United States to use the Russian air fields at Vladivostok and on the Kamchatka peninsula, inasmuch as the Russians and Americans are fighting the same war, altho on different fronts, and the Russians need American supplies while Americans need Siberian bases."

Express Their Sentiments.

The people frequently expressed their respect for President Roosevelt as a forceful leader. Their feeling for Gen. MacArthur can be described only as reverential.

They'd say:

"We believe, sir, that the MacArthur line is impregnable. We are convinced that the man has not yet been born who can defeat Gen. MacArthur."

They pronounced it Mac-Ar-tour, with the accent on the last syllable.

A Filipino who is doing one of the most dangerous jobs in the islands at present told me:

"When the war is over, win or lose, I am going to build a monument to Gen. MacArthur in my garden with my own hands. If I die my son will do it.

The Filipinos' Martyr.

"There will be similar monuments all over the Philippines. Gen. MacArthur will stand side by side with our martyred national hero, José Rizal."

Rizal, Filipino patriot and writer, organized the "Liga Filipina" to fight for the political liberty of his countrymen from Spain. Arrested by Spanish authorities at Barcelona when he was on his way to Cuba for volunteer relief work among the yellow fever victims, he was brought back to Manila, where he was tried and shot in December, 1896. The day of his execution ever since has been a national holiday.

KILLS HIMSELF IN BACK YARD.

Antonio Spadafora, 58 years old, a tailor, shot and killed himself yesterday in the back yard of his daughter's home at 2917 North Parkside avenue. The daughter, Mrs. Madeline Cook, told police that her father lived with his wife, Anna, at 1225 Wrightwood avenue.

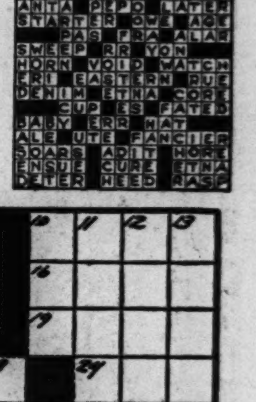
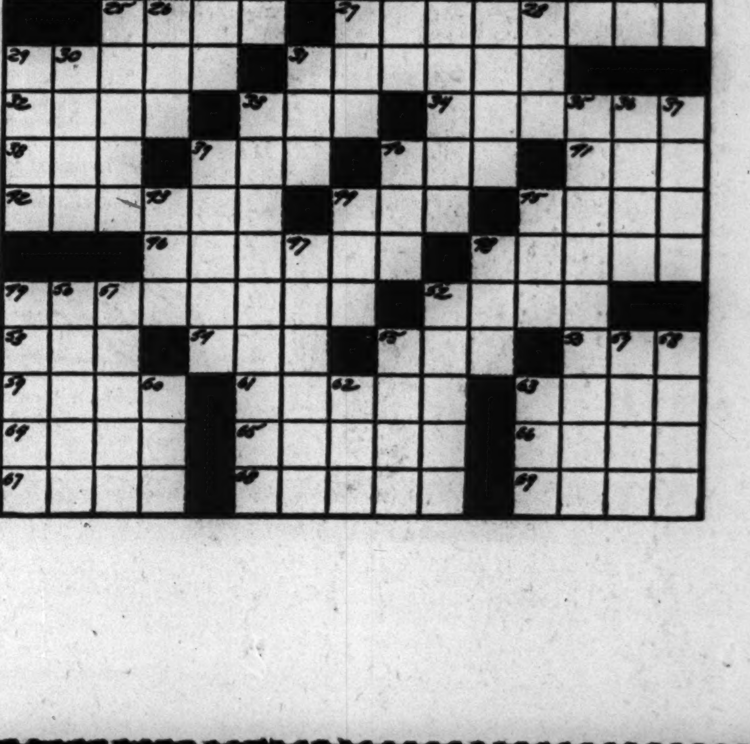
PUZZLE OF THURSDAY, APRIL 2, SOLVED





FRENCH CITIES SHABBY; PRICES OF FOOD RISING

Public Eats in Communal Dining Rooms.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, April 2.—The food situation in France is much worse than that in Spain or Portugal, where supplies are plentiful, but high in price. At the frontier the traveler is handed ration tickets for three days. He turns these in at his destination for permanent monthly ration tickets.

In contrast to Spain and Portugal, all foodstuffs are strictly rationed in France. The French nation has just emerged from the second hard winter, and living conditions seem somewhat more difficult than they were six months ago, when this correspondent left this country for a visit to the United States.

Because of the wear and tear of two years during which all production has been stopped, there is an added appearance of shabbiness in towns and cities, but on the whole no great changes are observable.

The French do not have all they want to eat, but there is no question of starvation. Rations remain about the same as they were six months ago. The April ration cards allow three meat meals per week. Not more than one-fifth of a pound of meat may be served.

"Black Market" Prospers.

The sugar ration is one pound per month. Saccharine as a sugar substitute has practically disappeared. Bread is scarce, because this year's grain crop has not been up to anticipation. The bread ration now is about four-fifths of a pound daily.

Food prices are rising. Housewives have a desperate time marketing and, unless they start out at dawn, they risk coming home with an empty basket. So hard is the problem of individual family living that there is a wide movement to organize communal dining rooms and kitchens.

Prices are supposedly strictly controled by the government. But actually an extensive black [illegal] market flourishes in France.

Cafés in Three Groups.

Restaurants are classified into three groups, the cheapest serving meals running from 30 to 40 cents; medium, from 40 to 70 cents, and the most expensive, from 70 cents to $1. One fares better at restaurants than at home.

The food situation varies with the section of the country. In some districts food is more plentiful than in others. Vichy, because of its overcrowded condition, is one of the worst spots in France. An average meal here for 70 cents is a plate of vegetable soup, two vegetables, usually spinach and carrots, and a small piece of cheese, or perhaps some preserved fruit.

On the other hand, a few days ago in the cities of Pau and Toulouse, it was possible to obtain adequate meals in restaurants. In Pau for $1 one restaurant was serving for dinner an excellent soup, a good helping of fish, a vegetable, and preserved fruit and salad. The bread ration was small.

Next day at Toulouse a medium class restaurant served oysters, lamb chops, two vegetables, and grape jam.

FORMER CAFE OWNER DIES.

Gregory Salamo, 61 years old, who for many years conducted a restaurant near Hull House, died yesterday in his home at 5507 Congress street.

Air Hero's Brother

Gerald Mason (right) shows newspaper account of exploits of his brother, Donald, to Commander Richard Whitehead, aviation aide to Great Lakes Naval Training station commandant.

Ensign Donald F. Mason has been widely heralded as a naval air hero for his exploits in sinking two enemy submarines, but to his admiring brother, Gerald Mason, he's "that guy, Don." Gerald, too, is in the navy, a hospital apprentice at the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

"That guy, Don, is just naturally good," commented Gerald yesterday. "He never attempted anything he couldn't do well. He was a star athlete back home in Faribault, Minn. He was a successful cotton farmer in Louisiana, and a dandy musician—all before he was 20. Yes, sir, that guy has got everything."

Gerald said that Don never talked much, recalling his brother's now famous radio report in February, "Sighted sub, sank same." Ensign Mason enlisted in the navy in 1935. Gerald enlisted last December. He hopes to see some first hand fighting, but he modestly admits he can't keep pace with the hero brother he calls "that guy."

BELIEVE 5 OF 11 NORWEGIAN SHIPS ESCAPE GERMANS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 2 (AP).—Six of the 11 Norwegian merchant ships which dared the German blockade in a mass dash from Sweden were accounted for tonight as either lost or turned back, leaving five with at least a chance to reach haven in Britain.

The 11 vessels had been tied up in Goteborg, Sweden, since the German invasion of Norway April 9, 1940. Under charter to Britain from the Norwegian government in exile, they all left Goteborg Tuesday night during a heavy snowstorm.

A Swedish court had upheld the charters on March 17, overruling German attempts to get control of the ships thru owners still in Norway.

Attacked by Nazi Warship.

According to information based mainly on observations of fishermen, the ships were attacked Wednesday by a German destroyer and four trawlers almost as soon as they got outside Swedish territorial waters, the 6,222 ton Buccaneer and the 12,358 ton whaleship Skytteren being sunk by gunfire off Maaseskaer at the mouth of the narrow Skagerrak.

The fishermen said another ship was seen burning, another ran aground, and two, the 5,653 ton Lionel and the 5,263 ton Dicto, fled back to Goteborg.

Empty lifeboats were seen adrift in the Skagerrak, and some reports said loss of life was probably heavy. Others said the German forces captured some of the crews.

Two Ships Race Westward.

At least two large ships were sighted racing westward for the open sea and Britain, 500 miles away. What happened to the remaining three was not reported.

[A dispatch by the Vichy news agency under a Stockholm date said six ships escaped, protected in the narrow seas by British planes and farther out by British warships. This report was not confirmed by other sources, but the American-Swedish news exchange reported the merchantmen had British crews aboard.]

Besides the ships named, the others were the Charente, 1,282 tons; Lind, 461; Gudvang, 1,469; Storsten, 5,243; Rigmor, 6,305; B. P. Newton, 10,324, and Realf II., 5,069.

DALADIER HURLS A 'FIFTH COLUMN' CHARGE AT TRIAL

'Fake Intellectuals' Hit by Former Premier.

RIOM, France, April 2 (AP).—Former Premier Edouard Daladier, on trial with four other one-time political and military leaders of France, today said he might ask for an investigation of "a fifth column of fake intellectuals who created a deleterious atmosphere in the country."

Edouard Daladier.

Thus Daladier got in the last word at the 26th sitting of the special tribunal named by Chief of State Marshal Petain to determine the guilt for France's defeat in 1940.

Following Daladier's statement, Presiding Judge Pierre Cauos adjourned the court until April 14 for the Easter holidays.

Explains Lack of Supplies.

Daladier's fifth column assertion followed a charge by Gen. Joseph Bernard, chief of the army service corps, that lack of certain supplies for France's soldiers was the result of distribution failures rather than inadequate production.

This was Daladier's rejoinder:

"In view of repeated testimony of several witnesses to the effect that stocks were left in depots and not distributed to the army, if the question is not clarified, I am going to ask an investigation of the activity of a fifth column of fake intellectuals who created a deleterious atmosphere in the country."

Bernard asserted that as against 100,000 pairs of shoes produced monthly for the army before the war, wartime production rose to 2,260,000 pairs. Blankets, produced at a rate of 200,000 a month before the war, were being turned out at a monthly rate of 1,025,000 before the war was two months old.

Holds Supplies Were Available.

Saying only 2,800,000 soldiers were sent to the front, Bernard added:

"If they did not get the materiel intended for them it was not because it was unavailable."

Bernard declared that in the spring of 1940 he found $40,000,000 worth of undistributed clothing in a depot at Troyes. He said 40,000 army horses died because fodder never reached them between November, 1939, and March, 1940.

The private purveyors cartel [monopoly] did everything to hamstring the spreading out of orders among manufacturers thruout the country, the officer declared.

Earlier Gen. François Marescaux, an anti-aircraft expert, had testified that "the condition of our anti-aircraft defenses was perfectly alarming." He said some batteries had crews, but no guns; others guns, but no munitions.

How U. S. Plane Sank Jap Sub; Tells of Raid on Clark Field

Gives Crew Credit

HONOLULU, T. H., April 2 (AP).—The sinking of a Japanese submarine by a United States army bomber, skippered by an officer who battled thru the Pearl Harbor attack in his bedroom slippers, came to light today as the result of a commendation by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

The skipper was First Lieut. James V. Edmundson, 26 years old, of Santa Monica, Cal., former football star at Santa Monica Junior college.

He was decorated with the Order of the Purple Heart today, but not for his feat in the air. It was because he was knocked down by a bomb fragment Dec. 7 and got up again to do what he could to stem the Japanese attack.

Sighted Sub Periscope.

Lieut. Edmundson sighted a submarine periscope just breaking the water off the Island of Oahu a few weeks ago.

"Yes, I saw it, but it was my crew that got it," he declared. "Those boys really went to town."

Lieut. Edmundson related: "I happened to see the periscope just breaking the water. Within 45 seconds we had dropped two bombs right at the stern of the submarine.

Credits Crew with Speed.

"There wasn't a second's delay. If there had been, we would never have gotten him, because he would have sighted us first.

"The navigator and the gunner told me some big metal pieces flew up astern when the bombs hit. That's probably why he did not submerge right away. He couldn't.

"We made another turn and the bombardier dropped three more bombs that practically blanketed him, and on the third time around a bomb hit him right on top. He just disintegrated, and all we could see was a great circle of white foam of sulphuric acid from his batteries. The concussion even shook our plane a thousand feet above. A few minutes later all there was to see was a big oil slick."

Flyer Wins DSC

UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 2 (AP).—After being wounded at Clark field at Manila last December, when he won a captaincy and the distinguished service cross, First Lieut. Fred Crimmins of Fort Worth, Tex., carried out two assignments from a Java base and has hopes of getting into the battle for Australia soon.

Crimmins is one of 12 members of the United States army's Philippines and Dutch East Indies bomber command who were listed at united nations headquarters this week as recipients of the DSC "for extraordinary heroism and gallantry in action above and beyond the call of duty."

Believed U. S. Planes.

Crimmins recalled that word scarcely had reached Manila of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor when a close flying formation of 54 planes appeared over Clark field.

"At first everybody said they must be United States navy planes," said Crimmins, "but in a few seconds the bombs began to fall. The Japs evidently hoped to catch our men lounging around after lunch.

"When I saw a hangar burning, I ran to get my plane out. Explosives were going off at the rear of the hangar, but I taxied her out.

"Then I heard strange noises and a plane dived straight at me, spouting bullets. Then a plane came from another direction.

Aids Gun Crew.

"I taxied toward an anti-aircraft gun. The Japanese centered their fire on the gun. When an incendiary bomb particle struck my control board, I left the plane and scrambled into a ditch near the gun emplacement.

"Each time a plane had passed over far enough so that it couldn't hit me I jumped out of the ditch so I could see what direction the others were coming from and warn the gun crew.

"They got me in the head, chest, arm, hand, and foot, and some shrapnel hit my leg. I'm still looking for a chance to get even with those Japs."

Service Men's Center Asks Help for Army Day Rush

An appeal for cakes, candy, cookies, and cigarets was made in behalf of the Chicago Service's Men's center yesterday by the Chicago commission on national defense. The center anticipates a far larger than average week-end attendance since Monday is Army day. Persons wishing to donate confections and smokes should call Irwin R. Tucker, chairman of commissary, at Central 6338.

U. S. DECORATES 141 ARMY MEN AT HICKAM FIELD

HONOLULU, T. H., April 2 (AP).—Against a backdrop of stationary bombers at Hickam field and to an accompaniment of pursuit planes and bombers roaring overhead, 141 army men were decorated today for gallantry during the Japanese attack of Dec. 7.

Thirteen were awarded silver stars. The Order of the Purple Heart was bestowed on the others.

Brig. Gen. Willis H. Hale described the colorful ceremony as the largest mass decoration in the history of the army. The ceremony took place on the runways—the same ground where hundreds of the heroes' comrades were killed while they carried on.

Eight men arrived from hospital beds in wheel chairs to receive their decorations.

BURIAL DRESSES STOLEN.

A thief smashed a window in Miss Blanche Verhil's automobile yesterday and stole 10 burial dresses, valued at $60, she told police. The car was parked in front of her home at 6330 Cottage Grove avenue.

SUB TORPEDOES, SHELLS SHIP OFF N. J.; 29 SAVED

Eight of Crew Missing; Sinkings Total 108.

Gloucester, N. J., April 2 (AP).—Battered and set afire by torpedoes from an enemy submarine, a medium sized Norwegian motor tanker sank under a hail of shells off the Atlantic coast early on March 27, the 4th naval district announced today.

108

Eight of the crew of 37, including most of the ship's officers, are missing and believed dead. The 29 survivors were picked up by a Portuguese freighter after spending about seven and one-half hours in two lifeboats and were brought here March 31.

The sinking brought the total in United States waters since America entered the war to 108. In these mishaps 795 persons are known to be dead, 972 are missing and presumed lost, and 2,656 have been rescued.

Torpedoed Without Warning.

The 58 year old chief engineer of the tanker said the attack came without warning about 2:30 a. m. The ship was struck by two and perhaps three torpedoes, he said, and was bombarded by about 50 shells before he finally went down.

The first torpedo struck just forward of the bridge on the port side, setting the bridge afire. It was followed almost immediately by a second which struck just behind the amidships section, the chief engineer said.

The crew abandoned ship within a few minutes after the attack. The submarine then rose to the surface and shelled the burning hulk until it sank five hours later.

Doubts Officers Saved.

One survivor who was in his cabin when the attack began said a third torpedo hit the ship on the port side, aft, after two lifeboats were launched. He said the bridge and oil soaked sections of the ship were ablaze when he reached the deck after the first explosion, and that apparently none of the ship's officers who were on the bridge was saved.

The submarine was sighted by the survivors about two hours after the attack. They said it remained on the scene until about 8 a. m.

The men drifted in the lifeboats until mid morning, when they were sighted and picked up by the freighter.

35 Survivors Landed.

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, April 2 (AP).—Thirty-five crewmen from a torpedoed merchant ship arrived here, most of them suffering from injuries and exposure.

The men, rescued by another merchant ship, were taken to hospitals on their arrival.

Nazis Report March Sinkings.

BERLIN, April 2 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The German navy and air force sank 105 allied merchant ships totaling 646,900 tons during March, the high command reported today, asserting that 91 ships totaling 584,900 tons were sunk by U-boats alone. In addition to vessels listed as sunk, 39 merchantmen were said to have suffered heavy damage from torpedo and bomb hits.

ARMY TO PUBLISH YANK, PAPER BY AND FOR SOLDIERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—A weekly newspaper, Yank, written for soldiers by soldiers, as was the Stars and Stripes in the World war, is to begin publication shortly, the war department announced today.

Two members of the staff of the weekly published in France 25 years ago have helped plan Yank. They are Adolph Shelby Ochs, general manager of the Chattanooga Times, and Egbert White, advertising executive.

Yank will carry no advertising. It will be edited and managed by a staff of army personnel, chiefly enlisted men. Special editions will be prepared for major task forces wherever they may be located thruout the world. Wherever feasible these editions will be printed locally from mats shipped by air.

REPORT FRIEND OF EVANSTONIAN MISSING AT SEA

Miss R. Blythe Clark, 37 years old, was listed yesterday among 30 persons reported missing in the torpedoing Sunday of a passenger-cargo ship of the American-South African Line off the Atlantic coast.

Miss Clark, a native of South Africa, and the daughter of a lawyer of Durban, Natal, was employed as an income tax expert in a government office at Pretoria. She was en route to visit Dr. Henry R. Jacobs of 536 Michigan avenue, Evanston, whom she had known when Dr. Jacobs visited South Africa on a medical mission several years ago.

The last letter the doctor received from her indicated she was sailing for America late in February.

ASK FAIR TRIAL FOR SEA OTTER TYPE FREIGHTER

Report to Senate Charges Navy Opposition.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—A senate naval affairs subcommittee, in a report released today, recommended full and fair consideration for a revolutionary type cargo boat known as the Sea Otter. The report charged that the navy department and the maritime commission have obstructed development of the craft, which the navy hailed last fall as a challenge to the submarine which would soon "bridge the Atlantic."

Experts Heard.

The report was submitted to the full committee by a subcommittee consisting of Sen. Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.], chairman, and Senators Peter G. Gerry [D., R. I.] and Ralph O. Brewster [R., Me.]. The subcommittee conducted a comprehensive investigation, taking testimony from many engineers and shipbuilding experts on both sides of the Sea Otter controversy.

The Sea Otter, designed by Commander Hamilton Bryan, U. S. N., was turned over to the navy department for development by order of President Roosevelt. Apparently because of the President's enthusiasm, the navy department at first acclaimed it in the most extravagant terms. Since the first full size boat was constructed and tested, however, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox has pronounced it a failure.

"Your subcommittee is forced to the definite conclusion that the Sea Otter type of boat has not had a full and fair consideration as to its possibilities of utilization," says the report.

"It seems to us that this construction and design has enough of promise of value to entitle it to a fair and sympathetic opportunity to prove its value, if such exists.

"It is apparent to the subcommittee that certain governmental agents in both the navy department and the maritime commission had preconceived convictions against any value in this type of construction and any action they have taken on request of the President, the secretary of the navy, and others has been against their will and against their judgment, and that they have evinced and continue to evince a hostility to the proposal and its sponsors."

[The committee previously had made public the evidence on which it based this conclusion.]

Production Speed Stressed.

"The subcommittee believes that a full, complete, and sympathetic opportunity should be presented for the sponsors of this type of ship construction to prove the value of the design, if they can do so, particularly in view of the fact that if it has in any large part the value as to cheapness and speed of production which its sponsors claim, it would be of tremendous value to the nation in helping to supply her great shipping needs at the present time."

The Sea Otter is 270 feet long and has a cargo capacity of 1,200 tons. It is powered by automobile type gasoline engines which drive propulsion gear that is sunk thru the bottom, amidships. Proponents of the vessel say its draft is so low that a torpedo would go under it. Opponents say it could not operate in shallow water because of the propellors projecting thru the bottom, but its proponents assert that a new design would correct this disadvantage.

One of the main arguments in favor of the boat is that it could be constructed cheaply and quickly because it uses sheet steel plates which are produced by rolling mills and can be easily welded.

PREMIER REPORTS ONTARIO SURPLUS OF OVER MILLION

TORONTO, Ont., April 2 (AP).—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn announced a surplus of $1,383,552 in delivering his budget message to the Ontario legislature today, extending an unbroken list of surpluses since his Liberal government came to power eight years ago.

Hepburn, who also is provincial treasurer, said that there would be no new taxes or changes in present levies; that bonuses on cheese and hog production would be continued, and that Ontario municipalities again would receive a one mill subsidy.

WHAT A CHICAGO BOY IN AUSTRALIA WANTS—BEANS!

Soldiers Find Food Good and People Friendly.

water cutting up turnips. Having joined the army the day after war was declared, he said he likes it fine.

"Australia is a great place," he said. "I might even stay after the war."

Dick Ewing, who has been in service three months, likes Australia, too, but for a special reason, explaining: "Any place on good solid ground is O. K. with me after all those weeks at sea. I don't like that man's ocean."

It's a Great Surprise.

The American troops and Australia have been a pleasant surprise to each other. When the boys first came here, the townspeople were told they would have to billet the soldiers until quarters were erected. The local folk were a little apprehensive. They had seen American movies and were not sure how to entertain "gunmen, cowboys, Indians, city slickers, and great lovers."

The boys were not certain how they were going to get along among kangaroos, boomerangs, and aborigines.

To the surprise of the townspeople the American troops turned out to be just like Australians. The troops found themselves in a country much like home.

"Boy, we were treated royally," Ewing said of a family where he and some buddies were billeted. "Nice soft beds, clean pillows, steak for breakfast!"

Boys Invited Back to Homes.

Most of the boys became close personal friends of the people with whom they stayed and frequently are asked to join the family at Sunday dinner. Thirty Jewish boys this week were asked by six Jewish families to attend a Passover ceremony in a nearby town.

This is not just because the Yanks have come here to fight for the defense of Australia. It is because the Australians naturally are hospitable. They like the Americans, now that they see they are not like the film versions.

For recreation, the troops play baseball, softball, ping pong, volleyball, and pitch horseshoes. There is a large YMCA tent full of games and reading matter. In a nearby town, there are movies and frequent dances.

Troops' Morale High.

Chaplain M. D. Kilver of Liberty, Ill., said the morale of the troops is very high. He knows, because he censors mail and, if they groused to folks back home, he would know it. He never finds it necessary to cut out much, except place names. The chaplain, former pastor of Liberty-Mendon Lutheran parish near Quincy, has been in the reserves seven years, and on active duty 18 months.

The rolling countryside around the camp is similar to many middle western sectors in the United States. The Australian trees, most of which are evergreens, do not provide the brilliant landscape colors of the fall in America, but scattered eucalyptus trees are to be seen.

In the rolling fields beside macadam roads, sheep, almost of the same color of the fields, are watched over by shepherds and dogs, which drive them off the road as cars approach. There seem to be few big herds of beef cattle, for this is not a beef eating country; but there are many milch cows and fine Percheron horses.

Towns Like Those of U. S.

The small towns resemble those in America, except that most of the buildings on the main streets have roofs extending over the sidewalks to protect pedestrians from the elements. The buildings in small towns are usually one story frame structures. The houses frequently are ornamented with cast iron grill work.

The towns have the usual movies, tearooms, and small shops.

Many long stretches of road are lined with rows of pines. Each tree was planted in honor of a soldier in the first World war.

COUNTY TO PAY $358,000 IN BILLS OWED SINCE 1940

The county board will be asked at its next meeting, April 16, to authorize payment of $358,000 of its bills owed since 1940, Assistant Controler Richard J. Daley said yesterday. Daley said the sum would be taken from the proceeds of the sale of 1942 county tax anticipation warrants in the amount of $5,873,000.

If the 1940 bills of $358,000 are cleaned up, the county will still owe $3,142,000 for purchases made in 1941 and approximately $1,000,000 additional for 1942 purchases, Daley said. Payment of these obligations will be held up so the county can meet its pay roll of more than $1,000,000 monthly.

In spite of the accumulated unpaid bills, the county board in February adopted a 1942 budget totaling 21½ million dollars, or 4 millions in excess of prospective revenues estimated by the controler. Civic groups warned that the budget would result in payless pay days before the end of the year.

Expect 10% Sales Tax Bill; Nelson Hits 6% Profit Limit

Substitute Plan

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—A 10 per cent sales tax, excluding only purchases by the government may be reported to the house by the ways and means committee, it was learned today.

Rep. Wesley E. Disney.

The sales tax would be substituted for heavy increases in income and corporation taxes which were presented to the committee by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau.

Most of the 25 members of the committee are in favor of a sales tax that would raise about 5 billion dollars, questioning revealed. This would eliminate most of the increased income taxes recommended by Morgenthau, which would fall most heavily upon the medium income classes.

Higher Income Levy Urged.

One month ago Morgenthau recommended new taxes on personal incomes which would siphon out of the pockets of the citizens an average of $178 per person. Only last year income taxes were greatly increased. Morgenthau proposed increases to yield about 60 per cent more revenue than under the present law.

Rep. Wesley E. Disney [D., Pa.], a member of the committee, said a poll of members of the house had convinced him that an overwhelming majority would vote for a sales tax in preference to higher income taxes.

He cited two principal arguments for a sales levy—a hedge against inflation and the belief that there was no other way to raise the 7 billions needed without destroying important sources of income. He said he favored a graduated tax from low rates on necessities to high percentages on luxuries.

Fairer than Pay Roll Tax.

"We will be compelled to propose a sales tax as much as we dislike to," said Disney. "It is a war tax which the population could pay. It is a fairer tax than a withholding tax [a tax collected from pay envelopes] because the latter takes a percentage of an individual's income regardless of his economic circumstances.

"In other words, we get a sales tax from everybody—personal income taxes from those individuals who are able to pay still more enlarged taxes, corporation income taxes from companies, and heavy excess profits taxes from those contracting in wartime activities."

Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council, appearing before the ways and means committee today on the sales tax proposal, voiced strong opposition by members of his race to such a levy, asserting it would impose an unfair burden on the lowest income groups.

Brown recalled that President Roosevelt once described a sales tax as "horrifying" and warned that its passage might result in a protest march on Washington which has been proposed by various Negro leaders.

Urges Fairness

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The nation's production chief, Donald Nelson, has told congress that he is opposed to a 6 per cent limitation on arms profits as contained in the house version of the new 18 billion dollar emergency appropriation bill, it was learned today. The measure is under consideration by a senate appropriations subcommittee before which Nelson appeared yesterday at a closed session for questioning on control of war profits.

Nelson, inveighing against putting any specific maximum on profits, urged that control be vested in a joint committee of congress and the army, navy, and maritime commission, with the case of each contractor being considered individually. In some cases, he reportedly told the committee, a limitation of 6 per cent would be excessive, while in cases of small producers it might be totally inadequate.

Urges Reauditing.

He said current contracts could be reaudited by the joint committee and contractors found to be making high profits required to negotiate over again to determine the fair return in each case. On future contracts, Nelson suggested, the committee would control the original negotiations and oversee an audit.

A number of government arms contractors have been disclosed at congressional hearings recently as reaping huge profits from the war effort and paying their company officials exorbitant salaries and bonuses. Aroused by these revelations, the house inserted the 6 per cent limitation in the form of an amendment to the new appropriation bill Saturday shortly before passage.

Provides Profit Certification.

The measure provides that no money in the bill shall be used to make a final payment on an arms contract until the contractor certifies to the government that his profit on the job is not over 6 per cent of the cost.

Before the senate subcommittee, it was learned, Nelson asserted that this proviso is virtually meaningless. There is nothing to prevent a rascally contractor from padding his costs with salaries and bonuses to increase his actual return far beyond the allowed maximum, he said. This also was the view taken by many others on Capitol hill who, altho praising the intent of the house action, declared it is "too full of loopholes to be practical."

U. S. Bond Sales Drop; Income Taxes Blamed

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—The treasury reported today that defense bond sales dropped sharply in March. Aggregating $564,506,281, compared with $710,837,192 in February. Officials said the drop probably was due to the fact that many people had no money left for bond purchases after they paid their income taxes.

U. S. TAX AND WAR SPENDING REACH ALL-TIME RECORD

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Income tax and war spending totals broke all records in March.

Completing the month's tabulations, the treasury today announced that income and excess profits tax revenues aggregated $3,082,627,146, which was two and one-half times the previous record of $1,207,512,891 set in March last year.

Cash outlay for war activities set a new peak of $2,796,957,580. This was about $595,000,000 more than in February, the largest month to month increase since the beginning of the arms program in the middle of 1940.

With excise, social security, and other taxes, total federal revenues last month were $3,547,169,479, also a record. Total federal expenditures for all purposes were $3,436,300,832. Thus, the greatest revenue month in the treasury's history produced a surplus of only $110,868,647.

FIX $10,000 FINE FOR EVASIONS OF TOOTHPASTE LAW

Merchants Warned to Get Used Tubes in Sales.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—War Production board attorneys said today that retailers who sell tubed toothpaste or shaving cream without collecting an empty tube from the customer are subject to one year imprisonment and $10,000 fine. Violations were reported numerous thruout the country yesterday, the first day the conservation order was effective.

The board also received reports that its order eliminating cuffs from wool trousers was being violated by buyers taking delivery on unfinished trouser bottoms and then having the cuffs finished elsewhere. In this case, both the buyer and the finisher are guilty of violating the war powers act carrying the heavy penalties, according to a WPB statement.

"Retailers may not have received a formal notice of the tube order," said a WPB spokesman, "but no jury would believe they don't know about it. Manufacturers and distributors were notified and the order received wide publicity."

Ignorance No Excuse.

"Would the same principle apply," a reporter asked, "for your many orders that, lacking news interest, don't receive publicity?"

"Ignorance of the law is no excuse for its violation," he replied.

Notices given to subjects of WPB orders vary. Where the number concerned is not ponderous and promptitude is vital, such as in freezing stocks in manufacturers' inventories, orders are issued by telegraph. Otherwise orders are mailed. The press in Washington receives the orders when they are issued, frequently days in advance of the respondents seeing them. In most instances, the trade knows about the orders days in advance of issuance thru its official advisory committees, thru its association lobbyists, and thru its $1 a year man. Tube manufacturers were in conference here for six weeks.

Rely on Coöperation.

A perusal of the tube order, which most druggists still haven't seen, shows methods of punishing violators other than by criminal prosecution, such as prohibiting further purchases. It also shows a method whereby the retailers will eventually certify to their knowledge of the order. Pending such certification, the WPA is relying more upon the public's coöperation than upon threats of prosecution since the tin in the tubes is vital to war production.

DRUGGISTS HERE PUZZLED.

Many Chicago druggists were admittedly puzzled yesterday on the question of whether to sell toothpaste and shaving cream to customers lacking the old tubes.

The large chains, such as Walgreen, Liggett, and Stineway, said they had ordered all their outlets not to sell to customers without trade-in tubes, altho they say no official word of the order has yet been received from Washington. The Chicago Retail Druggists' association said its members had kept the phone busy with queries as to what to do about customers who turned in old tubes prior to the order—as part of the salvage drive—and now lack used tubes. The association said it was telling members to demand old tubes.

Neighborhood druggists, however, in many cases, were adopting the attitude that they would continue to sell to known customers lacking trade-in tubes, at least until the situation is clarified.

His Lawyer Ill, Rivers Granted Delay in Trial

Atlanta, Ga., April 2 (AP).—Trial of former Gov. E. D. Rivers and others on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state was postponed today from April 6 to April 27. Superior Judge E. E. Pomeroy ordered the deferment after Rivers told the court that his counsel, John T. Dennis, was ill.

DIES COLLEAGUE BARES NAZI TIES OF WALLACE AID

Reveals Member of Board Defended Hitler Policy.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Rep. Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.], a member of the Dies committee investigating un-American activities, today gave to the house the case of another member of the board of economic warfare, which has as one function the planning of our national economy after the war.

C. Hartley Grattan.

Members still are excited about the fact that Maurice Parmelee, $5,600 economist for the board, was revealed as a professional nudist. Vice President Henry A. Wallace is ex-officio chairman of the board.

C. Hartley Grattan, another high salaried member of the board, according to Voorhis, wrote a foreword to the so-called "German White Paper" issued by Hitler in defense of his invasion of Poland. In it he revealed his Nazi sympathies.

Evidence Changes Attitude.

Voorhis previously criticized the disclosure of Parmelee's connection with the board. He confessed his discomfiture when the evidence of other "crackpots" in the group was revealed.

"Yesterday," he said, "it was brought to my attention that C. Hartley Grattan, in May of 1940—which was between the time of the signing of the pact between Russia and Germany and the time that Germany attacked Russia—wrote the foreword to the 'German White Paper' which was an attempt to lay the blame for the invasion of Poland on certain American officials, and that this foreword consists of a vigorous denunciation of this country's foreign policy of support of England and France.

Linked to Nazi Mouthpiece.

"The 'German White Paper' was distributed in America thru Mannfred Zapp, the head of Transocean News Service, which was shown conclusively to be a Nazi propaganda agency.

"I understand that the Vice President has stated that a thoro investigation will be made of all these charges, in order that justice may be done to individuals and the government service protected as well. I believe that in connection with such an investigation, this fact about the 'German White Paper,' taken together with the other matters, make a most serious picture so far as Mr. Grattan is concerned."

Echoes of Dies Charges.

The White House today made public a report from the radio monitoring section of the Federal Communications commission, which inferentially accused Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], of giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

The report, released by Acting White House Secretary William D. Hassett, said axis propaganda stations are echoing Dies' charges that 35 employés of the board of economic warfare are members of communist front organizations. No denial was made of the Dies charges.

Hassett recalled that Wallace said that Dies could not have damaged American morale more if he actually were on Hitler's pay roll. Altho he challenged release of the Dies charges, Wallace took no issue with their veracity.

The FCC listeners, according to the report, picked up broadcasts on the Dies report from the official German broadcast to North America, from the official Vichy broadcast to America, and from station DEBUNK, purportedly a secret station in the United States but actually a German broadcast.

BERWYN INVITES NEIGHBORS TO BROOKS RALLY

Sen. Wayland Brooks, starting the final phase of his campaign for the Republican nomination for the office he holds, will address a massmeeting sponsored by the Berwyn regular G. O. P. organization Monday evening. The rally will be held in the Sokol Berwyn hall at 6445 West 27th place and from 2,500 to 3,000 persons are expected to attend.

Edward O. Holly, township committeeman, said no other Brooks meeting was scheduled for the west suburbs and that Republicans in Riverside, Lyons, Stickney and Oak Park had been invited to attend. A thousand MacArthur buttons are to be distributed to the audience.

Among the other speakers will be Samuel Workman, candidate for county treasurer, and John T. Dempsey, chairman of the Republican county central committee.

Temperature Reaches 68 on 1942's Warmest Day

The mercury climbed to a summerlike 68 yesterday at Chicago airport, making the day the warmest so far in 1942. The warmth and sunshine lured many outdoors, but the parks' greensward was in general too damp for play. The forecast was for lower temperatures today.

GOV. GREEN TURNS JUNK COLLECTOR IN DEFENSE DRIVE

Springfield, Ill., April 2 [Special].—Gov. Dwight Green today took an active hand in the state defense council's salvage drive by organizing a collection in the neighborhood of the mansion, netting a ton and a half of scrap iron and half a ton of old newspapers.

A local junk dealer paid $21.60 for the collection, and the governor turned the money over to Mayor John W. Knapp of Springfield, who in turn split the proceeds between the Smokes for Yanks drive and the local chapter of the Red Cross.

Included in the collection were only a few items from the mansion, which was given a thoro cleaning about three weeks ago. Most of the junk, including old water heaters, bed springs, auto grills, etc., was provided by state employés and others who reside within a few blocks of the state house.

The state defense agency plans to extend the neighborhood idea for scrap collection thruout the state. A message by Gov. Green concerning the plan will be broadcast over W-G-N this morning at 11:30 o'clock.

M'KEOUGH KEEPS KNOCKING AWAY AT THE TRIBUNE

Raymond S. [Small Potatoes] McKeough, Nash-Kelly candidate for United States senator, last night continued to make THE TRIBUNE the chief target of his attacks.

"I know what President Roosevelt, called a war monger by the conscienceless CHICAGO TRIBUNE, did to preserve the peace of the world against the depredations of the mad dog Hitler," he told two west side meetings. "As your senator I will uphold the hands of the President as I have done during the seven and one-half years I have served in congress."

McKeough repeated his charges that Sen. Wayland Brooks is controled by THE TRIBUNE and followed his policy of not attacking Ald. Paul Douglas [5th], who is his opponent in the primary on April 14. His speeches were made at machine organization meetings in the Hayes school, Leavitt and Fulton streets, in County Chairman P. A. Nash's home ward, and at 3350 Jackson boulevard, in the 29th ward.

22d Ward Organization Indorses Sen. Brooks

Committeeman F. M. Gillies announced yesterday that the 22d ward regular Republican organization at its meeting Tuesday night indorsed Sen. Wayland Brooks for renomination. The resolutions of approval, he said, were adopted unanimously. Twenty-one regular ward organizations have published their indorsements of the senator and several others are said to have acted favorably on his candidacy.

BROOKS ON LIST FOR EXTRA HELP TO HANDLE MAIL

Bill Before Congress Calls for Staff Increases.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.], whose mail has been found in an official survey to be greater than any of his colleagues, is among the senators who would receive additional wartime clerk help in his office under the pending 25 million dollar legislative appropriation bill, it was learned today. The measure provides payment for at least one additional clerk for each senator and further office help for those representing the seven largest states.

Since the nation became involved in the war, records show, the volume of mail to senators and representatives has increased steadily and many members assert they have been forced to bear the burden of increased office staffs out of their own pockets.

Now Get $11,200 Each.

A total of $1,083,000, or approximately $11,200 per member, is presently provided for clerical assistance to senators. Under the proposed legislation, this would be increased by $196,800 including $172,800 for 96 additional clerks.

Senators representing the six states with population of from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 would receive one additional clerk at $1,500 or a total of $18,000 for the 12 members. These states are Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, California, and Texas. Two extra clerks at $1,500 would be provided for each senator from New York, the only state with more than 10,000,000 population, a further increase of $6,000.

The increased appropriation is the result of the mail survey, conducted by Sen. Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.], which showed Brooks to be the most popular member judging by the volume of communications addressed to him.

Gets 401 Letters a Day.

From Jan. 8 thru Feb. 28, he said, the senate postoffice found Brooks received an average of 401 letters per day, or a total of 20,486 pieces. Sen. James M. Mead [D., N. Y.], one of those who would receive a total of three extra clerks under the bill, was second in the same period with a total of 13,296. Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] got a total of 8,848, while other senators ranked according to the population of their states.

The mail is still pouring into Brooks' office at the rate of hundreds of letters a day, inquiry disclosed. The overwhelming majority of the communications praise his stand on national and international issues, the senator said, while many others are writing to offer him their services in the Illinois primary campaign.

DISTRICT G. O. P. CONVENTION PUT OFF TILL APRIL 11

In accordance with an advance agreement, the Seventh Supreme court district Republican convention recessed yesterday until April 11. No business was transacted in the brief session in the Cook county Republican headquarters in the La Salle hotel. County Chairman John T. Dempsey presided.

The 2d district Republican convention will be held today in Carrollton [Greene county]. All of the 21 counties in the district have indorsed Justice June C. Smith for renomination. He was elected to the Norman L. Jones Democratic vacancy on Feb. 25, 1941, in a political upset, his majority over Judge Franklin R. Dove, the Democratic nominee, being 20,454.

H. T. HALFPENNY EXPECTS LOTS OF STREATOR VOTES

Candidate Is Assistant State Treasurer.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Harold T. Halfpenny [pronounced Hay-penny], candidate for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, expects a big vote in Streator on primary day, April 14, since it is his birthplace and his father, Thomas, is mayor of the town. Born there 36 years ago, the young aspirant is a product of the Streator High school and the University of Illinois, where he was graduated in law in 1929, after working his way washing dishes and clerking in a book store.

Harold T. Halfpenny.

A medium-sized, dark-haired, rather serious young man without much of a sense of humor, Halfpenny was one of the founders and first president of the Illinois Young Republican organization, which he helped put on its feet in 1928 during the late Gov. Emmerson's election campaign. He was in law school at the time but had already developed an interest in politics. After guiding the organization thru its first year he became junior national committeeman for Illinois.

Enters 1st Ward Politics.

Halfpenny opened a law office in Chicago and entered city politics by way of the 1st ward. He handled a precinct for the ward committeeman, State Sen. Dan Serritella, and built it up, he says, from a count of 2 Republican votes to 279 votes.

Hayp, as his friends call him, became a well known figure at Republican meetings during the party's "lean years" in the '30s. In the 1940 campaign he became attached to Warren E. Wright, nominee for treasurer, helped him win election, and was rewarded with the assistant treasurership, which he still holds.

Despite this connection, Halfpenny insists that he has not linked his candidacy with Wright's aspirations for the senatorial nomination. He has not campaigned with Wright, and he has stated publicly that he will not accept contributions from a campaign fund given to Wright by his employés, reputedly on a 5 per cent salary basis. Yet he is still on Wright's pay roll.

Promises in Campaign Speeches.

The young candidate realizes that people mispronounce his name more often than they say it correctly, but he doesn't mind and tries to correct them with a line in his campaign speeches. If elected treasurer, he says, he will "keep track of state funds right down to the hay-penny." He also says he feels that a lawyer, rather than a banker, should hold the post, "since a lawyer knows how to fight for state rights against the federal government better than a banker."

When he isn't practicing politics, Halfpenny likes to spend his evenings at home with a volume of autobiography, preferably the life of a political figure.

QUESTIONS.

Miss C. S. writes: "I am planning on marrying this month. My plans were made before Dec. 7. The man I am marrying is the sole support of an aged mother, and he also heads a manufacturing company. Can he be deferred?"

ANSWER: Despite whatever plans you may have had, your marriage cannot be considered as grounds for deferment because it occurs after Dec. 7, 1941. However, your husband may receive a 3-A deferment because of his mother, or possibly a 2-A or 2-B deferment because of his occupation.

Y. R. asks: "Will the army draft a man with venereal disease?"

ANSWER: No, such registrants are not accepted for service.

APRIL 9 DEADLINE FOR SOLDIERS TO ASK FOR BALLOTS

Cook county men who are with the armed forces in various parts of the country outside this area must have applications for absentee ballots on file with the board of election commissioners by April 9 if they wish to vote in the April 14 primary, Carl Schroeder, head of the absent voting division of the board, said yesterday.

If they make requests for applications within the next few days, the documents will be sent them by air mail so that the returns can be made by the deadline. The applications include forms for affidavits attesting to the applicants' residence in Chicago and requests for Republican or Democratic ballots.

On receipt of the applications, ballots will be sent to the men. The ballots must be returned in time for them to be forwarded to the proper polling place before 5 p. m. on primary day. Under a recent decision by Judge Francis B. Allegretti in Superior court, men in the armed forces are not required to register if they are out of the county.

Schroeder said that 3,000 applications for absentee ballots have been received thus far.

RED PAMPHLETS FOUND IN ROOM OF GIRL SPANKER

Harvard Student Faces Mental Tests.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cambridge, Mass., April 2.—A new avenue for investigation into the queer behavior of Eugene Golub, Harvard honor scholar who lured a 10 year old girl to his room and spanked her, was opened today with disclosure that communist pamphlets were found among his papers.

Sergt. Charles Warnock of the Cambridge police department revealed he made this discovery in a search of the youth's room in Gray's house, the school dormitory in which the spanking episode took place. He said the leaflets denounced Congressman Martitn Dies [D., Tex.] and his committee inquiring into un-American activities.

Mental Test Arranged.

It was also learned from a reliable source that the accused student, who was sent here on a scholarship by the Harvard club of Chicago, would be examined by a psychiatrist between now and the resumption of the District court hearing into his case on April 10.

Golub was released in bail of $2,500 yesterday afternoon following the arrival of his father, Edward Golub, a motion picture operator living at 3520 Lake Shore drive, Chicago. His present whereabouts have not been revealed.

The question of a mental examination of the 17 year old freshman came up yesterday during a hearing in the chambers of District Judge Arthur P. Stone. Judge Stone suggested young Golub be sent to the Psychopathic hospital in Boston for 10 days' observation.

Family to Pick Doctor.

Harry L. Rose, defense attorney, objected strongly to this procedure and demanded the examination be conducted by a psychiatrist whom he and the family would select. Judge Stone acquiesced.

Townspeople are showing a rising temperature over the indignities suffered by the girl. Cambridge has become calloused to Harvard students during the three centuries of the school's existence, but there is feeling that the Golub incident goes far beyond the boundaries of a collegiate prank.

City Councillor Michael J. Sullivan, who "broke the case" when he stumbled on the story in the hospital where the girl was examined and then marched to Gray's house to take the student in custody, demanded severe punishment as a deterrent against similar actions in the future.

Finds Sympathy for Family

Councilman Sullivan, who is the father of 12 children, said the people were in entire sympathy with the feeling of the father of the girl in the Golub case.

"This father feels the case should be prosecuted to the fullest extent, not only because of what has happened to his own child but because of what may happen to other children if crimes of this character are allowed to spread."

Learning of the Red pamphlets found in Golub's room, Sullivan said there was considerable communist activity at Harvard. The students were active in local strikes, picketing and Red agitation meetings, he charged.

Criticizes Harvard Policy.

The Cambridge councilman also took Harvard to task when he learned a faculty member had expressed the opinion Sullivan should have turned the Golub case over to the school authorities for quiet settlement instead of going to the police. This faculty member was quoted as deploring the fact that the young man's future was being ruined.

Sullivan declared suppression of information on student crimes was a settled policy at Harvard. He accused James Stewart, superintendent of caretakers and special police in the "yard" or campus, along with other school officials, of deliberate lack of coöperation with the Cambridge city police.

4 WOMEN PICKETS ARE INDICTED BY GALESBURG JURY

Galesburg, Ill., April 2 [Special].—The Knox county grand jury today indicted four women employés of the Gross Galesburg company, overall makers, on charges of assault and battery as a result of one of numerous picket line disorders that have taken place in connection with a nine weeks old strike at the plant.

The defendants, Irene Lambert, Eunice Patch, Blanche Marquith, and May Anderson, were accused of assaulting Mrs. Nellie Fadlund, one of about 20 workers who did not go on strike when 138 other women walked out. It was charged they beat and trampled her a month ago when she tried to pass thru the picket line.

Federal Judge Leroy Adair in Peoria today issued a temporary restraining order against the strikers participating in further violence, interfering with the company's interstate shipments, and having more than five pickets on duty. The strikers are seeking higher wages and improvements in working conditions.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

THE QUESTION.
What change in your old home town has been most noticeable?

WHERE ASKED.
Jackson boulevard and Dearborn street.

THE ANSWERS.

Gerritt W. Wesselink, lawyer, 720 North Wabash avenue—There are many changes and improvements in my home town in Iowa. For one thing there has been much progress and development in recreational fields—many more parks and facilities for sports. But it's almost impossible to find an ordinary clothing store there now.

John S. Andrews, chemist, 1374 Raymond avenue, St. Paul, Minn.—It isn't at all like it used to be. Not long ago I could whiz right thru the town without making one stop for other traffic, but now I encounter stop lights all over the town. It's not as easy to find a parking place on main street, either.

James S. Winslow, aircraft mechanic, Tulsa, Okla.—The most noticeable change is in the population. It seems like every one of my pals have either enlisted in the army or joined the navy. So far as I'm concerned, what my little town was made of just isn't there.

Jean Frankenberry, student, Sharon, Pa.—The town itself really hasn't changed so much, but every time I go back it looks like a miniature compared with Chicago. That glorified opinion or mental picture I have of it always shrinks and the town appears smaller every visit.

Stanley Filk, purchasing agent, 12341 Yale avenue—Several years had elapsed between my last two visits to the old town. In the meantime the good old swimming hole had dried up. There were strange buildings where it used to be. What formerly looked like mountains and hills to me were just little mounds.

William J. Atkinson, Waukegan, Ill.—At the rate my home town is going I soon won't have one. It's in a very run down and dilapidated condition. Just dried up. The buildings haven't been painted for years and most of the people I knew have moved to larger surrounding cities.

MEN IN RESERVE ELIGIBLE TO SEEK ELECTIVE OFFICE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The war department today ruled that members of reserve units of the army—National Guardsmen, reserve officers, and draftees—may hold or be candidates for elective offices at the discretion of the department.

Political office holding by members of the regular army will remain prohibited, however.

"The war department is cognizant of the fact that certain members of reserve components, now on extended active duty, are in a leave status from public office held by them prior to entering upon active duty and some may wish to seek election or reëlection during their period of active military service," it was ruled.

"If such persons can accomplish the necessary campaign by taking ordinary leave due him, and if his election and occupancy of civil office will not interfere with his military duties, the war department will consider exempting him from compliance with the pertinent army regulations."

TRAFFIC OFFICERS TO GRADUATE.

Graham Hutton, director of the British press service in Chicago, will make the graduation address tomorrow when 39 police and army officers are graduated from a two week Traffic Officers' Training school at Northwestern university. Members of the class come from four states, six counties, and 10 cities.

DECLARES KNOX ORDERED FIRING OF 1,000 SEAMEN

Action Called Harmful to Men's Morale.

New York, April 2 (AP).—A statement that Navy Secretary Frank Knox ordered the discharge of 1,000 merchant seamen since Pearl Harbor was made today at a qualifications board hearing on the appeal of Murray Winocur, dismissed from his radio post on a tanker.

Winocur, a vice president of the American Communications association, CIO union of radio men, was dismissed, the board said, under a law which gave the navy secretary power to order removal of navy, shipyard, and merchant marine personnel in the interest of national defense. Winocur was dismissed March 10 at Houston.

Protested, Says Curran.

Joseph Curran, head of the CIO National Maritime union, said at today's hearing in the 3d naval district headquarters that 300 seamen, 100 radio operators, and 600 shipyard workers had been questioned by naval intelligence and then abruptly fired.

"We protested many times during the last few weeks," Curran said. "We warned that morale was being injured by this procedure. Seamen are becoming frightened. Men are being pulled off their ships mysteriously.

"If they are dangerous to national defense, then why are they dumped on the beach? They should be tried, interned, shot, or reinstated.

Blame Dies Charges.

Curran and Joseph Seely, ACA president, declared that naval intelligence used unsubstantiated Dies committee allegations against officers of the NMU and ACA.

Capt. Marshall B. Arnold, senior member of the qualifications board, refused to permit elaboration of the charges against Winocur and announced no decision on his appeal.

Curran said that the two unions wanted trials for all the men dismissed.

He then demanded immediate reconsideration of the cases of all men allegedly fired and said the unions would contest the constitutionality of the law which gave the navy secretary dismissal powers.

POLICE GET BEST OF 30 SOLDIERS IN STREET FIGHT

Lowell, Mass., April 2 (AP).—A group of 30 to 40 soldiers scuffled with an equal number of Lowell policemen early today in an attempt to obtain the release of a dozen other soldiers who had been locked up earlier for "safe keeping," police reported.

The encounter occurred on the steps and street in front of police headquarters. The soldiers retired after 10 of their number were locked up along with the men whose release had been demanded.

Except for a few bruises, apparently no injuries were suffered. Military police later took the jailed soldiers back to Fort Devens, 20 miles from here. The soldiers were among several hundred on leave.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."
—Stephen Decatur.

HOW MARLBOROUGH WENT TO WAR.

The Pacific council has been set up in Washington. It is called a consultant body. It consists of representatives of Great Britain, China, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, the Netherlands, and the United States. A similar consultant body has been set up in London. Mr. Roosevelt says that the councils will work with the combined chiefs of staff group to carry on a united fight.

The war machinery involving the nations against Japan, Germany, and Italy and their satellites is a bit too intricate for the average understanding. A person can see the need of some sort of combinations without understanding what is being undertaken, how the war effort is being directed, and who is directing it, and no satisfying explanation is given by the people who, being on the inside, may know. There is apparently a great deal of consultation in various parts of the world and possibly some far reaching decisions are being made.

It has been an axiom, right or wrong, that wars are not won in conference and that councils never fight. Great wars have been won by exceptional commanders, endowed with a genius for what used to be called the art of war, actively directing great armies and making or seizing opportunity to throw their forces against the enemy wherever he could be best attacked, with the iron determination to win. These great generals have either been too powerful to have councils imposed upon them or they have been fortunate enough to escape.

In the first World war the allies fought a losing one until Foch was allowed to assert his own will in desperate circumstances and to get rid of the interallied councils which had produced so much dismay and so many discouraging setbacks. Grant began to bring the Civil war to a close when he was able to command unhindered. Probably the most dramatic escape from a council was that made by Marlborough when he deceived not only the Dutch government and his other allies but everybody in England, except the queen and Godolphin, who as lord treasurer was Anne's equivalent of a modern prime minister.

Louis XIV. was about to obtain the control of Europe now sought by Hitler. "He was never nearer to success than the spring of 1704. Nothing but the accident of Marlborough's genius and some lucky turns of fortune in the field that year diverted the path of destiny."—[G. M. Trevelyan in "England Under Queen Anne."]

Marlborough had to get rid of his councilors and his restraints if the war was to be won, and to get rid of them he pretended that he wanted permission to undertake a campaign on the Moselle. The deception was successful. Nobody in the army train knew what was the real objective until at Wiesloch, south of Heidelberg, the general turned his army to the southeast and headed for the Danube. At the battle of Blenheim, which could not have been fought if Marlborough's purpose had been known, the power of Louis XIV. received its first crushing blow and the war, turning on that supreme event, was won. Europe has avoided one such danger only to meet it in some succeeding unhappy generation, but each of these wars has taught a lesson that should be plain to the average mind and we're not sure that much profit is being taken of it now.

Gen. MacArthur has been acclaimed as the man of this dark hour and the public has been led to believe that he was in supreme command in the Pacific. Success in other wars has been had by giving the right man the things he needs to win. It would be natural if people began to wonder now if MacArthur had merely been put upon a high pedestal or whether he is actually free to adopt the measures and pursue the strategy which his judgment tells him are required by the situation in which he finds himself. A knowledge that this is so would be a great heartener.

THE HOME OF HEROES.

Perhaps there are other communities in this country which have given more and brighter heroes to this war than has Chicago but, if so, we would like to hear about them. It is impossible to list all the Chicago boys who have earned glory for themselves, their city, and their country by their gallantry in the face of the enemy. We'll mention only three of them.

Where is the match for Capt. Arthur Wermuth, the one man army in the Philippines, who himself accounted for 116 Japanese soldiers?

Where is the match for Capt. Edward O'Hare, who single handed battled nine Japanese bombers and in the space of a few minutes destroyed six of them, probably destroyed a seventh, and returned to his carrier base only because he was out of ammunition?

Where is the match for Capt. Patrick McIntyre, the Tilden High school graduate, who flew his bomber thru a thousand miles of frightful weather to get his cruiser and some smaller boats besides?

Maybe other communities can match one of these Chicago boys, but what city can match all three of them?

MR. LA GUARDIA'S IDEA OF ECONOMY.

Mayor La Guardia has submitted to the New York board of estimate what passes in that city for an economy budget. It calls for tax levies of $568,000,000. Chicago politicians have rarely been accused of being economy minded. Their tax levies currently in collection place a burden of $196,000,000 on taxpayers within the city. That money is none too well spent on the administrative side and because of the disgraceful failure to deal with the delinquent tax problem about 20 cents in every dollar taken from the taxpayer brings him no return whatever in government services. Nevertheless, the tax burden on the individual citizen in Chicago this year is $57.80, while Mayor La Guardia's proposed rates will impose a per capita burden in New York of $76.30. Chicago taxpayers have little enough to be thankful for but they can be thankful that they don't live in New York.

KANSAS CITY REPEATS.

Kansas City held a momentous election two years ago. The rule of the Democratic gang led by T. J. Pendergast, with its graveyard vote and underworld alliances, was slipping. Pendergast was in prison for income tax fraud. A federal grand jury had smashed his vote stealing machine. The voters elected a reform mayor.

Kansas City held another election Tuesday. The reform mayor and the members of the city council who backed his policies were up for reelection. Altho the vote was apparently smaller than in 1940, the Pendergast machine took an even worse beating. Mayor Gage won by 30,000 votes, 10,000 more than his majority two years ago.

It used to be a political axiom that a reform administration rarely lasted more than one term. The theory was that by the time it came up for reëlection the ordinary, nonpolitical minded voter would have lost his wrath and the machine could step back in. That isn't true any more. Kansas City has demonstrated that it isn't true. Cincinnati, now under its fifth or sixth Charter party administration since it turned out the boodlers, has demonstrated that it isn't true. Seattle, permanently sick of Dave Beck's labor goons, has demonstrated that it isn't true. The voters aren't so damned dumb as Harry Hopkins said they were.

PHYSICAL FITNESS.

There has been a good deal of public consternation over the statistical fact that nearly one-half of the two million registrants examined for the draft were rejected for general military service. Much of this consternation should be removed by the analysis of the reasons for rejection, just published in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Leonard George Rowntree, chief medical officer of the draft, and his associates.

To begin with these officers comment: "There seems to be little doubt that most of the registrants classified as available for limited military service and a substantial portion of those disqualified for any military service in the United States army evidence health conditions which would be acceptable for military duty in continental Europe."

In other words, it isn't wholly true that Americans are such wretched physical specimens, but rather that our army sets exceptionally high physical standards. This is, on the whole, commendable. There were, for instance, about 100,000 men rejected because they failed to meet the minimum educational requirement of the army, which is that a prospective soldier should be able to read and write English as well as a pupil who has satisfactorily completed fourth grade in school.

A small proportion of those rejected were illiterate from lack of educational opportunity. That is a national reproach, of course. A great many more were just natural dumbbells. Men of such retarded mental development would have been perfectly satisfactory in the mass armies of the last war. Their illiteracy didn't prevent millions of Russian peasants from dying for the czar. In modern warfare such men would be not only poor soldiers but an actual menace to the men who had to fight alongside of them.

More than one in every five of the 900,000 registrants who were declared not qualified for general military service because of physical defects were rejected because of dental deficiencies. The men examined were between the ages of 18 and 36. The dental defects of men of that age are probably remediable in 19 cases out of 20. The army, in fact, has already relaxed its restrictions in this field.

One noteworthy feature of Dr. Rowntree's report is that the rate of rejection for registrants between the ages of 31 and 36 was nearly twice as great as that of registrants between the ages of 21 and 25, inclusive. While the draft age has been extended, it is obvious that on the basis of physical qualifications alone the older age groups are going to furnish a far smaller percentage of men than those who were registered at the outbreak of the war.

The report justifies the conclusion that America has plenty of man power fit to fight. The problem of getting the men into uniform is a minor one compared with the real tasks of teaching them to be soldiers and giving them weapons with which to fight.

ELDER STATESMEN.

Sir Gwilym Gibbon is 68 years old. He apparently does not consider age a distinction, especially when it is charged with the responsibilities of governing. He warns Britain that she is endangered by the prospect of gerontocracy—a government conducted by old men.

Five members of the President's cabinet have an aggregate age of 346 years. Their average age is slightly more than 69. Gentlemen of those years usually drive in low gear. They are preoccupied with matters relating to hot water bottles, slippers, canes, and gruel. When asked their age they say with defensive pride that they are so many years "young." There is no cure for this disease.

FIRST CROCUS.

[Christian Science Monitor.]

Wars and revolutions may smash history into jagged segments and make the times seem out of joint and all humankind hopelessly out of step. But in a secluded spot of the garden, camouflaged in the grass as if aware that camouflage is now a fashion, a crocus is pushing thru.

The news spreads as fast as a battle headline. It spreads by word of mouth, but no one suspects it of being mere rumor. People tell the truth about crocuses. And thru the countryside, and along dignified city streets where little lawns smile under frowning brownstone or brick façades, the good news travels.

What makes the first crocus so important? Is it this—that in lands distant from one another, among peoples who think one another strange, in generations remote from each other, the discovery of the first crocus has always brought heads together in smiling confidences, has always led human beings to add warmth of heart to the waning of winter's discontent, has always been communicable in a common language which has no word for pride, or hate, or fear?

Between the grasses there, in that small bud, we find the quiet continuity of human happiness, guarded thru storm and icy darkness, still a fact, waiting to be unfolded once again. We find friends as eager as ever to hear, as blithesome as ever to carry the good word. Human history is not completely told, nor deeply understood, by those who forget the first crocus.

LORE OF THE CROSS.

Twenty forms of cross are named and diagrammed in Webster's dictionary. Let us glance over them, giving brief descriptions:

Latin cross: The chief symbol of Christianity everywhere. The Byzantine, or Greek Orthodox, or Russian church often uses another type of cross. It is held probable that Christ was crucified upon a cross of this form, altho He may have suffered upon a tau cross, shaped like the letter T.

Calvary: The Latin cross on a pedestal.

Patriarchal or archiepiscopal: With two arms, the shorter above, used in processions, carried before an archbishop.

Papal: With three arms, the shortest above; a processional cross carried before the pope.

Cross of Lorraine: With two arms of equal length, equidistant from top and foot; of heraldic origin, now used as a symbol of anti-tuberculosis organizations.

Greek cross: A form of four equal arms at right angles. It is also St. George's cross, which is a part of the design of the British flag, symbolizing England.

Celtic cross: The Latin cross with a circle embracing the arms; much used in Ireland, especially over graves. The circle often bears a pattern of Celtic ornament, forming a beautiful design.

St. Andrew's cross: Shaped like the letter X; it figures in the design of the British flag as a symbol of Scotland.

Maltese cross: An eight-pointed design formed of four conventionalized arrowheads placed point to point; emblem of the crusading knights of Malta.

Ten other forms from secular heraldry are depicted in the dictionary. They are named: Pommée, botonée, pattée, avelan, moline, formée, fourchée, crosslet, quadrate, and potent. The symbols of heraldry contain 285 cross designs; those named here are the most frequently used.

The Byzantine or Russian cross, not in the dictionary list, is the patriarchal cross with a slanting crossbar, representing a foot rest, near the base.

THE UNDAUNTED PILGRIM.

(John Bunyan, 1628-1688.)

One only lamp in a deserted street,
One gleam from out a prison window ledge,
Whereby some troubled mind withstands defeat,
Holding against the dark a flickering wedge;
One constant light fed by heroic zeal
May farther reach to meet responsive eyes,
Than sudden flambeaux eager to reveal
A scattered brilliance that too early dies.

So Bunyan's spirit lamp with steady flame
Shows thru the thick walled centuries of Time
To give the Pilgrim courage of his dream
And hardihood to bear, to fight, to climb.
The power to turn the dragon to his cave
Renews without surcease among the brave.

E. W. F.

The Massive Mind of Mr. Moto.

Japanese chess: The board contains 81 squares; each contestant has 20 pieces, alike in form but marked with ideographs. Their names and resemblances in European chess: O, king; keima, knight; hisha, rook; kaku, bishop; fu, pawn; yari, lesser rook. Gin [silver] and kin [gold] have no counterparts in European chess. Captured pieces are added to the taker's side. The game has ramifications unknown in European chess. It is understood and played by all classes, but the educated Japanese hold the game of go in higher esteem.

Go: Played on a square wooden board. Lines crossing each other at right angles form 361 intersections called me, which may be occupied by 180 white and 181 black stones. These are placed, one at a time, where the players choose, each in turn. The object of the game is to obtain possession of the larger portion of the board. The game is extremely complicated; beginners require a teacher. The game was introduced from China about 1,200 years ago.

(Information from "Things Japanese," by Basil Hall Chamberlain, formerly of the faculty of the University of Tokio.)

GOOD FRIDAY.

This day is set apart,
Cherished in every heart.

Stilled are our joys and fears,
Quiet as secret tears.

There is a hush on earth,
Silent as death—and birth.

Quizzicuss.

The Greatest Roar in History.

The other evening I listened to a broadcast during which a number of songs of the states were played; there was a noticeable lack of applause for "Dixie."

And I recalled another time when the same tune was played and there was some applause. It was at the Columbian Exposition on Chicago day.

On both sides of the MacMonnies fountain, at the head of the Court of Honor, were bandstands, one occupied by the Iowa state band, the other by Sousa's. They had played alternately all afternoon to a crowd of about 300,000 people.

It was just 6 o'clock when Sousa began playing a medley of national airs. The band crashed out "Marching Thru Georgia." There was a pause and then one lone cornet opened up with "Dixie." All I heard was the first two bars. Then a roar burst from 300,000 throats and was taken up by 400,000 others over the grounds, who yelled because they heard some one else yelling. For 50 years I have been saying that the roar must have been heard in Milwaukee. Norty.

SPRING RESURRECTION.

Now living green sweeps northward like a wave,
A tidal wave of spring, trailing the sun;
Leaping to laughter from a wintery grave,
And seasonal immortality is won.

Maud E. Uschold.

A friend of mine always cleans his overloaded plate to the last scrap because he considers it a sin to waste food while so many people are starving. Maxellus.

To announce the stop at Tribune square the other day a bus driver called out: "Newspapers and chewing gum." J. Penrhyn Squabb.

Good Friday: Good in the sense of holy. An old English usage. For a parallel note the folkphrase, "the Good Book" for the Holy Bible.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

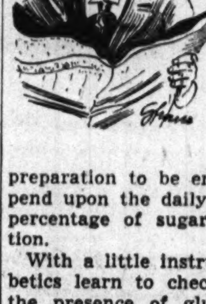
KEEPING THE UPPER HAND IN DIABETES.

While diabetes can be controled, coöperation on the part of the patient is called for. Victory will not come with a routine as simple as taking a pill three times a day. Many cases require insulin which is obtained from the pancreas of animals.



In addition, a strict diet may be necessary. In fact, the doses of the hormone and the particular preparation to be employed may depend upon the daily estimate of the percentage of sugar in the circulation.

With a little instruction, most diabetics learn to check the urine for the presence of glucose. Furthermore, many will be able to gauge the insulin quota as accurately as the physician. Treatment is a matter of trial, in which the patient is placed upon a maintenance regimen of 2,000 calories for men and 1,600 or 1,700 for women. All classes of foodstuffs are represented, including carbohydrates. The urine is tested four times daily and the demand for insulin determined as that quantity which will prevent the excretion of sugar. When the proper balance has been reached, fatigue will vanish and gain in weight begin.

With children, however, the problem is more difficult, as there is a great temptation to eat other than the prescribed menus. If properly handled, however, they can usually be made to play the game. A few will do well if sweets are omitted from the meals and candy is prohibited. In such a situation we are dependent upon the insulin to burn up the carbohydrates. But we must guard against an overdose and, for this reason, it is suggested that two or three lumps of sugar should always be immediately available.

Sometimes complaints about vision will be expressed during the period when adjustments are being made. Eyesight may become so dim that one cannot read the daily newspaper. This indicates that there is not enough glucose in the blood to feed the optic apparatus. No change in glasses should be made until the management has been stabilized on a sound basis.

Every sufferer recognizes the signs of too small an allotment of carbohydrates or too much of the extract of the pancreas. Mild attacks include a sudden feeling of fatigue, nervousness, or perspiration. It is always well to be on the watch for such an episode about three hours after a meal, especially if the hormone has been injected just prior to the repast.

If protamine insulin, which has a prolonged effect, is used before breakfast, sweating, apprehension, or even light unconsciousness may appear during the early hours of the morning. The remedy is simple—a tablespoonful of corn sirup or a lump or two of sugar. The condition is known as insulin shock and is due to inadequate sugar in the blood.

Diabetic coma is quite another matter. This begins with loss of appetite and may occur quickly if the medicine is reduced or omitted. Abdominal pain is frequently severe and may be followed by vomiting, labored breathing, a sweetish breath, and drowsiness. Unconsciousness may then ensue. This is an emergency and the physician should be summoned. He is fully prepared to deal with the crisis.

IT MAY BE.

J. O. F. writes: I feel as tho I have an obstruction in my throat, which makes swallowing difficult. My doctor tells me it is caused by a nervous stomach. Is this possible?

REPLY.

Old fashioned "globus hystericus" may be due to too little acid in the gastric secretion. It is likewise an emotional manifestation. We are all having a hard time swallowing bitter pills these days.

BLACK AND BLUE SPOTS.

Mrs. W. writes: What is the cause of bruises appearing on the skin just from a touch?

REPLY.

Fragile capillaries, which rupture with the greatest ease. The symptom is associated with a reduced number of platelets [small, colorless corpuscles] in the blood. A count of these elements is advised.

GOOD FRIDAY, 1942

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, The Tribune.

LICENSING THE PRESS.

Chicago, March 31.—You have been concerning yourself with the board of economic warfare and with the propensity of a member of it to strip himself to the buff. Yesterday I received from that office a large envelope well filled with questionnaires to be answered; forms to be filled out, and oaths to be taken. At first, I could not understand all of it.

I publish a modest trade magazine which discusses with retail coal dealers how they can simplify the job of unloading coal from a railway car and moving it somewhere, how to sell coal, and how to burn it. I discuss topics that most persons would drowse over. However, some of my subscribers live in Canada. So, I am in the "export" business. Also, they list me as a "technical" paper, hence prone to give information to the enemy—about how to make money out of a retail coal yard, perhaps. Therefore, all of these documents were sent as a preliminary. The intention is to put me under a license or, I presume, to put me out of business.

The power to license is the power to destroy. That power will be exercised I am told in these documents, if what I print is objectionable. Is this the beginning of the end of the freedom of the press? George H. Cushing.

FINGERPRINTING CHILDREN.

Chicago, March 31.—A recent news item stated that 40,000 London children evacuees have been "lost." The British consulate, in response to my inquiry, said that the dispatch should have stated that the records of their movements had not been kept up to date in the records office, but that all the parents know where their children are. Regardless of the actual situation there, the fingerprinting of all children in any country at war would provide positive identification in all emergencies.

Not a one of my 107 eighth grade pupils, after considering the arguments for and against the proposition, had a single objection. Harry L. Tate, Principal, Whitney School.

LINDBERGH GETS A JOB.

Chicago, March 30.—More power to Henry Ford, the only big man in the country foresighted enough to recognize Lindbergh's ability and make use of his talents. Our air force would be about 50 per cent more efficient and would also have numerical superiority if his advice had been followed years and even months ago. No one in Washington seems to know he is alive, but wait till some of his ideas take shape and roll off the assembly line. Then maybe he will get his long delayed reward. Austinite.

WPA BOONDOGGLING.

Chicago, March 27.—A plague on those WPA men who are wasting valuable time in straightening rocks and boulders in thought of beautifying the shore line. We're in war, and haven't time to think of a beautiful shore line at a time like this.

With defense industries sorely in need of help, the government still insists on keeping up this wasteful project. O fate, when are those boondoggling twerps in Washington going to get wise to themselves? Richard Surwille.

FROM AN ADMIRER.

West Chicago, Ill., March 31.—Congratulations on your great editorial, "The Duty of Newspapers," and on your cartoon by Mr. Parrish entitled "Born 1847—Still Going Strong." Both are masterpieces and the cartoon should be reprinted page size in appropriate colors.

Were it not for The Tribune, the New York News, other newspapers, and watchful legislators such as Senators Byrd, Tydings, and Brooks, the defense program and the whole war effort would be such a political jumble as to make us shudder.

It's not the people who are failing. The nation is angry with the administration over waste, boondoggling, and failure to permit labor legislation to come to a vote. It is angry because such incompetents as Col. Knox, Madam Perkins, aged Henry Stimson, Jesse Jones, and Harold Ickes are allowed to remain in positions of importance despite the fact we are now at war and can't afford to toy around with them any longer. It is angry because it is not being given the facts.

Its opportunity to speak out against the present bungling, political manner in which the war is being conducted is coming in November and it's a pretty safe bet that if things continue as they have been going, the people will elect a Republican house of representatives and add new Republicans to the senate. To date, the Roosevelt administration has fallen far short of the mark because it insists on waging a political war. Mr. Roosevelt has unity for efficient, nonpolitical administration of the war to victory, but he does not have unity—and never will—for boondoggling, waste, and a war "fought" by politicians.

The Tribune's watchful attitude is one of patriotism. Its stand always has been and always will be one of patriotism. It may be wrong at times, as we all are, but it is to be congratulated on its fearless stand. Truly enough, you "can afford to be honest, and fearless, and to wait." Robert C. Byerly.

ON FREE COLLEGES.

Chicago, March 30.—In your Sunday issue there is a letter urging a "free" college for Chicago, operated by the board of education. With tax rates as high as they are, any further expansion efforts by the board of education should be rebuffed. If a person wants to go to college, and has no money, let that person work his way thru. I did that. No one gave me one penny. A college supported by the taxpayers is not a proper civic function. If it comes that easy it is not appreciated. Let's cut, not expand, the board of education activities. J. W. Kellogg.

MR. CUDAHY'S STATEMENT.

Chicago, March 29.—The statement of John Cudahy appearing on the editorial page of today's Tribune deserves to be republished on page one. Nothing so clarifies the confused situation as this statement. Daniel Anderson.

WHY THE GOVERNMENT LOST A BOND BUYER.

Chicago, March 28.—I have saved up a little money. Recently my family asked why I didn't put this money to good use and buy defense bonds. I thought this was an excellent idea and went at once to the bank and withdrew my life's savings. The window selling defense bonds had already been closed and I was to come back the next day to buy the bonds.

That evening I read about the secretary employed by the Cleveland firm of Jack & Heintz. She had drawn more in her bonus than I had earned in the seven years I have been working hard. Didn't this come from the money which our good patriots had been putting into defense bonds? Wasn't this company drawing all its funds from the government? To show a smaller excess profit, the boss handed out enormous bonuses to all employés, especially to his secretary and himself.

I was so disgusted with the whole affair and so disheartened with the way the government has let itself be duped that I took my money and bought myself a very much wanted car. Now I shall have a little pleasure and shall be very unpatriotic in saying that the Mr. Jacks in this country have all the money, so let them buy the bonds to keep the country ahead. Irene Wolf.

DAYLIGHT BUT NO SAVING.

Cicero, Ill., March 29.—I'm an eighth grade pupil. On the evening of March 28 our street lights were already turned on at about 6:30 p. m. The sun was shining, too. I thought there was an electricity shortage? Shirley Minich.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

JUDGMENT NOTE.

Chicago, March 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a judgment note that is about to expire [10 year period]. I have not sufficient funds to employ an attorney just at this time. The man who owes me this money lives in Texas.

1. What procedure would be necessary to obtain a judgment? If I could borrow the money to employ an attorney [2] would the lawyer have to have the original note? Why couldn't I just give him a photostatic copy? The amount of the note without interest is $6,300.

3. I was told to always keep the original in case of court action. A. B.

1. If you will read the instrument you will doubtless find it expressly calls for the services of an attorney in connection with the entering of the confession judgment. Theoretically you could bring an ordinary suit on the note without employing an attorney but we doubt the wisdom of this course. We suggest that you employ an attorney on a contingent fee.

2. Presumably the court would insist on the original note being presented at the time judgment was entered so that a notation could be entered on the note so as to prevent the recovering of a second judgment. If you employ a lawyer you should leave these details of procedure to him.

3. Told by whom?

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Test Your Horse Sense By Dr. George W. Crane.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answer on page 36.

1. Ticker tape should make one think primarily of which of these men?
Jeweler Circus Barker Book Binder Stock Broker.
2. Which one of these nuts grows underground?
Almond Brazil Nut Peanut Pecan.
3. The young offspring of the whale is called by which of these names?
Puppy Kitten Colt Calf.
4. The minimum weight for a draftee's admission into the army is how many pounds? 95 105 112 120.
5. Which state of the union contains the greatest water area within its boundaries? Minnesota New York Wisconsin Utah.
6. Psychologically, first place far overshadows second place. The Number Two man may be practically as good as the Number One man, but it is the latter whom we remember. To test this fact, try to associate the Vice Presidents below with the Presidents under whom they served. You are entitled to one point for each correct matching.

[a] George Washington	[v] Theodore Roosevelt
[b] Thomas Jefferson	[w] Andrew Johnson
[c] William Henry Harrison	[x] John Adams
[d] Abraham Lincoln	[y] John Tyler
[e] William McKinley	[z] Aaron Burr

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

PRIZE OPERETTA LEAD ASSIGNED TO ALLAN JONES

Marion Claire Gets Main Feminine Role April 11.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Allan Jones, motion picture and radio singing star, will join Marion Claire in singing the leading rôles in the grand prize winning operetta in W-G-N's $10,500 Great American Operetta quest on the Chicago Theater of the Air on Saturday, April 11.

Allan Jones.

The $5,000 grand prize winner will be aired as the final performance of the season, before more than 3,500 operetta enthusiasts in the Chicago Civic Opera house from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m., over W-G-N, W59C, and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Letters from Entire Nation.

Meanwhile, folowers of the operetta series from all corners of the nation are flooding W-G-N with letters naming their favorites of the three $1,000 prize winning operettas that resulted from the quest. W-G-N will distribute $2,500 in cash for the best letters of 50 words or fewer picking the grand prize operetta, naming it, and giving reasons for the selection.

A grand prize of $1,000 will be awarded to the writer of the best letter. There will be more than 70 other cash awards. All entries in this contest to be considered must be received by W-G-N by midnight Tuesday.

The grand prize winner will bring an additional $5,000 to its composer. The identity of the winning operetta will not be revealed until the curtain rises at the opera house. After Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, has given his weekly address, Conductor Henry Weber and Producer Kenneth MacGregor will start the orchestra, cast, and chorus on the prize winning work. Not until then will the outcome of the quest be known.

Composers to Be Invited.

The three operettas that won prizes were written by two teams, Lee Armentrout and Fenton Lee; Percy Faith and Jim Pease, and by Ross Hastings, working alone. All these composers will be invited to attend the broadcast. The working titles of the operettas, as presented on W-G-N, are: "The Gandy Dancer," "The Lead Soldier," and "America Loves a Melody."

The transfer of the final operetta presentation of the year from the W-G-N studio theater to the opera house is the result of public demand. W-G-N has on hand some 32,000 requests for tickets that have accumulated during recent months. To satisfy as many of these as possible W-G-N will hold a public drawing. To those whose names are drawn from a goldfish bowl tickets will be sent early next week.

Miss Claire will start the drawing during tomorrow night's Theater of the Air program when hits from the three prize winning operettas will be presented.

HOYNE LEAVES CUSTOMS POST AFTER 8 YEARS

Thomas Temple Hoyne yesterday stepped out as federal controler of customs in Chicago after eight years in the office. He said that his term automatically expired Tuesday, March 31, when the senate had failed to reappoint him.

He was first appointed in 1934 for a four year term, and reappointed in 1938 for a similar term. Thus far, Hoyne said, there has been no word from Washington indicating the appointment of a successor, or the possible transfer of the office under civil service direction.

Hoyne's place will be filled by the first assistant controler, Philip O'Connell, a civil service employé, until other provisions are made.

H. S. DITCHBURNE TAKES OFFICE AS ELKS CLUB HEAD

Harry S. Ditchburne was inducted as exalted ruler of the Chicago Elks club last night in the clubrooms at 57 West Monroe street. James R. Mills and Col. William McMillan were in charge of the ceremony. Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, was chief installing officer. He was assisted by J. Edgar Masters, Judge Joseph Burke, Judge Edgar Jonas, and Judge John J. Lupe. Other officers installed are: Benjamin S. Adamowski, leading knight; William F. Clarke, loyal knight, and Benjamin Weiss, lecturing knight.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster— Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

W-G-N PRESENTS MUSICAL SALUTE TO U. S. MARINES

"We may expect very soon to hear the words, 'The marines have landed in Tokio and the situation is well in hand.'" Such were the closing lines of the program, "Americans at the Ramparts," broadcast over W-G-N last evening and dedicated to the United States marines.

During the musical salute to the famous leathernecks, Col. R. M. Montague, Lieut. Col. Chester L. Fordney, and Miss Clara Hoover, secretary of the Illinois department of the G. A. R., were interviewed. The studio was filled with marines from Navy pier and representatives of the G. A. R., who were attending the broadcast as guests.

The highlight in music came when the "Oath of Allegiance" was sung by Ray Charles, accompanied by the chorus and orchestra under the direction of Bob Trendler, and read by Pierre Andre. The program was produced by Morrison Wood and written by Sidney Gerson.

$26,252 Delinquent Sales Taxes Collected in March

Collections of $26,252 in delinquent sales taxes were made in Cook county during March by the Chicago office of Attorney General George F. Barrett, establishing an all-time record in that field, it was announced yesterday. March collections, the attorney general said, exceeded the entire collections during the first three months of 1941.

Five Are Guests

Jean, Joan, and June, triplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Kubovy of Berwyn, celebrated their fifth birthdays yesterday afternoon with a luncheon and party in the Edgewater Beach hotel. Dressed in frocks of pale blue, the brown haired youngsters dined with five guests, including their mother and 7 year old sister, Carol. Favored among the many birthday gifts they received were triplet Easter bunnies of pastel felt.

PASSION PLAY TO BE OPENED IN ZION SUNDAY

Despite inroads made by the draft on the cast of the Zion Passion play, the presentation will open its eighth annual season at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Zion auditorium. The play will be given every Sunday afternoon thru June 28.

More than 10 male members of the cast have had to be replaced since this year's presentation went into rehearsal because of draft calls. However, everything is ready for Sunday's opening, according to the Rev. Jabez Taylor, author and producer of the play.

More than 250 residents of Zion annually take part in the play. A musical background is furnished by a symphony orchestra under the direction of Rudolph Reiners of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, an organ, and a full choir.

STATE TROOPERS TO M'LEANSBORO IN LABOR RIOTING

New Contractor to Begin Unloading Pipe Today.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

McLeansboro, Ill., April 2.—Four squads of Illinois state policemen were on their way here late tonight to prevent further disorders in a labor dispute which already has resulted in the severe beating of the community's aged sheriff and possibly fatal injury of a workman by a mob of union men.

The policemen will be on hand tomorrow morning when work is scheduled to be resumed in the unloading of heavy pipe for a new $3,000,000 refinery which will process aviation gasoline in the war effort. Thirty-nine carloads of pipe have accumulated since the work was interrupted Monday by rioting.

Announcement that state policemen will assume control of the situation was made by State's Attorney Mastin E. Buck, a Spanish-American war veteran, who despite his 74 years has been vigorous in his efforts to maintain order.

Gov. Green Consulted.

The state police were ordered here after Buck had appealed to Col. Thomas R. Gowenlock of Chicago, state coördinator of law enforcement agencies, and the defense official had conferred with Gov. Dwight Green.

"Col. Gowenlock told me," the prosecutor related, "that if the four squads of state policemen are not enough to cope with the situation, he will send more. He said that if necessary he will send the sheriffs of surrounding counties to our aid."

The Texas company, owners of the refinery, executed a new contract for the unloading job with Anderson Brothers of Salem. A previous contract had been relinquished by Herbert Powell, also of Salem, because of the labor trouble. Powell had employed workmen who were nonunion but were specially trained. Powell said protesting unions had refused to permit him to use those men even if they joined unions.

Union Question Unanswered.

It was not disclosed whether the new contractor will employ union labor from this community, which union leaders have insisted upon. About 25 union representatives of a dozen American Federation of Labor unions waited here several hours tonight to meet the contractor and clear up this point, but the contractor did not appear.

At Salem it was said the firm of Anderson Brothers has not been using union workmen.

That the union men had not abandoned their determination to have their way on the job was evidenced by the remarks of Evan Dale, president of the Common Laborers' District council. He asserted stubbornly that "we are going to organize that job."

Three Leaders Under Bond.

As a result of the rioting Dale and two other union leaders—Sheridan Wheeler and Medley Flannigan—are under $4,500 bonds each on charges of resisting an officer, assault and battery, and conspiracy to commit a felony. A fourth union leader is being sought on the same charges.

The victims of the attack, Sheriff S. H. Shepard, 68 years old, and Chester Willmore, 60, a workman, remained in a serious condition in the McLeansboro hospital. The sheriff was beaten and trampled into unconsciousness. Willmore was reported near death from a long skull fracture.

FORMER BERWYN OFFICIAL FREED ON FUND CHARGE

A jury of 10 women and two men yesterday acquitted Arnest W. Mau, former treasurer of Berwyn, of a charge of forgery in the court of Judge John A. Sbarboro. Mau and Matthew Berg, also a former Berwyn treasurer, were freed Feb. 14, 1940, of a charge of having embezzled $3,726 from the city's special assessment fund by a directed verdict by Judge William Lindsay.

Mau resigned his city job two years ago. Shortly thereafter he again was indicted on a charge of having forged a bond interest record sheet showing payment of $381 to a Joseph Busac. The address given was a railroad yard.

The second indictment against Mau was quashed June 17, 1940, by Judge John F. Bolton, who agreed with Mau's counsel that the charge should have been obtaining money under false pretenses, a charge then barred by the statue of limitations. A year later the Illinois Supreme court reversed Judge Bolton and reinstated the indictment on which the verdict was returned yesterday.

2 CICERO BOOKIE JOINT OPERATORS EACH FINED $50

Two men charged with operating handbooks after their resorts in Cicero had been raided March 27 by the sheriff's highway police, were each fined $50 yesterday by Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl. The trials were held in the Willow Springs station of the highway police. Those fined are Edward Mazurek, 5933 Roosevelt road, and Stephen O'Donnell, 2131 South 59th court. Buck Elburn of 5210 Belmont avenue and Jack Greenberg, charged with being inmates of the places, were let off with fines of $1.

Committee on Employment to Hear Negro Plumbers

Negro plumbers and steamfitters who say they have been refused work will be heard by a subcommittee of the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the council chambers. The complainants say that local 130 of the Chicago Journeymen Plumbers' union and local 597 of the Steam Fitters' Protective association exclude Negroes, thereby preventing them from obtaining employment.

SEYMOUR WEISS, HUEY LONG'S AID, GIVEN PAROLE

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Seymour Weiss, New Orleans hotel owner and treasurer of the late Huey Long's political machine, has been paroled by the United States board of parole after serving about 15 months of a 4 year sentence for mail fraud.

It was disclosed that Weiss had paid his $6,000 fine and had paid $113,000 on income taxes, leaving a balance of about $20,000. An official said that arrangements had been made to pay this off in monthly instalments over a period of a year.

The parole was granted yesterday and disclosed today.

Edgar Selwyn, Producer in Hollywood, Is Stricken

Hollywood, April 2 (AP).—Edgar Selwyn, film producer and former New York theatrical producer, was stricken with a cerebral ailment today and removed to a hospital.

RAY EDMUNDSON QUITS CIO, BACKS LEWIS IN RUCKUS

Mine Union May Secede in Row with Murray.

Springfield, Ill., April 2 [Special].—Indications of an impending break between the Congress of Industrial Organizations and one of its most important units, the United Mine Workers of America, were given support today by the resignation of Ray Edmundson, Illinois president of the UMWA, from his post as state regional director of the CIO.

Ray Edmundson.

Edmundson is a close friend of John L. Lewis, international president of the mine union and former CIO czar, but now at odds with the CIO leadership. Edmundson is the first prominent Lewis lieutenant to sever connections with the CIO and line up behind Lewis in the rift.

Stirs Ranks of Labor.

The action excited wide interest in union ranks because of reports that Lewis and the UMWA might withdraw from the CIO, and because of the controversy's background. The latter included the recent action of Lewis' union in dunning the CIO for repayment of at least part of the $1,665,000 the union advanced to finance the early promotion of the industrial congress.

Also involved is Lewis' friction with his successor as CIO president, Philip Murray, who opposed Lewis' proposal of last January to renew CIO peace negotiations with the American Federation of Labor. Murray was cold toward that idea because, he said, Lewis had gone over his head and not consulted him.

Mum on Withdrawal Report.

Edmundson declined to comment on reports that the mine workers may pull out of the CIO, remarking only that Illinois district No. 12 of the UMWA "technically" remains affiliated with the CIO.

However, he made public a letter he had sent to Murray in which he contended the policies of CIO leaders failed to further labor interests, national unity and the campaign to organize the unorganized. Edmundson also commended Lewis' proposal for a reunion of labor's forces.

"If left alone," Edmundson said, in reference to the latter issue, "in my judgment 85 per cent of the workers of both the AFL and the CIO are for organic unity upon an honorable basis."

He also announced that he was giving up his job as president of the Illinois State Industrial Union council, a federation of CIO unions.

Lindbergh in Detroit, Ready for Post at Ford's

Detroit, Mich., April 2 (AP).—Charles A. Lindbergh arrived in Detroit tonight ready to go to work for the Ford Motor company. The flyer refused to discuss his new position, but it was understood he would serve in a supervisory capacity at Ford's huge Willow Run bomber plant near Ypsilanti. Lindbergh accepted Henry Ford's offer of a position March 24 while on a tour of the plant.

Bill to Increase Postoffice Rates of Pay Is Vetoed

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—A bill which would have established a system of longevity pay for 222,500 field employés of the postal service was vetoed today by President Roosevelt.

Science Ponders Jags, Whisky, and War

Jags Streamlined.

Boston, Mass., April 2 (AP).—A method of getting over a jag three times quicker than is now possible was described today to the nation's leading biologists—but wait a minute, chums—the technique so far is limited to your dog Fido.

Three Harvard physiologists told the American Federation of Societies for Experimental Biology that they had administered sodium pyruvate to a group of dogs a few hours after getting them bleary-eyed drunk, and found the sobering-up process was three times faster than before the chemical pick-me-up was given.

The doctors, W. W. Westerfeld, Elmer Stotz, and Robert Berg, said the dogs really "tied one on."

They were given shots of straight alcohol in amounts equivalent to the alcohol consumed by a 130 pound man who takes a half pint of straight whisky without stopping for a breather.

After the dogs were properly plastered they got the chemical.

Water—It's Bad Stuff.

Boston, Mass., April 2 (AP).—It is better to drink whisky than water if you want to avoid the kind of heebie-jeebies which doctors call polyneuritis.

This was shown in a report today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by J. V. Lowry, W. H. Sebrell, F. S. Daft, and L. L. Ashburn of the National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Md.

These heebie-jeebies, which run to anything from wobbly eyes to pink elephants, afflict chronic drinkers. Until a few years ago these woes were attributed to strong drink. Then doctors discovered that the cause was not alcohol but the fact that the hard drinkers didn't eat enough, especially not enough vitamin B-1.

Now comes the pay-off. Doctors gave the heebie-jeeby diet to rats. Some were given water to drink with the deficient diet, some alcohol, and some whisky. The animals all got the heebie-jeeby condition. But rats drinking only water got it first.

New War Terror.

Boston, Mass., April 2 (AP).—A newly discovered war terror, lack of anti-bodies in the blood, substances which come from meat, cheese, and eggs, today forecast wholesale deaths this year in seven European nations.

The prediction was made by Dr. Paul B. Cannon, University of Chicago, to the American Association of Immunologists, the scientists who study the secrets of man's natural immunity to disease.

The main resistance is anti-bodies, mysterious substances in the blood, invisible things which are far more important than vitamins. It has just been discovered, Dr. Cannon said, that these anti-bodies are protein substances which are manufactured from other proteins eaten as food.

"If starving persons in the countries conquered by Hitler are to resist infections they must retain their ability to produce anti-bodies," Dr. Cannon said.

"This means not just any kind of food, but particularly protein foods, meat, cheese, eggs, etc."

ACTS TO REVOKE CITIZENSHIP OF ALIEN SUSPECTS

United States Attorney J. Albert Woll returned to Chicago yesterday after a two day conference with the department of justice in Washington on revocation of the citizenship of naturalized aliens in Chicago. Woll immediately asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the files on a dozen aliens whose loyalty to the United States has become suspect.

The statute under which citizenship of naturalized aliens can be revoked has been used previously against those who returned to their native lands. The fact that they returned has been considered proof of fraud in obtaining citizenship.

Names of several aliens in Chicago and suburbs have been given to the FBI for investigation. Many of those to be investigated are known to be members of the German-American bund. Persons whose citizenship is revoked immediately become enemy aliens and their cases are then referred to an examining board which decides whether they shall be interned, placed on parole, or freed.

Air Mail to Service Men Based on Half Ounce Rate

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen pointed out yesterday that the new reduced rates for air mail to service men overseas are based on postage weights of half an ounce or less, rather than an ounce or less, as they are for domestic first class mail. Under the new rates letters addressed to service men may be sent anywhere in the world air mail for 6 cents per half ounce.

CLEANUP PERIOD OPENING APRIL 19 FIXED BY MAYOR

Mayor Kelly yesterday proclaimed the period from April 19 to May 2 as cleanup time. The campaign, sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce, is designed to encourage citizens to clean up, paint up, and otherwise improve their properties.

More than 500,000 school children will be asked to coöperate.

The mayor's proclamation emphasized the value of the cleanup campaign to the civilian war effort. It will, he said, prevent waste, eliminate hazards and benefit health and morale.

ROBBED BY HITCH-HIKER.

Lloyd Hallberg, 6317 Greenwood avenue, was robbed of $10, a watch, and his spectacles early yesterday by a hitch-hiker, whom he picked up at 63d street and Cottage Grove avenue.

FOR ART'S SAKE, 6 GIRLS SWING IT —WITH BROOMS!

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to love, while a young lady looks forward to house cleaning. At any rate, that is the case at the Art institute.

With mops, brooms, and water buckets as their equipment, the six girls, representing a like number of states, have taken janitorial jobs left vacant by young men going into the armed forces. Each of the 22 institute janitors is a student in the art school, and they earn their tuition by keeping the school's quarters spotlessly tidy.

"We pride ourselves in what we do—not only in our own art work, but in keeping and preserving already great works," said Mary Nell McGinnis of La Barge, Wyo., a first year student in the art school. Other girl janitors are Ruth Miles of Alexandria, La.; Marion Norwood, Muskegon, Mich.; Cecelia Andrews, Clinton, Ia.; Helen Fenton, Gary, Ind., and Rosemary Simpson of Chicago.

Ship Tons of Scrap Metal Salvaged Daily in State

Ben Regan, executive secretary of the state bureau of conservation, yesterday announced that 112,000 tons of scrap metal have been collected thruout Illinois, on the basis of incomplete returns, and that tons of the vital metal are being shipped to defense plants daily. Regan said there would be a giant rally of salvage workers in Soldiers' field in June.

INSTALMENT XXIX.

RESCUED.

A slow, cold rage was in Chance now as he looked back at the house. He needed proof Martha had talked to Dave and he knew that he would never get it from Martha Macy by force. Gove wouldn't stand for it because Martha Macy was Beth Hilliard's friend.

There was another way. He went back to the house and knocked once on the living room door and stepped inside.

Martha Macy was just lighting the overhead lamp above the living room table, and when she saw Chance she paused, her arms still lifted to raise the lamp.

Chance drawled amiably, "I just come to tell you you don't have to hide it any more. Ask him in next time."

"Hide what?" Martha asked blankly.

Chance nodded toward the timber. "I saw the tracks."

Martha's face altered imperceptibly, and Chance seeing it, was merciless. He said, musingly, "Maybe Wallace was right, and we been on the wrong track."

"What are you talking about?" Martha asked carefully. She lowered her arms slowly, intent now on Chance.

"Maybe Tip wasn't stealin' cattle," Chance said idly. "Kinsley don't think so."

"He doesn't?" Martha asked swiftly.

"Not after what Wallace told him."

"What did he tell him?"

"Just what you told Wallace," Chance drawled.

"You mean Wallace——" Martha stopped, some inner caution warning her. But it was too late. She saw Chance's bleached eyes come wholly alert, lose their amiability. She'd been tricked.

"So you saw him," Chance drawled.

"I don't know what you're talking about."

Chance came slowly around the table now, and faced her.

"When was this?" he asked thinly.

Martha said coldly, "Careful, Arnie. It's none of your business what I do or ever have done."

"What did you tell him?"

Martha didn't answer.

Chance reached out and grabbed her by the wrist and twisted her arm around behind her back. She couldn't fight against the quiet strength of him, and when he bent her arm back she cried in pain.

"What did you tell him?" Chance repeated.

The door came open then and Pete Framm stepped into the room. Chance looked up at the sound of the door opening, and he was utterly motionless as Pete came slowly up to the table.

Pete Framm said quietly, ominously, murderously, "Get away from her, Chance.'

Arnie Chance let go her arm. His face was bland, almost amused, and he stepped away from her, not even looking at her.

Chance said idly, "Next time you burst in on a man and wife, you better knock."

Pete Framm's face had been tense with wildness. But now, the shock of what he had heard washed out the anger, and he turned amazed eyes on Martha.

It was for that moment Chance had been waiting. He raised a leg and kicked savagely at the table. Sliding, it caught Pete Framm across the hips and jackknifed him across it and then he fell, clawing awkwardly for his gun.

Chance dived at him and landed square on his chest with both knees. It drove the wind from Pete's lungs with a great soughing groan, and then Chance slashed down at his unprotected chin with a swift, savage hook. Pete's head turned under the blow, and Chance hooked in another blow with his left hand, catching Pete flush on the shelf of the jaw.

Then, carefully, he came off Pete Framm, who did not move a muscle.

Chance looked wickedly at Martha and said, "When he wakes up, tell him he's thru here."

He went silently out the door, heading swiftly for the corral.

Martha, her terror draining away now, came over and knelt by Pete Framm. She shook him by the shoulders and tried to rouse him, but could not. In panic, she thought he might be dead, and then she calmed herself long enough to think of water. She ran into the kitchen and came back with a basin of water and doused it on Pete's face.

Slowly, taking minutes, it seemed, he opened his eyes. She was kneeling beside him now, watching him.

When he tried to sit up, she helped him. He sat there a moment, his eyes dull, shaking his head from side to side. He essayed to stand now, and again Martha helped him, guiding his hand to the edge of the overturned table to brace him.

Erect, Pete drew three deep breaths, shook his head sharply, and then his eyes came into focus.

He looked searchingly at Martha and said slowly, "Was that right? What he said?"

"It was a rotten lie to trick you!" Martha said vehemently.

Pete wheeled and lunged for the door and had it halfway open when Martha said, "He's gone. It's no use, Pete."

Pete stopped, then closed the door slowly and looked over at her.

"What a sucker I am," he said bitterly.

There was a pitying sympathy in Martha's face, and Pete came over to her. "Did he hurt you?"

"No, no," she said quickly. She was watching him with wide, luminous eyes, as if slowly something was being revealed to her.

"Why did you do that, Pete?" she asked in a low voice.

"I been kinda' lookin' out for you," Pete said soberly. "You figured I would, after what I said to you that night in the hotel kitchen, didn't you?"

Martha's glance fell, and she did not answer him, only said, "He told me you were thru here, Pete."

"So are you," Pete said flatly. "I don't aim to leave you where he can reach you."

Martha looked up at him, and the corners of her eyes were wet.

Seeing it, Pete asked awkwardly. "What's the matter?"

"I don't know." She turned away. "I guess—it's just—well, I'm not used to hearing anything like that."

"You're goin' to hear plenty more of it from me," Pete said quietly. "Now tell me where I can take you that he can't reach you,"—and he added, almost shyly—"Martha."

* *

Chance tied his horse at the tie rail in front of the hotel and looked speculatively at the lamplit Olympus. Had the word about Wallace's break reached town yet? It didn't matter, only he would like to know.

Deliberately, he tramped up the hotel steps and went into the lobby.

Hyam was behind the corner desk, a newspaper spread out on the counter before him, reading.

When he looked up and saw Chance, he folded the newspaper and quietly laid it aside and said, "Evening," his voice questioning, faintly sardonic.

Chance nodded and put his elbows on the desk and regarded Hyam with a kind of amiable indifference. "The boss wants to see you," he murmured.

"Bring him in."

Chance shook his head. "Won't do."

"I'm to go to him, eh?" Hyam asked dryly. "I'll bet he's outside of town, waiting for me in the dark."

"With a gun."

Chance smiled. "That's a chance a man takes when he sticks his nose into a stranger's business." He added dryly, "Carry a gun yourself, if it'll make you feel better."

"I will, my friend," Hyam murmured. "It'll make me feel better, too. Where do I meet him?"

"Where the sawmill road forks off."

Chance nodded and turned away from the desk, and Hyam said then, "Some news just came up from Vermillion that might interest you."

IT'S EASY TO GIVE A FESTIVE TOUCH TO EASTER PARTY

Here Are Suggestions for Holiday Menus.

Any holiday is a good excuse for a celebration, and Easter time is no exception to the rule. It's a joyous occasion and one that brings family and friends together in party moods.

Since food will be an important item for the affair, let it be served in a decorative way. Lend a touch of spring to the table setting with a centerpiece of bright yellow jonquils arranged in a pale green or white bowl. Tall yellow candles and a snowy white or pastel cloth will carry out the color scheme effectively.

Let these menus come to your aid in choosing foods for the occasion.

Easter Lily Sponge Rolls.

Prepare jelly roll batter and spread in a thin layer, not more than ¼ inch thick, in a greased baking pan lined with waxed paper. Bake as usual and turn out the cake on a cloth sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Remove the paper and trim the crusty edges of the cake quickly. Cut cake in pieces, 4x5 inches, and roll each piece, cornucopia fashion, into an "Easter lily." Fasten edges together with toothpicks. When cool, fill with sweetened berries or other fruit folded into whipped cream. Remove toothpicks and serve on dessert plates.

†Gelatin Easter Eggs.

Make a hole about as large as a pencil in the small end of each fresh egg. With a long needle, mix yolk and white so they come out of the shells easily. Rinse shells with cold water. Prepare different flavors of colored gelatin according to directions on the package, and fill eggshells with the mixtures when cool. [A small funnel or pastry tube may be used.] Set eggs on ends in container and chill until firm. Break away shells carefully and serve in nests of shredded coconut. Garnish with chopped fruits if desired.

‡Ice Cream Eggs in Cake Baskets.

Cut thin slices from tops of white or gold cupcakes and hollow out centers. Fill with ice cream "eggs" in several colors, packing cream with small spoon to make egg shapes. Use a long strip of candied orange peel or angelica to make handles for the baskets, and tie a narrow ribbon bow on each handle. Handles may be prepared well ahead of time.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

For her colorful and delicious molded salad, Mrs. L. J. Cohn, 1810 West Wisconsin avenue, Milwaukee, wins today's prize of $5. If you like your salad mild rather than tart, cut down on the vinegar in this recipe slightly. The amount of sugar may then be lessened, also.

Be sure to send in that pet recipe of yours. It, too, may win the $5 prize given daily in the Mary Meade contest. Write it legibly, with ingredients listed in the order of use, giving only level, standard measurements and making directions complete and clear.

Molded Carrot Salad.
[Serves six.]

- ½ cup seedless raisins
- ½ cup vinegar
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 2 eggs, beaten well
- 1 tablespoon horseradish
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1 teaspoon onion salt
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 cups grated raw carrots
- ½ cup sweet pickle, finely cut
- 1 cup mayonnaise

Cover raisins with boiling water. Let stand 5 minutes and drain. Combine vinegar, sugar, and salt, and bring to boil. Remove from heat, add gelatin, which has been softened in the cold water, and stir until dissolved. Pour while hot over the beaten eggs, beating constantly. Add raisins and remaining ingredients, except mayonnaise, and cool. When thickened, but not yet firm, fold in mayonnaise. Turn into molds which have been rinsed in cold water, and chill until firm. Serve on salad greens without additional dressing.

For the Children's Easter Party

For the children's Easter party, serve tiny decorated cakes with tall glasses of chilled pineapple juice colored with cranberry juice ice cubes.

Upside Down Corn Cake Uses That Leftover Ham

How about an upside down corn cake to use those leftover scraps of cooked ham? Line the bottom of the baking pan with chopped ham, pour corn bread batter over, and bake as usual. Turn upside down to remove from pan, and cut into squares. Serve hot with green pea or mushroom sauce.

Don't Discard Orange Pulp in Extracting Fruit's Juice

Don't discard the valuable pulp from oranges when you're squeezing the fruit for juice. Strain the juice thru a coarse sieve to remove the seeds, then press the pulp thru with a spoon.

Grapefruit Juice and Jelly Make a Refreshing Drink

Here's a healthful, refreshing drink: Squeeze the juice from a grapefruit, add a teaspoonful of currant jelly; shake in a covered container until foamy, strain, and serve in a tall glass.

Tradition, not price, will guide the food shopper on her trip to market this week-end, because prices are up. The question of lamb or ham for Easter dinner comes up again, but serve whichever is the favorite at your house, because both are being featured in the stores.

Tradition, too, will be reason enough for buying eggs, tho there may be fewer painted eggs than usual in the annual Easter egg hunts. Wholesale egg prices remain at the same high level as last week, but some stores are offering them a trifle lower as a bargain feature.

Leg of lamb should be starred for your moderately priced Sunday dinner. Ham will cost several cents more per pound than the lamb, but it is festive and can be used for appetizing leftover dishes later in the week.

Ham Shanks Less Expensive.

Ham shanks are considerably less expensive than ham butts and their price is relatively the same at stores thruout the city. If you don't want to go to the trouble of baking the ham yourself, the cooked hams are offered at an attractive price this week-end.

Don't let the rest of the week go begging because of Sunday dinner, for there are other meat buys to consider. Lamb shoulder chops, pot roast, boiling beef, ground beef, lamb shoulder roast, and Long Island ducks belong in the low moderate price range, and breast of lamb is the only cut to mention in the inexpensive class.

In a higher moderate price group are beef rib roast, smoked picnics, cooked picnics, frankfurters, pork sausage, boneless veal roll, frying and roasting chickens, and lamb rib chops.

One Steak Cut Suggested.

Steak, which has enjoyed a place in the bargain limelight for many weeks, is higher priced now, except for one cut, the porterhouse, which borders on being inexpensive. Loin lamb chops cost the same per pound as steak.

Wholesale prices of butter have risen 2 cents, which probably will mean you'll pay a bit more for it retail. Some stores, however, are featuring it with eggs, and the change won't be felt until the beginning of next week.

Only a few fish can be mentioned as reasonably priced right now. Sauger pike is the best fresh water buy, and frozen halibut, frozen salmon, rosefish fillets, and fresh shrimp make up moderate salt water bargains. Trout and whitefish are plentiful, but because of the great demand at this time they are slightly high. Fish prices promise to drop soon, however.

Most Fruits Cost More.

Most fruits cost a little more this week-end, including apples, oranges, and pears in the moderate group. Oranges, however, are still a good buy. Grapefruit continues to keep its low price and good quality. Apples of the Baldwin and Willow Twig varieties haven't changed in price, but Delicious, Rome, and Winesap apples from the northwest have risen slightly.

Avocados are still an excellent buy. There is a range in strawberry quality, and prices are high. The Louisiana strawberry crop is expected to arrive before long, and then the season will really get under way.

• If you want something extra special for the holiday dinner, South American honeydew melons are available, tho expensive. Cuban pineapple, too, is expensive.

Best vegetable buys are beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, sweet potatoes, and spinach. Carrots cost even a trifle less than last week. Lettuce of all sizes is lower in price, so be sure to serve plenty of salads. If you want a change of salad greenery, endive and escarole also are reasonable.

If you are watching the price of asparagus, it has come down a bit, but give it a while longer to get out of the luxury class. Broccoli has gone up, as have green peas, white potatoes of all varieties, and tomatoes. Dandelion greens from Texas are on the market at a reasonable price. First Florida cucumbers are now on the market, but are high priced. There are still hothouse cucumbers.

Rutabagas cost less now, and radishes are still a good buy. Take home some more rhubarb, a moderately priced food, for sauce or pie.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Team Work

An Easter Ham Glazed with Honey

Instead of the usual sugar crusted Easter ham, this one has been attractively glazed with honey. Corn or maple sirup or currant jelly also will produce an effective glaze.

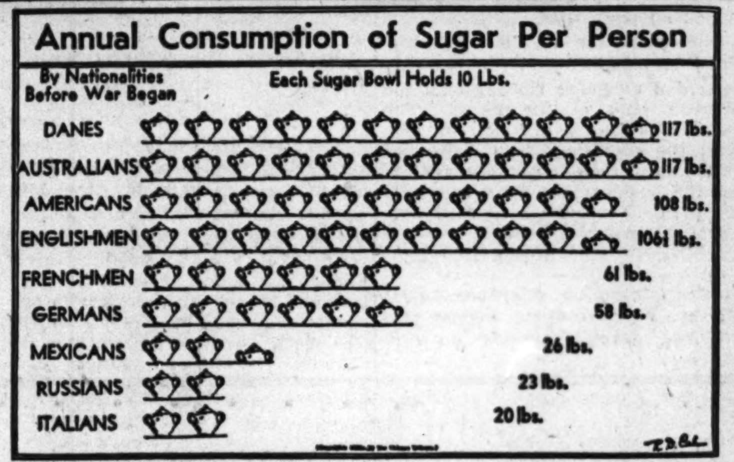
A SPINACH RING ADDS COLOR TO EASTER DINNER

Choose a nest of tender young spinach, shaped in a ring mold, for the Easter dinner table. This colorful vegetable is a nutritious one, and its flavor blends well with baked ham and candied sweets.

Spinach Ring.
[Servies six.]

3 cups chopped cooked or canned spinach
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups thick white sauce
½ cup soft bread crumbs
2 eggs, separated
Salt, pepper

Cook the onion in the butter for several minutes. Add spinach, white sauce, crumbs, and egg yolks, which have been slightly beaten. Mix well and add salt and pepper as necessary. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into the spinach mixture. Turn into a greased ring mold, place the mold in a pan of hot water, and bake at 375 degrees for half an hour, or until the ring is firm. Unmold carefully on a large plate. Garnish with hard cooked egg slices if desired. [Thick white sauce is made with 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons butter, and ¼ teaspoon salt for each cup of milk.]



Flavorsome Rice Stuffing for Roast Lamb Shoulder

Roast cushion shoulder of lamb is more savory than ever when its filled with a flavorsome rice stuffing. Brown ½ cup uncooked rice in 1 tablespoon drippings. Add 1 tablespoon grated onion, 2 cups stock or water, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning. Cover and cook slowly until the rice is tender, about 30 minutes. Remove from heat and add 1 beaten egg. Fill the pocket in the lamb with the stuffing and roast as usual.

Spiced Canned Peaches.

Don't wait for the canning season to prepare spiced peaches. Soak canned peaches in the juice from sweet gherkins, sweet mixed pickles, or spicy sweet pickles, and they're ready to serve.

OLD FASHIONED MEAT PIE SURE TO PLEASE MEN

An old fashioned meat pie, topped with a flaky biscuit crust, makes an economical but tempting meal that the men in the family will request again and again.

Steak and Onion Pie.
[Serves six.]

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups small, whole onions
1 pound round or chuck steak, cut in pieces
¼ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon paprika
Dash of ginger and allspice
2½ cups boiling water
2 cups raw potatoes, diced
½ recipe rich baking powder biscuit dough

Cook onions slowly in melted butter until yellow. Remove from pan. Roll meat in mixture of flour, seasonings, and spices, and brown in the fat. Add boiling water, cover, and simmer until meat is tender. Add potatoes and cook 10 minutes longer. Prepare biscuit dough and roll into a circle about ½ inch larger than the casserole. Pour meat and potatoes into casserole and lay cooked onions on top. Fit biscuit dough over top and seal edge of pie with tines of a fork. Prick dough to permit steam to escape. Bake in a hot oven [450 degrees] for 30 minutes, or until done. Serve immediately.

A Hearty Midnight Snack: It's Called 'Bean Rabbits'

For a hearty midnight snack try "bean rabbits." Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, add one cup of mashed baked beans, and stir over low heat for five minutes. Add one cup of grated cheese, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one half cup hot milk, and a dash of pepper. Cook until the cheese is melted, stirring constantly. Serve at once on hot buttered toast.

Shoestring Carrot Dish.

Next time you open a can of shoestring carrots, toss them into a bowl of seasoned cornmeal and sauté in butter until lightly browned on all sides.

PEAR AND OLIVE SALAD GOOD FOR COMPANY MEAL

Chopped ripe olives and a bit of pickle relish in cottage cheese make an excellent stuffing for pear halves.

Pear-Olive Fruit Salad.
[Serves four.]

⅜ cup chopped ripe olives
½ cup sieved cottage cheese
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish
4 large fresh or canned pear halves
Shredded lettuce
Paprika
Whole ripe olives

Blend chopped olive, cheese, and relish. Arrange pear halves on beds of shredded lettuce. Cover tops with olive-cheese mixture. Sprinkle with paprika and top with whole olive.

Here's a Way to Prepare Sugarless Pastel Frosting

To make a pretty pastel frosting that requires no sugar, combine one half cup tart jelly with one unbeaten egg white and a dash of salt in the top of the double boiler. Cook over hot water, beating constantly, until the frosting will stand up in peaks. Makes enough frosting to cover an eight inch loaf cake.

Butterfly Ham Slices May Be Cooked Several Ways

Butterfly pork chops are nothing new to most cooks, but butterfly ham slices aren't so well known. They're cut from the large piece of the ham butt, and the double slices may be broiled, pan-broiled, or cooked with added liquid as desired.

Peanut Butter and Banana Sandwich Is a Hearty One

To make a hearty sandwich filling for the school lunch box, mix 4 tablespoons peanut butter and 1 mashed banana. Stir in 2 tablespoons raisins, 1 tablespoon each of lemon juice and mayonnaise, ¼ cup diced celery, and ⅛ teaspoon salt. Spread on buttered whole wheat bread.

This Streamlined Pudding Made with Leftover Rice

Here is a streamlined way to make pudding with leftover rice. Prepare packaged vanilla or chocolate pudding according to directions, add a cup or two of cooked rice and ¼ teaspoon of salt, and chill thoroly. Serve with cream.

Needy Mother Requests Help for Her Baby

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Mrs. H. lives in a tiny basement apartment, north and west of the loop. Because she is unable to supply the needs of her infant she recently wrote as follows:

"Dear Miss Brown: I am a young mother—my baby girl is just five weeks old. My husband is now working, but his salary is very small and food and rent take most of it. Since we cannot provide the necessary things for our baby I am forced to call on you for help.

"I am greatly in need of blankets and a small crib as the baby now sleeps in our bed covered with our large blankets. Clothing for her would also be greatly appreciated. Miss Brown, my pride has kept me from writing sooner, but as pride does not cover or provide comfort for my child I now come to you for help."

Mr. H. will be glad to call for any items readers may have to donate, or the address will be provided upon request.

If any mother has a folding baby buggy which she no longer needs for her own child, we would like to have it for another Mrs. H., who lives on the northwest side of the city. She is struggling to bring up a large family alone, since her husband is ill and out of the home. A buggy would help her to care for her small baby and another child under 2 years of age.

Thru the Looking Glass

We know of many business women who avoid perfumes and cologne during working hours because they feel that a perfumed person is not in keeping with the atmosphere of the world in which they spend the better part of their day. We'll admit that the siren scent is the wrong touch, but there are many good fragrances that are correct and can properly be worn during those hours when you are being efficiency itself.

One of the best of these fragrances is a "mountain heather" scent. It's light and refreshing and very clean smelling. It has the right tone to make it at once appealing without being too obviously romantic. It's exactly the right scent to wear with your trim work clothes to give them a perfect feminine balance.

This item comes in perfume, cologne, and dusting powder. We're especially fond of the little atomizer that is available with the cologne. It will help you to use it with discretion and get an even distribution of the scent about your person. The dusting powder rounds out the fragrance very nicely. The scent is remarkable for its lasting quality. Put it on in the morning and you'll be prettily perfumed all day.

The packaging of these preparations is delightful. White heather bells and turquoise ribbons trim the delicate pink of the boxes. The cologne bottle is a Victorian lady with the traditional tiny waist and voluminous skirt. Another feature for the business girl on a budget is the price. Each of the items is happily inexpensive.

Spring Brings Some Brand New Lingerie Ideas to Chicago Shops

BY REA SEEGER.

You can't beat the timing on the spring suit lingerie. With the suit fashions topping all records, here are brand new ideas in the lingerie designed expressly for wear with suits. Since most of these suits are teamed with pastel and white blouses, and most of the newest blouses are rather naughtily sheer, underlayers must be equal to the public glare. And since most fastidious women wear dark colored petticoats and slips under dark wool skirts, the trick has been to find some pastel or immaculate white tops to show under the sheer blouses.

It's easy! In one new lingerie collection you'll find the newest chemise, a very 1942 version of that garment, for it is sleekly tailored, fitted and seamed by experts, and extremely simple as to trim. The newest find consists of a very obliging threesome . . . a snowy white chemise [bra and shorts or panties cut in one single unit] and a short petticoat. The petticoat is of black slippery silk material with a dainty white scalloped edge along the lower line of the hem. There is an elastic band around the waistline and no placket or bulging side closing. There's a black chemise to match, with the white scallops accenting the V bra fitted top.

The same model also comes in white. Buy the three pieces and you are equipped for any costume, an all-black or a black or dark skirt with a sheer blouse.

Wear the dark petticoat with the white chemise for the sheer blouse top of white . . . the all-black duet for the sheer dark blouses and wool skirt. Price for each piece is around $3 and they look twice that expensive.

If you've hunted for a straight cut costume slip there are some honeys for this spring's suits and dresses. They are made of silky material cut precisely on the "beam" and they are guaranteed to fit no matter how you twist and turn, bend or reach. A decorative band of sturdy eyelet embroidery outlines the top. Color range is black, navy, tea rose, and white.

Wearable and Attractive

MISS' SPRING DRESSES.

Today's patterns feature two wearable yet pretty dresses. One is the time-honored jumper with suit blouse. The other is a printed shirtwaist dress with slender midriff.

Style No. 2902 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19. Size 15 requires 2⅝ yards of 39 inch material for jumper; 2 yards for blouse.

Style No. 2607 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern costs 12 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost (coin preferred—wrap it carefully), for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The spring pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

44,493 Tribune Patterns Sold in a Single Month

BY DOROTHY SCHMIDT.

The finger of 1942 women's fashions points toward united economy and smartness, according to figures compiled by the dress pattern department of THE TRIBUNE. Readers purchased 44,493 Clotilde patterns last month, these sales showing an increase of 86 per cent over those for March, 1941, and marking the highest response to the feature for any one month in the last seven years.

These statistics would indicate that women in a wartime era relinquish none of their love of fashion; rather, they consider it vital to look their best at all times, even in the face of voluntary or forced economies in the interest of the war effort. By sewing their own dresses, coats, suits, and lingerie and planning wardrobe integration, they effect real savings.

The popularity of TRIBUNE patterns with readers is further attested by the sales of needlework designs, including knitting, crocheting and embroidery patterns, which totaled 26,070 individual sales in March, bringing the total pattern sales for 1 month to 70,563, the highest monthly sales since the features were inaugurated.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Hall of Defiance, O., announce the engagement of their daughter, Roberta, to Ensign James J. Wallin, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Wallin of Jarvis avenue. Miss Hall was graduated from the Christ Hospital School of Nursing. Ensign Wallin, a graduate of Northwestern university, received his commission from the United States Naval Reserve Training school at the university and is on active duty with the Atlantic fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer Wilde of Columbus, O., formerly of Evanston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Virginia, to Raymond Franklin Bowerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bowerman of Columbus. Miss Wilde attended Rockford college and Northwestern university. Her fiancé, an alumnus of Ohio State university, is connected with the finance office of the war department. The wedding is planned for late spring.

Mrs. Theodore Schuham of Hyde Park boulevard announces the engagement of her daughter, Ruth, to Philip Koller, son of Mrs. Etta Koller of the Southmoor hotel.

Women in War Work . . . . By India Moffett

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Chester W. Hepler, United States employment service director in Illinois, yesterday urged employers engaged in war work to consider with an open mind the employment of women.

"With our armed forces daily growing in volume, the demand for war production will continue to grow in proportion," he said, "and the employment of women in war industries in increasing numbers is inevitable. In general, women will not add to the supply of skilled labor, but they do present a large and promising source of workers for a wide variety of operations.

"The introduction of women workers in industries or plants where they have not previously been employed will often mean that women will actually be put on men's work, and this will not always be a simple placement and training process. British experience has shown that remarkable results can be achieved."

Mr. Hepler also said that mechanical aids can be used to overcome physical limitations for women. For example, in load lifting, roller conveyors, and pedestal lifts are helpful. Tools can be rescaled for women and benches made lower for assembly workers, he said.

A member of the opposite sex has written us in praise of the business girl who does volunteer war work. Guy W. Cooke, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Chicago, believes that "the public does not realize to what extent the business girls of America are making sacrifices and giving up the relatively small amount of leisure which they have in order to help and do their bit."

As an example, he cites the Red Cross unit at the bank. Shortly after Pearl Harbor the women employés established a production unit in the bank building, under the direction of Miss Katherine E. Keane, secretary to the bank president, and Miss Anne McKenna, a physical education teacher on leave from the Chicago public schools. So many women volunteered that the bank made available more than 7,000 square feet of space on the 13th floor which was laid out into a storeroom, office, three well equipped workrooms, and several classrooms.

Katherine Keane. Anne McKenna.

Here 600 women knit, sew, and make bandages for soldiers and refugees. When supplies were curtailed to some extent 278 girls enrolled in first aid classes, 35 in home nursing, and 74 in nutrition, and four are training in Chicago hospitals as nurses' aides. More than 100 women have registered for a new series of classes to begin soon.

Men employés have followed the women's example, and now 140 are enrolled in first aid classes, with 76 more already registered for the next course. All this work is done between 4:30 and 8:30 o'clock after a day's work in the bank. The bank provides light suppers for the workers in addition to supplying the rooms and equipment.

Bearing out Mr. Cooke's report comes the news that five members of the Red Cross unit at the Continental Illinois National bank are taking advantage of the holiday today to donate their blood to the Red Cross. The group includes Mrs. Marie Heiden [chairman of the production unit], Miss Gertrude McNamara, Miss Mabel Harris, Miss Evelyn Gruber, and Miss Mabel Stompe. The Blood Donor center, 624 South Michigan avenue, operates six days a week, regardless of holidays.

A number of well known Chicago women are serving on the women's committee that is coöperating with military and civic leaders to make a success of the Army day dinner of the Military Order of the World War. The function will be given on Army day, next Monday, at the Congress hotel. Mrs. Jacob Baur is chairman of the women's committee and among those working with her are Mrs. Walter J. Cummings, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mrs. Robert H. Adams, Mrs. Orville J. Taylor, Mrs. Alfred P. Shaw, Mrs. Kellogg F[illegible]r bank, and Mrs. Augustus K. Max[illegible]l. The Military Order of the World War is composed of former officers of the first World war.

The army division of Bundles for America has selected Army day as the appropriate time to hold the formal opening of its offices at 424 South Michigan avenue. Mrs. Millard B. Kennedy, chairman, is in charge of the tea to be held from 3 to 5 o'clock. The Artists' association, which has provided the large mural for the office, will have a display of pictures at the tea.

Samples of the khaki colored comfort kits to be distributed by the organization to soldiers in the 6th corps area also will be on display. The kits contain small, personal articles similar to those in the kits distributed to sailors and coast guardsmen by Bundles for Bluejackets, the naval division of Bundles for America.

Miss Kay Keehn is receptionist at the army division office. Other active workers include Mrs. W. G. Morgan and Mrs. W. G. Morgan Jr., chairmen of units; Mrs. Frederic Burnham and Mrs. Allen C. Howes, co-chairmen of layettes, and Mrs. Owen, chairman of booths. Owen Coon and Vincent Yarger are forming a men's board.

Mrs. Lydia Lee, secretary of the Decorators Camp Furnishing fund, announced at a meeting Wednesday that the decorators have completed 62 rooms at Camp Forrest. Altho 125 rooms was the original goal, the decorators found that so many other organizations had been inspired by their work that only 62 rooms were needed at this time.

The decorators intend to continue their work at other camps and naval stations. One of the first new projects will be to furnish and install blackout curtains for eight recreation buildings at Great Lakes at the request of Rear Adm. John Downes. J. Winstanley Briggs, president of the decorators, reported that work has started on furnishing a recreation room and petty officers' room in the Sunny gymnasium at the University of Chicago, under the direction of Mrs. Nina McNally Bingham, assisted by Miss Marjorie Forker, Arthur L. Beverly, and Frank Sheridan. One of the benefits for the project will be a theater opening at the new Surf theater, with Miss Frieda Foltz in charge of arrangements. When the work is completed, the decorators hope to hold a public open house. Donations should be sent to Miss Forker, treasurer, at 700 North Michigan avenue.

Council Group of Bryn Mawr to Meet Here

BY JUDITH CASS.

BRYN MAWR alumnæ are looking forward to a busy week-end April 10, 11, and 12, when the Council of the Alumnae association of the college holds its annual meeting in Winnetka and Lake Forest. The meeting is similar to one that is held in some part of the country every year and will be made doubly interesting by the presence of the president-elect of the college, Katherine E. McBride, as well as President Marion Edwards Park.

Mrs. Willard Boyden is councilor for this district. Other councilor officers of the association and directors of the college, who include Mrs. William G. Hibbard of Winnetka, all will be coming and will stay in the homes of alumnae. Mrs. Laird Bell will be hostess to President Park.

Three Day Gathering to Open with Luncheon.

The three day meeting will be opened with a luncheon at the Onwentsia club, arranged by Mrs. Keith Carpenter and Mrs. Edward K. Welles. Miss McBride will be the guest of honor, and Mrs. Robert M. Lewis of New Haven, Conn., president of the alumnae association, will preside. A meeting will follow at the club and later the delegates will adjourn to the home of Mrs. William B. Hale in Winnetka to meet with the heads of local schools and prospective students. Perry Dunlap Smith, head of the North Shore Country Day school, will preside, and Millicent Perry McIntosh, headmistress of the Brearley school, will lead a discussion.

There will be a meeting Saturday morning at Mrs. Gilbert H. Scribner's, followed by luncheon for the council members at Mrs. Hibbard's, another meeting in the afternoon, and a dinner for President Park at the Indian Hill club. After a meeting at the North Shore Country Day school on Sunday morning Mrs. Bell will entertain the council at luncheon. All meetings are open to Bryn Mawr alumnae.

Sister Will Be Guest of Mrs. Robert Orr.

Among the hostesses to delegates will be Mrs. William Burry Jr., Mrs. J. Andrews King, Mrs. Stephen Gregory Jr., Mrs. Samuel H. Greeley, Mrs. Philip W. Moore, and Mrs. Robert Orr, whose guest will be her sister, Miss Margaret Augur, head of the Kingswood school near Detroit.

The Charles S. Deweys have come from Washington, D. C., while congress is adjourned, to spend Easter here and to remain until after the primaries, provided congressional business does not call Rep. Dewey east in between times. The Deweys are staying at the Racquet club. Their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Jr., are expected from New Jersey to spend Easter with her grandmother, Mrs. William O. Goodman, and to worship at St. Chrysostom's church with the senior Deweys on Easter morning. Rep. and Mrs. Dewey will have breakfast at the Casino on Sunday and then will go to Lake Forest for supper with their daughter, Mrs. Edward B. Smith, and Mr. Smith, who will worship at the Lake Forest Presbyterian church.

The former Suzette Dewey, now Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr., is in Palm Beach. Her husband, now Lieut. Alger, U. S. N., is on a Pacific isle. A. Peter Dewey is in the office of inter-American affairs in Washington.

Frederick Sargent II. to Be Married April 18.

Invitations have been received to the marriage on April 18 of Miss Virginia White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Comings White of Schenectady, N. Y., and Frederick Sargent II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sargent of Chicago. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock in the evening in the First Reformed church, Schenectady, with a reception following at the Van Culer hotel.

Miss Jane Sargent, sister of the bridegroom, will be maid of honor. She is attending the Stuart school in Boston. Ralph Sargent Jr. will be an usher for his brother. The best man will be Robert Cunningham of Cambridge, Mass., who was a classmate of the bridegroom at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. Sargent and his bride will be at home in Brooklin while he continues his work in the School of Medical Science at Harvard university. Mr. and Mrs. Sargent will leave on April 16 for the wedding.

Her Husband's Idea for an Easter Bonnet

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Robert C. Fox will not be wearing this hat on Easter, but it is her husband's idea of a new spring bonnet and by designing it he won the first prize in a contest the J-Birds held at a party last Saturday night at the Lake Shore club. Mr. Fox used a large handkerchief and a lamp shade as the foundation, and the trimming consists of a camellia, daisies, grapes, string beans, onions, and carrots.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

Think!

The motto of the company for which she works is "THINK."

In the offices are signs. . . over the desks . . . on the walls . . . "THINK."

That is exactly what this young woman did. And her thinking led her into an interesting job—one of the 46 customer instructors for a manufacturer of business machines.

She had thought so much about the company, had informed herself so thoroly about it, that when she applied for a job [with a Northwestern university diploma under her arm] she was sent to Rochester for a training course and then to Endicott, where the main plant is located, for further study.

Her teaching job, she says, is a combination of personnel methods, mechanical ability, and enthusiasm. Not the least important, by any means, is the work she does with handicapped children, especially those who can use the electric typewriter when they can neither write nor use a regular typewriter. She is proud of one of her graduates. He cannot speak a word, but he wrote to his draft board on the electric typewriter. So accomplished was his typing that the draft board thought he was a "dodger" and did not, at first, believe his story.

Work that she did a few years ago at Hull House has been a great help, she feels. "If you can't get anywhere with a group of 2 to 4 year old children, you can't get anywhere with adults," is her conclusion. Another bit of wisdom, surprising in one so young: "I've discovered you can't be one kind of person eight hours a day in business . . . and out of business be another kind."

She and another girl who works for the same company share an apartment.

"Do you have 'THINK' signs at home?" I asked. "But, of course! We put one on top of the oven when we have something cooking," they said.

Stamp Loss.

Each year there is a loss to American business of $10,000,000 thru the lowly postage stamp. Stamps are torn, are insufficiently [or too well] moistened and come loose; stamps are used for personal purposes. Losses occur from inadequate postage, paid on the receiving end.

John McDonald, a former professor of New York university, suggests as a corrective a revision of the accounting system to control the daily stocks of stamps—those purchased, used, and on hand, and more modern, efficient mailing equipment.

Class in Grammar.

"Which is correct?" asks the Voice from the Gallery:

"Mr. Smith's letter, of Smith & Co., has been received."

Or—

"Mr. Smith, of Smith & Co.'s letter has been received."

The former is correct. Mr. Smith wrote the letter, so the possessive is used properly after his name. A better form would be: "The letter from Mr. Smith of Smith & Co."

East and West Meet Today in Lenten Climax

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

East meets west today in Good Friday rites which bring lent to its climax. This year the Julian calendar of Greek, Russian, Serbian, Ukrainian and other Eastern Orthodox churches agrees with the Gregorian calendar of Roman, Anglican, Lutheran, and Protestant churches on the date of Easter. It will be four years before this occurs again.

West and east see the sacrifice of Good Friday, so far as its observance is concerned, with different eyes. Dramatizations of the burial of the crucified Savior mark eastern rites while western Christians make use of variant symbols of sorrow and remembrance—the crêpe veiled cross and crucifix, the quiet meditation, and the service of darkness called Tenebrae.

Greek Orthodox churches often prepared for burial a hand carved likeness of the Savior which is carried in colorful outdoor procession to an interment beneath rose petals. Good Friday rites for the Orthodox are called Epitaphy or lamentations. In fact, the dramatized symbolic burial of Christ is characteristic of all orthodox branches, with the cortège led by the priest within the church. Worshipers kiss the special epitaphy icon at vespers as it reposes on the catafalque.

In addition to the union of east and west on the date, Good Friday this year takes on added significance in the sacrificial aspect of the country at war. All army posts and naval stations have set up special services with Tre Ore and services of reparation for Catholic soldiers, sailors, Marines, and airmen, while Protestant service men will be offered the three hour service and other Good Friday devotions.

Chaplain James C. Fitzgerald will conduct the Catholic hour of reparation tonight in All Souls chapel, Great Lakes Naval Training station. Protestant Maundy Thursday and Good Friday devotions were held last night by Chaplain Frank H. Lash.

At Fort Sheridan, Chaplain Preston P. Murphy will conduct Tre Ore meditations in Chapel No. 1 at 1 o'clock. The three hour Protestant service will begin with an hour of private devotions at noon. The seven meditations beginning at 1 o'clock will be led by Dr. Duncan E. Littlefair, Kenilworth; Dr. Winfield Johnson, Highwood, and Dr. Lester H. Laubenstein, Highland Park.

Dr. Horace G. Smith of Evanston, will conduct a Protestant communion service following the meditations. This will be followed by a Protestant hospital service led by the Rev. A. J. [Dad] Elliott, in ward 712. At 3:15 p. m. a Lutheran communion service will be celebrated in Chapel No. 3 by the Rev. A. C. Bartz of Waukegan. Protestant services at 7:30 will be conducted in Chapels No. 1 and No. 2.

At the Naval Training school [Aviation], Navy Pier, the Catholic Good Friday service will be conducted tonight at 7 o'clock, by Chaplain M. P. Gans. The Protestant service will be held one hour later by Chaplain Philip Nicholas.

One of the largest three hour Protestant services will be conducted by the Chicago Church federation in Chicago temple, 77 West Washington street. The seven meditations will be given by The Revs. Oswald W. S. McCall, William A. Diman, J. W. G. Ward, James L. Horace, Irvin E. Lunger, George M. Gibson, and Louis W. Goebel.

Bishop Wallace E. Conkling of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, will conduct two consecutive Good Friday services in Kimball hall this noon. The first will open at 12:10 and the second at 12:40. Three hour services will be held in the following centrally located Episcopal churches: St.

Carbon and Tape.

A lady we think we know pretty well received a long form from the war department the other day. It was a beautiful and imposing thing, this form, approximately 36 inches long, with a good 200 or more blank spaces on each side, and each side was to be filled out in quintuplet. This latter duty seemed simple enough, as the forms came complete with carbons—very nice ones, too—neatly pegged into place with lovely perforations.

Filling out the form was not as difficult as it was tedious. With no police record, alien activities, or history of espionage to report, the lady stumbled only on such involved questions as "organizations of which you have been a member since 1930—character" and when you joined or why you quit. Having been a member of few, if any, and unable to spell the Greek names of those she once was elected to for purely academic purposes, this was a teaser. Nevertheless, the whole form at last was completed. It had taken three hours.

And every carbon had been in reverse position, so that each of the 400 oddments of information was blurred on its backdoor neighbor.

The operator of this column can vouch for the authenticity of this noble experiment, for she was the victim—or the culprit. In passing it brings to mind a recently garnered tidbit of knowledge: The British war office has officially substituted white tape for red.

Flight into Spring.

At 6:45 yesterday morning, when Michigan avenue was windswept and bare, we rushed across it to the Drake to take a bus to the airport. It was a raw, windy, bone chilling dawn. At the airport the armed guard pacing back and forth with his bared bayonet wore a bright red nose and a heavy wool muffler.

Behind him—a mute, unconscious parody—marched a WPA worker, his step in exact rhythm, his shovel an exact parallel with the bayonet, his muffler longer, but no less unruly. . . . At 10 we were in St. Louis in a snowstorm. . . . At 12:03, having looked down on an earth [how neatly we subdivide our little world] subtly changing from brown to faint green to heavy green, we were over Memphis, where jonquils seemed yellow tacks as the plane lunged low; red buds, a rose haze thru the parkways; hawthorne, a white cloud on a hillock. In Memphis, altho no one bothers to attend customers' baggage et al, neither does any one bother to collect at magazine stands. "Pay for what you take," the sign over the slot-box said. "Be honest."

Another 54 minutes and we were in Little Rock, Ark., where boys sauntered along in shirt sleeves, soldiers from nearby Camp Robinson tugged uneasily at their war wool collars, the trees are veiled in green with chenille dots, and even hyacinths whiten the ground.

Dr. Stock Offers 'Parsifal' for Holy Week Bill

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The procession of the knights, the Good Friday spell, and the transformation scene from Wagner's "Parsifal" were played with an unearthly beauty of tone by the Chicago Symphony orchestra in Orchestra hall last night. At their conclusion Conductor Frederick Stock waited for several moments before laying down his baton, and the audience understood his silent request and dispersed without applause.

It is curious that a man like Wagner, who certainly did not pattern his life after any known body of Christian teaching, should have achieved in "Parsifal" so exalted an expression of Christian feeling. This, his final music drama, cannot, perhaps, be called Christian in the strict sense of the term, but it could not have existed if Christianity had not existed before it and if its composer had not been sensitive to the enormous ethical and emotional appeal of certain aspects of the Christian tradition.

The "Parsifal" excerpts were preceded by three chorale preludes in an arrangement by Juan José Castro which had never before been played in Chicago, and by the Bruckner fourth ["Romantic"] symphony.

The chorale preludes ["Nun Komm', der Heiden Heiland," "Nun freut euch, lieben Christen g'mein," and "Kommst du un, Jesu, von Himmel Herunter"] have been orchestrated with such sober restraint that their original nobility and austerity have hardly been affected. This is especially true of the first and third.

The Bruckner symphony had no religious reason for its place on the Holy week program, but its modest and serious character and the quiet radiance of some of its themes prevented its mood from clashing with the general mood of the concert.

Passover Celebration.

The downtown branch of the Jewish National Workers' alliance will hold a Passover celebration for members and their friends at 7 o'clock next Tuesday night in the Hamilton hotel.

Good Morning!

It's encouraging!

The whole-souled enjoyment evinced by audiences viewing the Hardy pictures, with their emphasis on the home and family solidarity!

"The Courtship of Andy Hardy" is on a pattern with other films of the series—its events identified with kindly, keen-witted, sympathetic Judge Hardy, motherly Mrs. Hardy, young Marian Hardy, and irrepressible, teen-aged Andy Hardy who, nevertheless, is now really showing signs of growing up. . . .

In this number Marian learns that a big time boy can be the worst sort of a droop; Andy is once more convinced that Polly Benedict outclasses all her rivals for position as his heartbeat, and Judge Hardy, with Andy's help, does some missionary work—bringing together a warring couple and reinstating a home for their unhappy daughter, Melodie. . . .

The film is interesting, often humorous, and always heart warming. . . . The acting is uniformly excellent—tho Judge Hardy, as played by Lewis Stone is—this time as always—my favorite. . . . Charming—that young Donna Reed!

Don't you agree with me that the Hardy family movies are—collectively—one of moviedom's good deeds? And written down on the credit side of St. Peter's ledger?

See you tomorrow.

Conductors, Soloists Are Announced for Season at Ravinia

A complete list of the conductors and soloists who will take part in the 1942 Ravinia festival was released yesterday by the Festival association. Dimitri Mitropoulos will direct the first week of concerts, George Szell the second and third, Eugene Ormandy the fourth, Artur Rodzinski the fifth, and Pierre Monteux the sixth.

Arthur Schnabel, pianist, will appear four times under Szell; Emanuel Feuermann, cellist, twice under Ormandy [once alone and once with the violinist, Josef Szigeti, in the Brahms double concerto]; Szigeti once under Ormandy [with Schnabel] and once under Rodzinski.

The festival will begin Tuesday, June 30. There will be concerts by the Chicago Symphony orchestra each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening, and each Sunday afternoon thru Aug. 9. The Budapest String quartet will give postseason chamber music concerts on Aug. 11, 13, 15, and 16.

The Housewife

Remember the delightful old covered dishes shaped like hens sitting on the nest? They've been revived in some delightful bright yellow pottery ware, and what could be jollier for an informal Easter table? Fill the dish with colored Easter eggs and pop the biddy back in place. Use it as a centerpiece. The children will love it. If you wish, you can also get a lot of little hen dishes to match, or ones shaped like yellow ducks. Prices are most reasonable.

Doris Advises Girl in Love with Employer

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I am 25 and somehow missed all the pleasure that is the usual privilege of girls in their teens. While other girls were having fun attending dances and that sort of thing, I was studying nights to push along more quickly in the business world so that I could better help in the care of a big family. I never had money for clothes to make myself attractive. Well, the years have gone on and except for one brief flurry of romance, men have passed me by completely.

"But now here I am, going on 26, and finding myself in love with my boss, who apparently is very fond of me, yet never has said anything to give me courage or hope. He knows my story and, because of it, he has extended many kindnesses in addition to my well paid work, so that I have been able to accumulate quite a little money thru his advice and suggestions.

"My problem, frankly, is this: I adore the man. I live every working moment for his approval, and I find my every thought is of and for him after hours. He is a grand character all around, married, of course, and father of four sons. I'm afraid that one day I'll blurt out my repressed feelings. Do you think I ought to give up my job, or what?—D. D."

Come now, young woman! Twenty-five isn't a crucial age, nor are good jobs too plentiful not to discipline oneself sternly to avoid anything that might end it for you. And why, young woman, if you had it in you to surmount the difficulties of your earlier days, can't you face this current problem with that same fortitude?

Do something to straighten out your life and those threatening emotions. There's nothing like a change of work, and a constructive one, to balance character.

Pretty Crocheted Rug

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted rugs made from double strands of carpet warp are among the most durable, as well as the most beautiful, hand made rugs. The stitch is utterly simple, and any novice may attempt the pattern without qualms. A new type of heavy cotton is on the market which creates a beautiful scatter rug when used in the single strand.

For instructions in making the rug in a simple single crochet, No. 1092, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Many Civilians Ask to Join Ft. Sheridan Easter Day Services

Fort Sheridan chaplains announced yesterday that many requests have been received from civilians desiring to attend the public Easter service there Sunday morning. The service will open with the bugler's church call at 10:22 in Theater No. 2 and will be broadcast at 10:30 over station W-G-N.

Col. Fredrick C. Rogers, commanding officer of Fort Sheridan, will deliver a brief address. The service to be conducted by Chaplains Clarence Q. Jones and Paul E. Winslow will especially commemorate American service men who have given their lives on the country's world-wide battle front, and will offer intercession for the success of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Pacific command.

Persons wishing to attend are requested to notify the chaplain, Fort Sheridan, Ill., at once by postal card or telegram.

Contract According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

The greatest fault of average players, insofar as the bidding is concerned, is that they lack versatility. When the bidding takes an unusual turn and they themselves have exceptional hands, they cannot discover the right bid to fit the situation. Note the glorious opportunity that South lost in the following deal:

West, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 10 8 6 4 2
♥ 8 5 3
♦ 8
♣ J 9 6 2

WEST
♠ A K Q 9 5 3
♥ 10 7
♦ K 10 9 5
♣ A

EAST
♠ J 7
♥ A K Q 9 6 4 2
♦ 7 4
♣ 8 4

SOUTH
♠ None
♥ J
♦ A Q J 6 3 2
♣ K Q 10 7 5 3

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	Pass	4 hearts	5 diamonds
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

South did not make his final pass until after considerable pondering, but he finally concluded that, to rescue himself at six clubs would be just a shot in the dark and, since it would increase the contract, would not be worthwhile. Perhaps he was right in this philosophy, but the fact is that he had needlessly put himself into a horrible dilemma. His five diamond bid, in itself, had been evidence that South was not prepared to cope with unusual situations. The correct bid, over four hearts, was neither five diamonds nor five clubs, but four no trump, or, as a next best selection, a four spade cue bid.

The beauty of these calls under the circumstances must be apparent. From South's point of view, either five diamonds or five clubs could be a supremely logical contract, which would be fulfilled with very little help from partner. But how could South possibly discover which of these two suits should be selected as trump, without even an inkling of North's hand? Obviously, the answer is that he could not know, and hence should have demanded that North declare his choice. The four no trump [or four spade] call would have just such a demand, both by convention and logic.

The actual five diamond contract met a horrible fate. South was ruffed down on the opening spade lead and was forced again when he knocked out West's club ace. The result was that South did not make even one club trick, and the final score was 1,700 points for East-West. Perhaps South could have saved a few of these points by more careful play, but this is scarcely important considering the tremendous advantage of the five club contract that should have been reached. As will be noted, five clubs would have been an absolute laydown.

Denying Teen Age Dates Is Wrong Course

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The girls [middle high school years] write me because their mothers won't let them have anything at all to do with boys; or because they never will allow them to go out anywhere with a boy. The mothers write me that they don't know what to do, but to be on the safe side have refused to allow their daughters "dates" of any kind. These latter tactics are not the answer, and the mothers, even as they write, realize it.

This kind of special interest in boys comes to some girls much earlier than to others. It may be due to their individual temperaments or to the influence of their companions.

But if, opposed to boy friendships, parents of young girls are faced with a situation that they find hard to control successfully, the chances are it will be wiser to yield something. Certainly the open association of boys and girls is infinitely superior to rebellion or a tendency to clandestine meetings, just because the desire is so strong in them for boy and girl companionship.

For the young girl [and I will not set an age because it isn't humanly possible] who has reached this point, home should be made the base of operations, as you might say. Small parties, invitations to supper, and informal gatherings at one of the young person's houses set the seal of approval, and make it possible, too, for you to know your daughter's friends.

Many fathers of daughters who are just beginning to go out prefer to call for them at the end of the evening and escort them home; or an older brother could perform this same service.

After all, parents must realize that boys aren't "poison," altho some of them act as tho they were. Mothers and fathers sometimes go too far in sheltering their daughters or trying to keep them young. They set up a taboo about the other sex which is not conducive to simple, wholesome relationships. The reason which, in some cases, underlies parents' strict prohibitions is the fear of unfortunate sex experiences. While idealism and a natural fastidiousness are great safeguards, all young people should have what we call "sex education."

Pointe, Mich., home of Mrs. William P. Hamilton, her son, David Osborne Hamilton, announced the engagement of his daughter, Margaret Bentley, to Richard Shepard Barrows, son of Col. and Mrs. Ralph Gillett Barrows of Detroit, formerly of Boston. Miss Hamilton is a granddaughter of Mrs. Cyrus Bentley and she and her father and sister, Elizabeth, lived with Mrs. Bentley until a few years ago. Miss Hamilton attended the Francis W. Parker school here, St. Timothy's school, and Sarah Lawrence college, and made her debut in Detroit in 1940. She is a provisional member of the Detroit Junior league.

Mr. Barrows, a junior at Harvard, has enlisted in the navy, but will not receive his training until after he is graduated from the university next January. The wedding will not take place until he has received his commission.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra arranged a special Easter program for its concert last night and this afternoon in Orchestra hall.

Cordon to Open Exhibit of Paintings at Its Tea.

Because today is Good Friday, the Cliff Dwellers have not asked any one in particular to pour at tea following the concert. The Cordon will open an exhibit of paintings and sculpture by Flora Schofield at its symphony tea. The Alliance Française did not have its usual Thursday causerie yesterday, Maundy Thursday, nor will it meet tomorrow for the usual Saturday lecture.

One of the latest commissions to be awarded a young Chicagoan is in the hands of Richard Bernays, the middle one of the three sons of Lewis Bernays, British counsul general. Ensign Bernays and his wife won't know until his orders come thru whether they'll be leaving Chicago.

The Mount Vernon Seminary association will meet for tea at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the home of its president, Mrs. James R. Wilson, in Glenview. The special guest will be Miss Agnes De Larro, who has come directly from the school in Washington.

Hinsdale Welfare Group Giving Party April 29.

The annual spring card party and luncheon of the Hinsdale Senior Center of the Infant Welfare society will be held on April 29 at the Katherine Legge Memorial home on South County Line road, Hinsdale. During the luncheon there will be a fashion show. "Care of the health and well being of future generations must be continued," the Hinsdale center feels, so it is redoubling its efforts to support the vital work of the society. Mrs. Russell M. Smith is general chairman of the benefit. Mrs. Lester B. Converse is president of the center.

The Cradle, in Evanston, will receive the proceeds from a rummage sale to be held from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 in the evening on April 23 in the Evanshire hotel building, Evanston.

FASHIONS

By ANGELA

Here is a store where coats and suits are a specialty. You will find men's suitings made up into ladies' tailored costumes. There are still 100 per cent virgin woolen fabrics available for the buyers who appreciate value of this kind. Simple tailored things for the tailored woman, dressy things for the feminine minded, showy pieces for the less conservative.

In a firm twill or soft wool crêpe is the popular tailored two piece suit, but differing from the classic model by the simple trick of draped shawl collar. It is a smooth fitting suit, simple gored skirt. And just a single link fastener at the waistline. Color range: Red, dark green, turquoise, brown, beige. Under $30.

You are not seeing double. The three piece suit in the center of the illustration is made of gray men's wear suiting with a white pinstripe. The suit and the coat are made from the same pattern and you can buy either one or both as your needs require. It also comes in a brown pinstripe. And it is 100 per cent virgin wool.

Fullness, softness, and quantities of braid trimming combine to make this a dressy coat. The one modeled for the artist was a fine rich red. But we saw customers looking at it in a warm beige color, too.

League of Women Voters' Department Meets Today

The department of government and foreign policy of the Cook County League of Women Voters will meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning in league headquarters, 225 North Michigan avenue, with Mrs. Paul S. Van Auken presiding. In the afternoon there will be a study class on post-war plans at 1 o'clock and a civilian defense session at 2.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., April 2.—As most always happens, a studio is having trouble with an actor. In the executive lunchroom some of the executives were stewing about it, and one of them was sounding off.

"I don't know why we have to have actors, anyhow," he said. "Anybody can do that stuff." He looked down the line, pointed at a man and said, "What's your name?" This was funny enough, for the pointee had been a writer on the lot for years. He told his name.

"You're a nice looking fella," said the big shot. "You could do that stuff as good as any star."

"But," cut in another executive, "suppose we do make an actor out of him. Pretty soon we'll be having as much trouble with him as we are now with our star."

This sad truth sank in in a moment. So the first executive fixed the poor writer with an indignant glare and roared, "The hell with you, too!"

The day after Lew Ayres went to a conscientious objectors' camp, not a movie man I talked to spoke of him bitterly. All thought him foolish, all regretted the end of a career and the fatal damage to the popular "Dr. Kildare" series; all thought he could have found some war work that would fit his conscience. But every one expressed respect for his intellectual courage, even though they thought it misguided.

"It won't be easy," said one. "He'll be swinging an ax 40 hours a week."

"Shucks," said another. "They been doing it 45 hours a week at RKO!"

Frank Nugent has a new contract at 20th-Fox and joins the executive staff as trouble shooter on scripts. . . . Milton Berle has rented two neighboring Bevhills houses—one for self and wife, one for ma. . . . Arline Judge's 4 year old, Danny, told his mother about a star being rejected for the army. "He's got high blood pleasure," reported Danny. . . . Walter Brennan, playing Gary Cooper's ghost writer and best friend in "The Pride of the Yankees," has been Coop's pal in five other pix—"Wedding Night," "Cowboy and Lady," "Westerner," "John Doe," and "York." . . . Sunday's Easter sunrise services at the Hollywood bowl will be ghostly, account of wartime ban on crowds. Rise Stevens and Bette Davis will lead 250 persons in musical and dramatic services on the bowl's stage, but there will be no audience. Instead a world-wide broadcast. Miss Stevens will sing "Agnus Dei" and Miss Davis will present "The Star Spangled Banner" as a dramatic poem.

Darryl Zanuck, who was a regular Sunday polo player at the Riviera until the war emergency, is giving his six costly ponies to the army remount service, and they'll be used at West Point. . . . 20th-Fox is preparing a submarine picture, "Crash Dive," most of which will be made at the sub base at New London, Conn. . . . Pare Lorentz, whose first RKO flicker is "Name, Age, and Occupation," leaves soon for Nashville to get Tennessee and North Carolina background stuff. And he'll have another crew working in Detroit. . . . Whitney Bolton, drumbeater for David O. Selznick, presented correspondents with 50 rubber trees yesterday.

Wedding

The marriage of Miss Jane Steffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Earl Steffey of Berwyn avenue, to Sergt. George M. Leonard will take place on April 11 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Miss Steffey'se sister, Shirley, will be her maid of honor. George Stober will serve as best man. After a wedding trip to New York and Washington, D. C., Sergt. Leonard will take his bride to a southern army post, where he is stationed in the detachment medical department.

SOX WIN, 5-4; CUBS LOSE, 2-1; CLASH TODAY

SOUTH SIDERS END PITTSBURGH STREAK AT SIX

Three Errors in 7th Inning Help.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Yuma, Ariz., April 2.—The White Sox, possibly with the idea of tuning up for renewal of strife tomorrow with their favorite enemy—the Cubs—finally dusted off the Pirates today, a feat that was considerably overdue. James Dykes' boys, who were more than a little irked over being thumped six times in a row by the National leaguers, broke the spell by achieving a 5 to 4 success in the seventh and final engagement of their spring series.

Dykes guessed right on what his two left handers, Eddie Smith and Thornton Lee, might do with the Pirate hitters, who have been mauling the ball all over the west coast. The two lefties, however, encountered complications in a different spot. Luke Appling reached his 33d birthday today and, either because of excitement over the event, or a desire to celebrate, he was of little worth as a fielder. Luke messed up a couple of plays and thereby was directly responsible for three of the Pirate runs.

Luke Helps Offense, Too.

While Appling was guilty of generosity, he did compensate in one way. He touched off a scratch hit, which, with the help of Taft Wright and Myril Hoag, gave the Sox the only two runs they scored while Hank Gornicki was doing a five inning job. After Gornicki had completed his turn, Frankie Frisch introduced Lloyd Dietz and the Pirates immediately set out to show that when it is a matter of errors, they can do as well, if not better than anybody. They bunched three blunders in the seventh to give the Chicagoans a lead that Lee protected to the finish.

Dykes had his rookie first sacker, Murrell Jones, in action again from start to finish and the young man's bat came in quite handy. He was limited to one single but he saved it for a most opportune moment. That was in the seventh, when the bags were filled, the last two runs going home on his batting effort. There was only one other hit in the decisive inning and this was by Dario Lodigiani, one of the several shock troopers rushed into the battle by Dykes.

A Hit Starts Trouble.

Smith confined the Pirates to one hit in the first two innings and yielded only one in the third, but the latter was enough to put the foe in the run column. The hit bounced off Ed Leip's bat to start the inning. Al Lopez grounded to Appling, and a double play might have followed if Luke hadn't had one of his spells. He tossed wide to Don Kolloway at second, so Leip kept right on moving toward third; he scored from there while Gornicki was forcing Jim Kerr, who ran for Lopez. Smith completed the inning without further difficulty.

The Sox worked themselves into a 2 to 1 lead against Gornicki in the fourth, but it was more a matter of good fortune than skill. With one gone, Appling slapped a slow roller to Gornicki, who stumbled, thus converting the item into a base hit. Wright lifted a tall fly into the right center field sector and both Culley Rikard and Johnny Barrett had ideas of making the catch, but instead backed away, the ball falling for a double and Appling stopping at third. They skipped for home on Hoag's single to left. Leip was the first Pirate up in the fifth and poked an every day grounder to short. This was where Appling erred again. Bill Baker piled a single on top of the error and both fellows stepped ahead a notch on Gornicki's sacrifice.

More Grief for Lefty.

Leip loped home on Al Anderson's fly to Wally Moses and a single by

Hollywood Is Victor, 3 to 2; Root Pitches

Hollywood, Cal., April 2 [Special].—Two runs down after two innings of play, Hollywood's Stars came back fighting to defeat Oakland's Acorns, 3 to 2, before 6,500 tonight in a Pacific Coast league opener.

Thus Oscar Vitt's new start as Hollywood manager and Charley Root's return to the minors were ushered in most auspiciously—but Manager Johnny Vergez of the visiting Oaks almost spoiled the party.

Vergez Hits Home Run.

Vergez, who put himself back in the lineup at third base after transferring Mel Duezabou to the outfield, brashly parked one of Root's pitches over the left field fence in the second inning after Marv Gudat hit the first of three singles he collected during the evening.

Root was tapped for eight hits, but struck out seven and walked only one.

There was a military aspect at the opening ceremonies. Adm. John W. Greenslade, commandant of the 12th naval district, threw out the first ball in San Francisco. At San Diego Rear Adm. Ralston Holmes, 11th naval district commandant, tossed out the first ball.

San Francisco Wins.

In addition to Root, two other Chicagoans of late seasons pitched today, but on a losing side. Jess Dobernic and Ken Raffensberger, formerly of the Sox and Cubs, respectively, were hit hard as San Francisco beat Los Angeles, 10 to 6. Scores:

GLEN HARMESON TO QUIT JOB AS LEHIGH COACH

Bethlehem, Pa., April 2 (AP).—Glen W. Harmeson, former Purdue halfback who came to Lehigh in 1934, is thru as football coach at Lehigh university, Dr. C. C. Williams, president of the university said tonight.

Dr. William said Harmeson would continue as athletic director until Sept. 1. He declined further comment. In 1941 Lehigh failed to win a single game for the first time since 1884, losing six and tying three. In 1940 Lehigh won two and lost seven games.

Kurtsinger Gets Broken Leg in Fall Off Horse

Louisville, Ky., April 2 (AP).—Charley Kurtsinger, 35 year old jockey, who rode Twenty Grand and War Admiral to victories in the Kentucky Derby, received a broken left leg today in a fall from a horse he was breezing at Churchill Downs.

Kurtsinger has been exercising to get in shape for a comeback in hopes of equaling the Derby record of three winners each, held by Isaac Murphy and Earl Sande.

While working the 2 year old Dave Shaw over the Downs oval, Kurtsinger's saddle slipped and Charley was thrown under the horse's hoofs. At St. Joseph's hospital Kurtsinger was found to have a compound fracture of the left leg.

DODGERS SEND TATUM, HOWELL, BURGE TO ROYALS

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 2 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers sent Outfielder Tom Tatum, Catcher Dixie Howell, and First Baseman Les Burge to Montreal of the International league today under optional agreements, and loaned Catcher Herman Franks to the same club.

As the Dodgers prepared to break camp, it was announced that six players would remain here and work out with the Montreal team, rejoining the Brooklyn squad at Charlotte, N. C., Monday. They are Kirby Higbe, Fred Fitzsimmons, Johnny Allen, Les Webber, John Kraus, and Charley Gilbert.

U.S. May Take Arms Stocks, Dealers Told

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—J. S. Knowlson, director of industry operations of the war production board, wrote to firearm dealers and wholesalers today that their stocks of shotguns, pistols, and rifles might be requisitioned unless there are satisfactory results from a government offer to buy the firearms suitable for guards at munitions plants and similar requirements.

Sales of firearms have been halted by edict since Feb. 27 except to local, state, and federal governments or to lease-lend authorities for export to allied countries. The Defense Supplies corporation, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, is offering to buy the remainder of the stocks that are suitable for government use. A nation-wide inventory is under way.

A statement from the governmental requirements bureau said that as soon as inventory report forms are tabulated, steps will be taken to unfreeze the stocks which the government does not need.

SAILOR COCHRAN ACCEPTS BID TO BELOIT RELAYS

Beloit, Wis., April 2 [Special].—Louis E. Means, director of the Beloit relays, announced today that Roy Cochran, middle distance track star now stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training station, has agreed to run in a special 600 yard service men's race at the sixth annual Beloit relays May 1.

Cochran will compete against runners from Fort Sheridan, Fort Custer, Camp Grant, Chanute field, Scott field, and the Savanna ordnance depot, all of which have been invited to enter.

These encampments have also been invited to enter teams in the service men's mile relay, another addition to the program this year.

Five junior colleges in the Chicago area have entered the junior college relay. They are Wright, Morton, North Park, La Grange, and Wilson.

Bloomington, Ill., April 2 [Special].—Dick Woehr, short stop from Fort Wayne, Ind., who was selected captain of this year's Illinois Wesleyan university nine, has signed with the Cincinnati Reds, it was announced today. He will be sent to the Columbia [S. C.] club in the South Atlantic league.

DODGERS LEAVE CAMP; BID FOR NEWSOM CHILLS

Team Appears Stronger Than Year Ago.

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 2 (AP).—The filibuster surrounding an effort by the Brooklyn Dodgers to obtain Buck Newsom lingers on, but all parties concerned insisted today the deal is dead.

In Orlando, Manager Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators said the husky pitcher looked in fine shape and that he did not intend to part with him, and here at the Dodgers' headquarters various club spokesmen asserted that everybody had been hoping to make a fortune off Brooklyn and that the whole affair had chilled.

Originally Detroit offered Newsom to Brooklyn for cash, but the Senators and St. Louis Browns refused to waive on him. After Washington bought him, President Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers made a proposition to the Senators and was turned down.

Red Tape Kills It.

The Senators wanted three players for the veteran, whose reliability may be gauged by the fact he won 61 games in three seasons preceding 1941 and only a dozen last year.

Washington was interested in Third Baseman Lew Riggs, Second Baseman Alex Kampouris, and Outfielder John Rizzo. This not only was a steep price, but the players involved on both sides would have to be waived and the whole swap apparently bogged down under its own complexities.

As a result the Dodgers probably will open the season with no major change in their pitching corps.

Stronger Than Last Year?

Brooklyn broke camp tonight and headed northward confident that the club was strong enough to retain the National league championship. Certainly the Dodgers appeared to be a better team than last year.

Arky Vaughan has added new zest to the infield, and Augie Galan looks due for the big year all ball players constantly hope for. He has been batting over .500 in the spring games and barring mishap will start in left field when the curtain lifts on the regular campaign.

These additions, aiding such seasoned stars as Dolph Camilli, Pete Reiser, Dixie Walker, Billy Herman, Peewee Reese, and Mickey Owen, have given the Dodgers the best power array of any club in the National league.

Too Much Experience.

The asset of experience extends to the pitching staff, however, a little too heavily. Whitlow Wyatt, Kirby Higbe, Larry French, Curt Davis, Fred Fitzsimmons, and Johnny Allen all have fairly potent reputations, but all except Wyatt and Higbe will have to be pitched to spots. This can be done, but it is a difficult business, and Manager Leo Durocher hopes that one of his younger aspirants—Chester Kehn, Ed Head, Bob Chipman, Al Sherer, or Newt Kimball—will prove able to take over a regular starting assignment.

HARVARD STAR GETS 4 ASSORTED HITS AND A WALK

Annapolis, Md., April 2 (AP).—Ned Fitzgibbons, Harvard first baseman, hit for the cycle as the Crimson whipped Navy 15 to 4 in the opening baseball game of the season for both teams today. In order, Fitzgibbons rapped a single, double, and triple, drew a base on balls, then hit a home run.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

THIS Wake, as has been the custom the last few years, is devoted entirely to contributions pertaining to a day sacred to Christians the world over.

The Turning of the Street.

She met Him at the turning of the street
And, lo, her mother's heart was rent in twain!
The very stones were crimsoned by His feet,
His purple lips were tremulous with pain;
Was this the Babe she nurtured at her breast?
Was this the comely youth of Nazareth?
Why had humanity made Him its jest?
What had He done to merit such a death?
O, mother, it is I who am to blame—
I who am fettered with the chains of sin!
He bears my suffering and hides my shame
That I eternal happiness may win;
And day by day I sink in sin's abyss
Betraying my Lord with a Judas kiss.

—T. E. B.

Mary's Sorrow.

Mary stands desolate before the Cross—
Her eyes, from anguished tears, are rimmed with red;
Her heart, pain-pierced, cries out against her loss
While gazing on each gaping wound that bled.
She sobs His name and whispers it again;
She holds the Cross and burden to her breast—
She knows no other sense save that of pain
And utmost grief within her heart impressed.
Her Son hangs, dead, upon that trampled hill,
His body stained by rivulets of red,
His pallid face is drawn, His head lies still,
And so at last she knows that He is dead.
In vain she yearns to hold Him safe and close,
Once more a child, in slumber's sweet repose.

—Anne C. Korpics.

Hope Eternal for a Weary World.

"O, hope that dwells within the hearts of men,
Be kindled to a purer, brighter flame;
Drive hate's dark spectre to his shadowed den,
And bring man's heart unto his God again."
Thus cried the grieving Christian on the hill,
While kneeling by the crimsoned crosses three;
His disillusioned soul in musings still,
Wept at the tragic shame of Calvary.
The valiant years marched on—kings ruled and died,
Time's armies claimed the field as ages fled;
Now once again the world mourns, peace denied,
And harkens to the conqueror's booted tread.
O, weary world, bow not your anguished head,
There is no conquering sorrow, lasting pain;
New hope, new strength has risen from the dead,
God walks among the hills, let faith not wane.

—Bob Kerr.

Dismas.

[The Penitent Thief.]

Three rough hewn crosses raised on Calvary's hill.
Three victims waiting for the sacrifice,
One thief blasphemed. The other one who still
Had some faith left repented of his vice.
He turned to Christ and said, "Remember me
When Thou shalt come into Thy kingdom, Lord."
Then Jesus answered, numb with agony,
And Paradise was this poor thief's reward.

Stupendous miracle! O love sublime!
Take courage, sinful heart, love thy despair,
E'en tho incarnadine with guilt and grime
Remember Dismas, brigand, hanging there;
From gibbet infamous to soul set free,
To share His love for all eternity.

—Katharine Isabelle Dignum.

The Wake Depends Upon Its Friends

Calvary.

When Pilate cried "What shall we do with Him?"
They hissed "Let Him be crucified."
Tho He had done no evil act,
Their lust for blood would not be denied.

Upon His head they thrust a crown of thorns—
A sackcloth robe for Him did choose,
And as they spat upon Him mocked:
"Hail, king of the Jews."

Then shouldered they upon His frail, worn form
The cross to which He would be nailed—
And by His side our Mary spoke
Brave words whene'er His footsteps failed.

As they drove spikes thru tender flesh,
Mocking, taunting Him anew—
His gentle voice forgiving said,
"Forgive them Father, for they know not what they do."

—Charles Evans Perry.

Ah, Judas, Would You?

Ah, Judas, if you could relive that day
The innocent Savior would you betray?
And would your heart be filled with avarice?
Could your traitorous lips bestow the kiss?

Would you nail Him to the infamous tree,
Cause Him to endure bitter agony,
And wantonly break His sad mother's heart?
In Calvary's drama would you take part?

Cowardly traitor, would you run and hide,
Then in black despair commit suicide
Or repent and for His forgiveness pray?
Ah, Judas, how oft have you rued that day?

Remember that Simon Peter sinned, too,
And remorse filled his heart, but unlike you
He fled to his Lord and cried, "I'm sorry!"
Today Peter enjoys saintly glory.

The betrayal ne'er cast you into hell.
Christ knew you were human. That's why you fell.
But, Judas, the reason that sent you there
Was that you gave up in despair, despair!

The Christus forgave Dismas and Magdalen;
He atoned for the gravest sins of all men.
His forgiving words would have included you,
"Father, forgive them. They know not what they do."

RED WINGS NOT WORRIED ABOUT UNDERDOG ROLE

Detroit, Mich., April 2 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings breezed thru a 90 minute practice today unperturbed that the Toronto Maple Leafs have been made odds-on favorite to win the Stanley cup finals. The opening game of the final National Hockey league series will be played Saturday in Toronto.

Local bookmakers placed the Red Wings on the short end of 8 to 5 odds despite a late season spurt that has netted 11 consecutive victories on home ice.

The second game of the series will be played here next Tuesday, with the third in Detroit April 9 and the fourth in Detroit April 12.

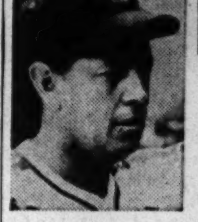
ATHLETICS HELD TO FOUR HITS BY THREE ROOKIES

Mooty, Hanyzewski to Face Hose.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Tucson, Ariz., April 2.—The homeward bound Cubs, who wound up their spring business with the Philadelphia Athletics in a 2 to 1 defeat here this afternoon, will present their varsity lineup tomorrow, when they meet the White Sox on the same diamond in the first of 10 remaining games with their Chicago rivals.

Jake Mooty.



Ted Lyons.

Manager Jimmy Wilson announced that Jake Mooty and young Ed Hanyzewski, the strikeout artist from South Bend, would divide tomorrow's mound duties. Word arrived from Yuma, where the White Sox were playing the Pirates today, that Jimmy Dykes would rely on Teddy Lyons and Joe Haynes in an attempt to extend the south siders' advantage over the Cubs, which now stands at three victories to one.

They'll Be Home Next Week.

The Cubs and Sox will meet here again Saturday before boarding their Pullmans for the following itinerary: April 5, Phoenix, Ariz.; April 6, Albuquerque, N. M.; April 7, Tucumcari, N. M.; April 8, Tulsa, Okla.; April 9, Fort Dodge, Ia.; April 10, Comiskey park; April 11, Wrigley field; April 12, Comiskey park.

Altho today's victory gave the Athletics a final edge in the series of 3 to 2, Manager Wilson was cheered immeasurably by the performance of three youthful pitchers, who held Philadelphia to four hits. Three of them, including two infield scratches, were made during the five inning tenancy of Hi Bithorn. The other safety was a wasted triple by Felix Mackiewicz off Walter Lanfranconi in the sixth. Glenn Gardner didn't let a man reach first base in his one inning stint.

Cubs Were Stopped, Too.

The Cubs made five hits, four off Phil Marchildon, and one in the ninth off Tex Shirley. The Cubs' only extra baser was a double by Chico Hernandez, which figured in the scoring of Babe Dahlgren, who later got home with the Cubs' lone run on a wild pitch in the seventh inning. Hernandez also tried to score in the confusion that followed the wild pitch, but was out and also spiked Marchildon, who tagged him.

Only 12 batsmen faced Bithorn in the first four innings. Elmer Valo, first up in the game, beat out an infield single, but immediately was forced by Crash Davis and Mackiewicz grounded into a double play. Then in the fifth, Bithorn's final inning, trouble set in.

A Walk Starts It.

Bob Johnson walked and went to third on Frankie Hayes' single to center. Peter Suder fanned and Hernandez had Hayes trapped off first with a throw to Dahlgren. Dahlgren started a run down on Hayes, but Johnson drew the play to himself. Johnson got back to third and Hayes reached second, credited with a stolen base. Al Rubeling walked, loading the bases, and Jack Wallaesa popped to Dahlgren for the second out. Marchildon rolled a single to deep short where Len Merullo made a fine stop, but threw wide to second in a try for a force play.

WHEREIN MR. FITZ TALKS OF DERBY AND PICKS ALSAB

SunnyJim Discounts Colt's Winter Showing.

New York, April 2 (AP).—In the spring, a turf fan's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of Kentucky, and this leads to Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons' front door, because Mr. Fitz often is referred to as Mr. Derby himself.

And Mr. Fitz's message on this year's running of the Derby on May 2 is:

[1] Don't start ignoring Alsab off his winter races—they weren't so bad.

[2] Alsab and Requested right now look like the horses to beat.

"A few of the other good 2 year olds of last year," Sunny Jim pointed out today, "like Mrs. Whitney's Devil Diver, Warren Wright's Sun Again and Some Chance, and Walter Chrysler's Ramillies, which had a lot of speed, are big threats. But when you come right down to it, Alsab and Requested did some pretty fair running in Florida as 3 year olds this winter, and you have to go to them right now. Unless something else comes out of the rough to change things, they're the ones to beat."

He's Training Apache.

Mr. Fitz is back from Florida and out at Aqueduct, the pleasant racing layout on the way to Rockaway beach on Long Island, and is going about the business of getting a horse ready, himself, for the Derby. He wouldn't mind it a bit if his Apache should wind up as his fourth Derby winner.

As for Alsab, Sunny Jim can't quite figure out why the folks are tabbing him as a bust, or pretty close to it.

"Just look at his races," Fitzsimmons points out. "The first time out, in the Bahamas handicap, he packed 128 pounds and gave 14 to the winner, American Wolf. American Wolf ran the seven furlongs in 1:24 3-5 that day and the first six horses were bunched in five lengths. That means, Alsab, running five lengths back, covered the distance in 1:25 2-5. That's not bad.

Started from Outside.

"His next out, he carried 126 in an overnight race. It was run out of the new mile chute and Alsab had to start from the outside, which is plenty tough. Bright Willie, carrying only 118, got a break with an inside post position and won. Alsab never had a chance starting from the outer lane, and finished fourth.

"Then came the Flamingo. Alsab had to spot four pounds to Requested in this one. And the race was strictly Eddie Arcaro's ability to slide thru those other horses. Alsab came around on the outside and finished a good third, altho he couldn't catch Requested.

"In the Widener, he ran a real nice race against those older horses and finished fifth. He picked up quite a few horses from the mile into the wire, and all of 'em were older handicap horses. So after that record, how can some of those fellows figure he's no 'count?"

Hasn't Filled Out.

Sunny Jim did notice that Alsab hadn't filled out and grown up as much as might be expected between his 2 and 3 year old seasons. Of course, Fitz, himself, likes 'em big, like his Gallant Fox, Omaha, and Johnstown, the three handsome gallopers he sent out to win the Derby.

"But that doesn't necessarily mean," he added, "that a horse is no good. Some of the little fellows could go, too."

NAVY RADIO MEN WILL MOVE SOON TO BARTLETT GYM

The University of Chicago is preparing to make way for the arrival of more cadets in the navy's radio and signal corps school on the Midway, and is doing so with the cooperation of Maroon baseball, tennis, and track performers, and Athletic Director T. Nelson Metcalf.

Within the next 10 days Metcalf will move the offices of his department from Bartlett gymnasium to the Reynolds club, just across 57th street. Lockers of Maroon athletes will be moved from the gym to improvised quarters under the west stand of Stagg field. These changes will enable the navy to use Bartlett gym for officers' quarters and headquarters of its radio school.

The radio cadets probably will be quartered in the men's dormitory on the Midway, either replacing or augmenting the 500 coast guardsmen who have resided there since last fall.

Sunny gymnasium of the University High school already is the home of naval signal corps cadets, who train mornings and afternoons in the Midway fieldhouse, daily except Saturday and Sunday. Chicago tennis and baseball squads have practiced evenings for the last two weeks. Soon, tho, both teams plan to work outdoors.

PAIRINGS MADE FOR STATE CUP SOCCER GAMES

Semi-final pairings for the State cup soccer tournament were announced last night following a meeting of the Illinois Soccer commission. The Slovaks drew the Swedish-Americans as opponents and Sparta will face the Chicago Sport club tho, dates for the playing of the games were not set.

A week's postponement was granted to the Falk eleven of Milwaukee, which had been scheduled to meet Sparta tomorrow in the western division semi-finals of the National Open cup tournament.

Sparta was moved into the semi-final spot by the National Soccer association following rejection of an appeal made by Chrysler of Detroit after two quarter-final games with the Chicagoans had resulted in ties. The Sparta-Falk encounter has been set for April 12.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Cherry T., $14.10 straight, $6.20 place, $3.90 show; Jaquita, $6.20 place, $4.60 show; Liberty Polly, $3.60 show.

CHERRY T. broke alertly, shook off COLLEGE BELLE and JAQUITA to open clear lead and won with something in reserve. JAQUITA went to contention boldly in early stages and continued gamely to end. LIBERTY POLLY showed early speed and hung in final stages. VEE weakened after moving to forward position rounding turn. SPANISH SUN went evenly.

SECOND RACE—Purse $1,200. Three year olds. Five and one-half furlongs. Start good; won driving, place same. Went to post at 3:12. Off at 3:12½. Winner, b. f., 3, by Happy Time-La Royale, by Alcantara II. Owner, S. W. Labrot. Trainer, C. Sutphin. Time, 1:10 1-5.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Queen's Delight, $11.30 straight, $5.90 place, $3.70 show; Mystique, $4.00 place, $2.90 show; Little Suzanne, $3.40 show.

QUEEN'S DELIGHT, within striking distance of leaders from break, responded when shaken up in stretch drive, disposed of JACK BUCK and LITTLE SUZANNE and was drawing out at end. MYSTIQUE, not hurried in opening stages, improved with rush in stretch, was going fastest of all at end. LITTLE SUZANNE raced on inside forwardly and tired in final three furlongs. MYRTLE M. had keen early speed on outside but weakened near close. JACK BUCK dashed to front at once, drew out but weakened suddenly inside the eighth pole. LOCH RAVEN had early speed.

THIRD RACE—Purse $1,200. Four year olds and up. Six furlongs. Start good; won driving, place same. Went to post at 3:41½. Off at 3:42. Winner, br. h., 6, by Eternal-Venice, by Marcovil. Owner, I. Bieber. Trainer, H. Jacobs. Time, 1:14 2-5.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Shadows Pass $5.70 straight, $3.50 place, $2.70 show; Little Bolo, $4.00 place, $2.80 show; British Warm, $3.20 show.

SHADOWS PASS assumed command at once, drew out but had to be shaken up in stretch run to hold LITTLE BOLO safe. The latter was in first flight from break, was placed to hard drive thru stretch and was wearing down winner at end. BRITISH WARM closed with good energy. EXARCH was closest to pace under hustling tactics early but weakened. WOODVALE LASS tired in closing stages. JUNGLE MOON had speed to the stretch then stopped. ZOSTERA broke alertly then quit.

FOURTH RACE—Purse $1,500. Three year olds which never won a sweepstakes nor two races. Five and one-half furlongs. Start good; won easily, place driving. Went to post at 4:11½. Off at 4:12. Winner, b. c., 3, by Infinite-Careful, by Wrack. Owner, J. H. Louchheim. Trainer, J. Loftus. Time, 1:08 4-5.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Carmus, $7.50 straight, $4.30 place, $2.80 show; Blue Steel, $4.10 place, $2.70 show; Bola Mowlee, $3.00 show.

CARMUS went to front on outside in opening furlong, was urged into long lead and was never threatened while closing easily. BLUE STEEL, hard urged while closest to pacemaker, held on gamely. BOLA MOWLEE was sluggish early, came out for racing room, closed gamely. MISS I. Q. was well placed to midstretch then tired. BLUE FLIGHT had early speed. HAPPY GALLOP and EARLY SPRING had early speed.

FIFTH RACE—Purse $5,000, added. The Rowe Memorial handicap. Three year olds and up. Six furlongs. Start good; won easily, place driving. Went to post at 4:40. Off at 4:40½. Winner, blk. c., 4, by Bostonian-Little Lie, by Sickle. Owner, G. C. Greer Jr. Trainer, R. B. Archer. Time, 1:12 3-5.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Cape Cod, $9.10 straight, $5.10 place, $3.20 show; Designator, $56.90 place, $15.70 show; Omission, $2.90 show.

CAPE COD had keen speed from start, disposed of leaders, drew out in stretch and won with speed in reserve. DESIGNATOR was keen forward factor from break and held on with good courage in closing stages. OMISSION moved up menacingly between horses in early stretch but hung thereafter. RIDING LIGHT was hard ridden and had no excuses. WARLOCK made up some ground in midstretch then faltered. MAECHANCE could not reach contention. LIBERTY FRANC had speed to stretch then stopped.

VALDINA VALET, under strong restraint while in first flight, came out for racing room, responded gamely to hand urging, and won going away. HATTIE BELLE raced head and head with ISLE DE PINE in front and came gamely in final test. ISLE DE PINE forced pace of HATTIE BELLE and fought it out with good energy. FREE TRADER could not reach contention. FOX CUB raced with leaders for half then weakened. FIVE-O-EIGHT reared, appeared to hit gate at start and was left.

Cape Cod 1st in Feature as Bowie Opens

(Picture on page 25.)

Baltimore, Md., April 2 (AP).—Running the second fastest six furlongs in the history of the stake, G. C. Greer's Cape Cod won the Rowe Memorial handicap today as the Maryland and eastern racing seasons opened under auspicious conditions at Bowie.

Cape Cod's triumph under Jockey George Woolf was registered before 12,000 persons, a crowd that was generous with its money and exceeded last year's opening day attendance of 4,000.

Long Shot Is Second.

Three and a half lengths behind Cape Cod came the 80 to 1 long shot, H. C. Richards' Designator. Victor Emanuel's Omission, last year's Rowe winner and the 9 to 5 favorite today, was third, another half length back of the field of 10.

Breaking from the gate like a shot and turning back every effort to head him off over the three-quarters of a mile, Cape Cod, four year old son of Bostonian and Little Lie, recorded the good time of 1:12 3-5.

This performance, over a good track, was only four-fifths of a second over Honey Cloud's record for the stake.

Omission, ridden by Don Meade and making his first start of the year, made a game effort, but could not overcome the trouble he encountered in the early stages. He was away slowly and was shuffled back, then shut off when Meade tried to go thru on the rail approaching the first turn.

Fail to Close Gap.

Designator and Liberty Franc both tried to overhaul Cape Cod, but the closest either got was half a length. Liberty Franc was thru after half a mile, while Cape Cod steadily drew away from Designator in the stretch. Omission made up a lot of ground in the stretch after finding racing room and beat Riding Light by a length and a half for third place.

Cape Cod, picking up a purse of $4,600 for his owner, a Bel Air, Md., transportation man, returned $9.10, $5.10, and $3.20 across the board. The long shot Designator paid $56.90 and $15.70 and Omission, $2.90.

Gold Crowns Hit 3,091 in ABC Tuneup

The Gold Crown Beers, who are to bowl in the American Bowling congress tournament tomorrow, warmed up for their assignment by rolling a 3,091 series and winning two games in the Randolph league last night. The team is one whose performance is watched each year, inasmuch as it twice captured the ABC title under the Birk name, the last time in 1938 when it fired a record score of 3,234.

The current ABC leaders, the Budweisers, rolled last night's big score in the Randolph, getting 3,202, to win three games from the Keeleys. Scores:

Hawaiian Sets Record in AAU Distance Swim

New Haven, Conn., April 2 (AP).—A young Hawaiian, Kiyoshi Nakama, stroked a spectacular 1,500 meter race today to start off the three day National AAU swimming meet.

Nakama, dark haired Ohio State freshman, pacing himself beautifully thruout his 30 laps, whipped Rene Chouteau of St. Louis, Yale's national collegiate champion, by almost the length of the Elis' 25 meter tank, and lapped the rest of the competition.

Sets Three Records.

The victor's 19:35.4 for the event, swum for the first time as an AAU title race, established American long course indoor and meet marks and shattered the tank record of 20:15.8 set by Hal Stanhope of Ohio State in 1940.

And, altho Chouteau trailed the 133 pound Nakama by some 20 meters, he, too, broke the pool standard by more than four seconds. Danny Green of the Dallas A. C., and Dick Peters of Yale, who were far behind Chouteau, took the other two prizes.

Munitions Worker Wins Heat.

The other heat, the first of two, was won by Joseph Lucas of the New York A. C., employed on the night shift at a Bridgeport munitions plant, but all he got out of it was a bath.

The long grind, added with an eye toward the Pan-American games, was the sole event today, and left Yale—highly favored to win the team title for the first time—in front with four points. The Dallas A. C. was second with two. The five points earned by Nakama were wasted since he was competing officially as unattached.

Five of the 10 other events will be run off tomorrow—the 220 yard free style, breast stroke, 300 yard individual medley, 400 yard relay, and one meter dive.

Titles will be decided Saturday in the 100 yard free style, 150 yard back-stroke, 440 yard free style, 300 yard medley relay, and three meter dive.

Summaries:

1,500 METER [four fastest win prizes]—First heat—Won by Joseph Lucas, N. Y. A. C., 21:22; Bill Trubee, Princeton, 21:26.2, second; Bob Arras, Yale, 22:21.3, third; Dick Mann, Yale, 22:31, fourth; Louis Antoinellis, Boston Boys' club, 22:55.8, fifth.

Second heat—Won by Kiyoshi Nakama, Ohio State freshman, 19:35.4; Rene Chouteau, Yale, 20:11.4, second; Danny Green, Dallas A. C., 20:29.4, third; Dick Peters, Yale, 20:51.2, fourth; Albert Towar, Grosse Pointe, Mich., unattached, 21:08.4, fifth.

Prize winners—Nakama, Chouteau, Green, Peters.

TRIBUNE PICKS SEVEN WINNERS AT TWO TRACKS

Race fans who burn the midnight oil hoping someday to select a win parlay that would payoff at box car figures would have realized their ambition yesterday afternoon by playing the Tribune selections at Tropical Park.

The handicapper selected five winners and two third choices in the eight race program at the Florida track and two first choices and four seconds in the opening card of the season at Bowie in Maryland. A $2 win parlay on the five winners at Tropical Park would have returned $9,754—if the bookmaker didn't leave town.

The Tropical Park winners were Guest Master, Trimmed, Gay Set, Mattie J., and Curwen. Guest Master scored in the opening race and returned $30.40 for $2. Trimmed won the second to form the daily double combination which paid $92.10. The straight price on Trimmed was $6.50.

Gay Set, the third straight first choice to win paid $13.50. Mattie J., winner of the fifth, returned $7.50, and Curwen, first choice in the eighth race, paid $7.90.

The two first choices which finished third were Balmy Spring in the sixth, and Muskrat in the seventh. The show price on Balmy Spring was $2.70, and Muskrat $5.20.

The winners at Bowie were Shadows Pass in the third, and Rough Going in the eighth. Shadows Pass paid $5.70 straight, $3.50 to place, and $2.70 to show. The prices across the board on Rough Going were $37.30, $13.90, and $9.

The four choices which finished second at the eastern track were Jacquita, Mystique, Hattie Belle, and Nilon.

11th Football Clinic Opens at Purdue Today

Lafayette, Ind., April 2 [Special].—Demonstration and discussion of aerial tactics by Cecil Isbell and Don Hutson, Green Bay Packer stars who form professional football's most feared forward passing combination, will provide one of the highlights of the 11th annual Purdue football clinic which opens here tomorrow morning to continue thru Saturday.

Advance reservations indicate an attendance of about 300 high school and college coaches from all parts of the middle west for a program which touches on virtually all phases of football.

Will Give Demonstration.

Isbell, former Purdue star, and Hutson, named the most valuable player in the National Football league last fall, will wind up the afternoon's program of addresses and follow with a field demonstration of the tactics that have accounted for practically every professional forward passing record in the book.

Other topics to be presented will include offensive and defensive strategy, training techniques, deception, and prevention and treatment of injuries.

Ingwersen to Speak.

Maj. John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, will be the principal speaker before tomorrow night's banquet, which will be followed by round tables for coaches and officials.

The clinic will continue thru Saturday, with a discussion by Burt Ingwersen, Northwestern line coach, and a regulation game between two picked Purdue elevens as closing features.

TILDEN LEADS IN TRIALS FOR CITY WRESTLING

Tilden Tech, which successfully defended its team title on March 25, is almost certain to lead in the number of individual titles in the annual city high school wrestling tournament which will be held Saturday night at the University of Chicago.

Last night Tilden qualified grapplers in the semi-finals of 7 of the 10 weight events, placing 2 each in the 175 and 155 pound classes.

Defending champs who survived the preliminaries were Jack Blachley and Vic Mieskowski of Tilden, 135 and 175 pounders, respectively, and Tom North, 105 pounds, of Parker.

HIGBE IS BEATEN IN 1ST COMPLETE ATTEMPT, 5 TO 2

Tigers Turn Back Star Dodger Hurler.

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 2 (AP).—The Detroit Tigers defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 2, today with a nine hit attack on Kirby Higbe, first Brooklyn hurler to pitch nine innings this spring.

Rudy York's single with the bases loaded scored two Tiger runs in the third inning and two more crossed in the fifth when the American leaguers bunched five singles. The Dodgers scored both their runs off Al Benton, who teamed with Roy Henshaw in holding them to seven hits. Score:

Detroit ....012 020 000—5 9 1
Brooklyn ....100 010 000—2 7 3

Batteries—Benton, Henshaw and Parsons; Higbe and Owen.

YANKEES WIN, 9 TO 1.

Savannah, Ga., April 2 (AP).—Joe DiMaggio hit two home runs today as the New York Yankees scored a 9 to 1 victory over the Savannah Indians of the South Atlantic league.

DiMaggio's homers, his third and fourth of the spring, produced three runs, but the other Yankee tallies were helped along by the Savannah players, who committed five of the game's nine errors.

Mary Breuer blanked the Indians on three hits for seven innings, and Spud Chandler yielded only one hit in the last two, but errors by Gerry Priddy and Joe Gordon let in a run in the ninth. Score:

New York ....000 102 420—9 8 4
Savannah ....000 000 001—1 4 5

Batteries—Breuer, Chandler and Robinson; Burgess, McCormack, Hill and Pruitt, Friar.

BRAVES BEAT PHILS, 3-2.

Sanford, Fla., April 2 (AP).—Johnny Cooney's single with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth inning today gave the Boston Braves a 3 to 2 victory over the Phils.

Altho the Braves outhit the Phils, 9 to 4, they spotted them two runs and did not score until the eighth inning. Tony Cuccinello led the Boston attack with two singles and Eddie Miller collected a double and a single. Score:

Philadelphia ....001 001 000—2 4 1
Boston ....000 000 021—3 9 0

Batteries—Hughes, Hoerst and Livingston; Earley, Wallace, Hutchings and Lombardi, Klutts.

CARDS BEAT SENATORS.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 2 (AP).—Lon Warneke, veteran Cardinal right hander, pitched three good innings against the Washington Senators today, but in the fourth was pounded for six hits and four runs and had to be relieved by Clyde Shoun. Shoun finished the game, holding the Senators to five hits, as the Cards scored an 8 to 6 victory. It was their 17th triumph of the spring season against 8 defeats. Score:

Washington ....000 400 020—6 13 3
St. Louis ....030 112 01*—8 12 0

Batteries—Sundra, Masterson, Kennedy and Early; Warneke, Shoun and O'Dea.

ROYALS WHIP BROWNS, 6-2.

De Land, Fla., April 2 (AP).—The St. Louis Browns dropped a 6 to 2 decision to the Montreal Royals of the International league here today.

Southpaw Clarence Iott, starting Brown pitcher, yielded four runs in the second inning.

Montreal ....040 100 001—6 12 0
St. Louis ....000 110 000—2 6 1

Batteries—Paepke, Haub. and Franks; Iott, Cox, and Hayworth.

REDS TRIUMPH, 4-3.

Charleston, S. C., April 2 (AP).—The Cincinnati Reds collected three doubles and two singles against Charley Wagner in the first two innings today to gain a 4 to 3 victory over the Boston Red Sox for Bucky Walters.

The American leaguers made 10 hits, including a homer and double by Dom DiMaggio, but Walters, who worked eight innings, kept them well scattered. Ted Williams was struck on the foot by one of Walters' pitches but the injury was not regarded as serious.

Cincinnati ....310 000 000—4 7 1

Batteries—Walters, Beggs and West, Lamanno; Wagner, Ryba and Conroy.

INDIANS ROUT GIANTS.

Houston, Tex., April 2 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians continued their mastery over the New York Giants today, winning the sixth game of their series, 11 to 5. It was the fourth straight Cleveland victory and the fifth in the six starts against the National leaguers.

The Indians pounded Hal Schumacher and Tom Sunkel for 13 hits and scored in every inning except the second and the seventh.

New York ....013 001 000— 5 8 0
Cleveland ....202 211 03*—11 13 0

Batteries—Schumacher, Sunkel, and Berres; Poat, Smith, and Denning.

BETTINA DEFERS TRIP TO CHICAGO; BECKWITH IDLE

Melio Bettina of New York, former light heavyweight boxing champion, has deferred until Sunday the start of his Chicago training for next Friday's bout with Booker Beckwith in the Chicago Stadium. Original plans called for his arrival this morning.

Beckwith also has postponed the start of ring drills. His trainer, Sam Buxbaum, claims a lack of lefthanded sparring mates, and is hoping that several may appear today in Trafton's gym.

Jimmy Williams of the Savoy A. C. and Johnny Levatino, West Suburban club welterweight, are matched in the windup of an amateur boxing show tonight in the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. Other bouts:

Eddie Baka vs. James Calhoun; Walter Baka vs. Gene Dunat; Tommy Kaffore vs. Stanley Berg; Dick Golding vs. Joe Strovack.

Paul Mahoney of Buffalo will finish heavy training today in Trafton's gym in preparation for a 10 round fight with Nate Bolden on Monday night in Marigold Gardens. Bolden will drill in the same gym today and tomorrow.

SMILIN' JACK—HATTIE DOESN'T LIVE HERE ANYMORE

Cubs Save Themselves Some Money in Acquiring a Pitcher

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Tucson, Ariz., April 2.—Two thousand dollars, transportation from Puerto Rico to Catalina Island, and the price of board and room for five weeks, would have been forfeited by the Cubs if they had returned Hi Bithorn, today's starting pitcher, to Hollywood. They had made up their minds to do it, too.

Hi was drafted by the Cubs last winter. Under the provisions of the draft rulings of Commissioner Landis they had to keep him until April 1—yesterday. Then the Cubs had the option of paying the Hollywood club $7,500 for permanent possession, or asking Hollywood if the Stars desired to reclaim Hiram for $5,500. In other words, Hollywood stood to get a bonus of $2,000, plus the Puerto Rico ticket, etc., for permitting the Cubs to watch Bithorn practice for five weeks.

He's Plenty Fast.

Well, the Puerto Rican's main stock in trade is a fast ball. He can blaze 'em thru. Trouble is, fast pitching apparently doesn't appeal to his conception of Latin cunning. He likes to fool around with dipsy doodlers of one kind or another. The hitters dearly love Hi's trick stuff when he is being cunning.

Manager Jim Wilson doesn't even care for good dispy doodlers and their sly stuff. So, the day before General Manager James Gallagher left Los Angeles for Chicago last week Wilson told him to toss Bithorn back to Hollywood.

Bill Sweeney then entered the picture. Sweeney managed Hollywood and Bithorn the last two seasons. He now is a coach on the Cub owned Los Angeles Angels. It is said Bill doesn't like the Hollywood folks any more, or, at least, wouldn't care to see Bithorn win 17 games for them this year, as he did last.

Bill Convinces Jim.

So Bill Sweeney talked to Jim Wilson about Hiram Bithorn.

"All you have to do to make Bithorn win," said Bill, "is holler at him in Spanish whenever he starts experimenting with 'medium speed, sliders, quasi fork balls,' and all his other inventions. Tell him to stick the slow stuff in the ash can and throw like everything. You'll have to holler several times in every game, but he'll win with the high, hard one."

He's a Cub Now

HI BITHORN.

So the Cubs didn't turn back Hiram at the depreciation rate of $5,500, and here he is today.

Manager Wilson this morning doped out his pitching selections for the week-end Arizona engagements with the White Sox as follows:

Tomorrow, here—Jake Mooty and Eddie Hanyzewski, with Les Fleming standing by.

Saturday, here—Paul Erickson and Tot Pressnell.

Sunday, Phoenix—Bill Lee and Jess Flores.

Connie Mack said after yesterday's 17 inning 7 to 7 tie between the Athletics and the Cubs that it was the longest exhibition game he'd ever seen. Another Philadelphian, Cub Coach Dick Spalding, who has a memory like an elephant's, said the Phils and the A's played 18 innings many years ago. Dick probably will find a clipping about the earlier game when he gets back to his scrap books.

Cubs Lose to A's, 2-1; Take on Sox Today

Marchildon's single scored Johnson and Hayes got home on the error.

Waste 2 Hits at Start.

The Cubs' offensive against Marchildon developed a mild burst in the first inning then settled into a three up and three down routine. Harry Lowrey and Lou Novikoff singled in the first inning, but a force play and a thwarted base theft by Phil Cavarretta halted the enterprise.

After 13 straight batsmen had been bowled over beginning with the start of the second inning, Lowrey broke the chain with a walk off Marchildon with one out in the sixth. Cavarretta also drew a pass. Cy Block flied to Valo, Lowrey taking third. Novikoff struck out for the second successive time.

The third Cub hit was that double by Hernandez in the seventh. After Wallaesa had made a great play from deep short to throw out Rip Russell, Marchildon walked Dahlgren. Then Hernandez doubled to right, Dahlghen stopping at third. Bill Nicholson batted for Merullo and Marchildon, after getting two strikes on Bill, loosed a wild pitch, Dahlgren scoring. Hayes retrieved the ball and tossed the ball past Marchildon at the plate. This tempted Hernandez to try for home. Suder recaptured the ball and threw to Marchildon, who was spiked on the left instep as he tagged Hernandez. Shirley replaced Marchildon and got the third strike past Nicholson.

Hack Gets Pinch Hit.

Stan Hack batted for Lanfranconi at the start of the eighth and singled to center. Lowrey flied to Mackiewicz and Cavarretta tapped into a double play. Gardner went in at the start of the ninth and held Hayes, Suder, and Rubeling to infield efforts.

Block and Novikoff supplied infield outs in the ninth, then Russell singled for the Cubs' fifth hit and took second on a wild pitch. Dahlgren walked, but Dom Dallessandro, batting for Hernandez, flied to Johnson to end the game.

National AAU's Track Dates Changed to June

Dallas, Tex., April 2 [Special].—Dates of the National AAU track meet in Dallas have been changed from July 3-4 to June 26-27, D. C. Cobb, director of the Southwestern AAU, announced today. He said that the change was made at the request of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

WHITE SOX HALT PIRATES, 5 TO 4, AFTER 6 IN ROW

Barrett registered Baker. The National leaguers made it 4 to 2 in the seventh altho Lee yielded only one hit. He slipped a pass to Baker, who was nudged to second by Dietz's sacrifice and took third on Anderson's infield out. Then the speedy Barrett beat out an unanticipated bunt and Baker scored the last Pirate run.

Lodigiani blew open the seventh with a single and the Pirates swooned immediately. With Mike Tresh disposed of, Dietz cut loose a wild pitch on which Lodigiani took second. Lee survived on a fumble by Anderson and Dietz's wide throw of Billy Knickerbocker's tap filled the bases. Harry Sketchley bounced to Maurie Van Robays, who attempted a play at the plate, but the throw was wide so Lodigiani scored and the bags remained loaded. Two of these three dashed home when Jones singled to left, putting the Sox on the choice end of a 5 to 4 count.

ILLINOIS NINE OFF TO BATTLE TWO ARMY TEAMS

Champaign, Ill., April 2 [Special].—The University of Illinois baseball squad left today for Jefferson Barracks, Mo., to play the Reception Center tomorrow and the post team Saturday. Coach Wallie Roettger selected 15 players for the trip as follows:

Pitchers—Chuck Campbell, Charles Schiller, Bob Roth, Al Scharf.

Infielders—Capt. Liz Astroth, Boyd Bartley, Ed Parker, Tom Hull, Warren Hambourger.

Catchers—Paul Milosevich, Bill Brewer.

Outfielders—Bob Finn, Andy Phillip, Charles Noth, Al Lunte.

The Illini will open the home season against Chanute Field Tuesday and the Western conference season against Indiana April 10 and 11.

Wheaton Holds Chicago to 2 Hits; Wins Opener, 3-1

Two Wheaton pitchers, Burt Sutherland and Ken Wessner, held the University of Chicago baseball team to two singles yesterday to beat the Maroons, 3 to 1, in the opening game in Wheaton. The Crusaders got nine hits off two Chicago hurlers. Sutherland connected for four hits. Twenty-four strikeouts were achieved, 13 by Wheaton pitchers and 11 by Chicago hurlers. Score:

FOUR SHOOT 69s TO TAKE LEAD IN LAND OF SKY OPEN

Asheville, N. C., April 2 (AP).—Two former United States Open champions and two other players provided the winter golf circuit with its first four-way deadlock at the end of the first round of the Asheville Open golf tournament today.

Byron Nelson racked up the first subpar score of the day with a card that showed nine threes, four fours, four fives, and a six. The other former Open champion among the leaders, Lawson Little, arrived at his 69 by more orthodox means—35-34.

Jimmy Hines, former member of the Ryder cup team from Great Neck, N. Y., played steadily in recording a 34-35, one under par on each side, and Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., had a like score.

Four Others Break Par.

Barron, just rejoining the touring pros here after a three week layoff following an accident in which he and his wife were injured in Florida, showed no ill effects in his brand of play.

Only four other players in the field of 78 bettered par, and Defending Champion Ben Hogan had to be content with par 71, where he was deadlocked with four others.

The four 70 shooters were Ky Laffoon of Miami, Okla.; Bill Nary of Rancho Santa Fe, Cal.; Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y., and Tony Penna of Dayton, O.

Needs 36 on Home Nine.

Favored with Hogan to win the $5,000 Land of the Sky meet, Nelson bogied the first hole and then started his run of threes sprinkled with fives and one six. He went out in 33, two under par, and after the six, which came on No. 10 where his ball was buried in a trap—he needed a 36 coming back even after bagging an eagle three on the 457 yard 17th.

N. U., LAKE FOREST GAME IS DROPPED; GROUNDS SOGGY

Northwestern university's opening baseball game with Lake Forest tomorrow has been canceled because of wet grounds, it was announced yesterday by Coach Maury Kent. The Wildcat diamond north of Dyche stadium is still soggy from the spring thaw. Meanwhile the team is practicing on Roycemore field.

Coach Kent has scheduled a two day road trip next week to provide the team with competition before opening the Big Ten season with Chicago April 17. The first game of the trip will be with Bradley Tech at Peoria Monday, the second with Illinois State Normal at Bloomington.

The Bradley game will mark the first appearance in Peoria of Russ Wendland, Wildcat first baseman and captain-elect of the basketball team, since he enrolled at Northwestern. He was a former all around star at Manual High school in Peoria.

Most positions in the Wildcat nine will be filled by members of the football and basketball teams. Bob Motl, football end, will pitch Monday's game. Another hurler is Ted Esser, basketball forward. Capt. Dick Erdlitz, second baseman, played quarter back on the football team. Other football players on the squad are Otto Graham, center fielder; Ed Hirsch, third base, and George Benson, catcher.

PURDUE'S NINE IS SHAKEN UP AFTER 1ST GAME DEFEAT

Lafayette, Ind., April 2 [Special].—Set back by St. Joseph, 8 to 2, in the opening game of the practice schedule in Collegeville yesterday, Purdue's baseball nine will be almost completely revised for the opening of the Wabash practice series here tomorrow afternoon.

With the exception of Bill Burghardt at short stop and Bib Riley in right field, Coach Dutch Fehring announced that new men will be tried out in the first of the three games with the Little Giants. The probable batting order for tomorrow, with Walter Cook, Frank Freiherr, and Paul Petrick slated to share the pitching duties, will be Burghardt, short stop; Burger, second base; Walton, catcher; Young, third base; Kersey, center field; Riley, right field; Rush, left field; Emerson, first base.

Two Important Spring Golf Meetings Scheduled Monday

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Two of the most important meetings of the spring golf season will be held next Monday. The executive board of the Women's Western Golf association will gather at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning in the Chicago Athletic association, and at 7 p. m. the same day the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America will assemble in the Morrison hotel.

Alex Cunningham of North Shore, president of the section and who is also a national vice president and newly elected president of the Seniors' group, yesterday urged every member of the Illinois PGA to be present.

Ball Problem Acute.

"Considerable changes have taken place since our last meeting, especially pertaining to club activities and the ball situation," Alex said. "There never has been a time nor a condition that warranted our sitting down and discussing our problems more so than at present. It is up to us to do everything in our power to formulate some plan whereby we can solve the obvious problem of continuing to supply our members with golf balls.

"Matt Matteson of Ridge, our secretary, and Bill Gordon of Tam o' Shanter, our new tournament chairman, are agreed with me that the section should devote a great part of our competitive program to Red Cross matches. We aim to hold several of these in conjunction with club committees, as well as our regular pro-amateur matches. The prizes for these latter will be distributed in defense bonds."

Women Busy, Too.

Mrs. Ferdinand A. Bunte of Evanston is president of the Women's Western association, which indicated yesterday that Monday morning's meeting will produce important golf news.

Other officers of the WWGA are Mrs. Charles Dennehy, Onwentsia; Mrs. Wrisley B. Oleson, Glen Oak, and Mrs. Charles Schreiner Jr. of San Antonio, Tex., vice presidents; Mrs. Edmund D. Adcock, Midlothian, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William L. Graham Jr., Glen View, recording secretary; Mrs. A. L. Heald, Olympia Fields, treasurer; Mr. Philip G. Lenz, Beverly, handicap chairman, and Mrs. George Weinhagen Jr., Milwaukee, rules chairman.

The Acacia County club will enter the 1942 season under an entirely new setup, result of the recent sale of the property of F. T. Strobel, Chicago banker. Acacia will operate solely as a private club, with playing memberships for a year selling at $100 each. Joe Wallace, formerly of Nordic Hills, will be professional and general manager of the club. The officers are Roy Shup, president; Ivan Mansfield, vice president; R. F. Schwartz, secretary, and John Kingsland, treasurer.

Ted Payseur, one of the busiest men in golf in his dual rôle of Northwestern coach and secretary of the NCAA golf committee, took advantage of yesterday's weather and the start of the Easter holidays to give his Wildcat squad its first real workout at Kildeer, Northwestern's home course.

Payseur has two letter men and two sophomores as the nucleus of the team whose main objectives will be the Big Ten meet at Ann Arbor next month, and the National Intercollegiate in South Bend the last week in June. The veterans are Burt Abrahams of La Grange, a junior, who will captain the squad, and Dick Haskell of Seattle, Wash., who served as captain in his junior year last year. The newcomers are Manuel de La Torre of Highland Park, former state interscholastic champion, and John Stoltz of Ottumwa, Ia., 1941 western junior medalist and quarter-finalist.

Four letter men were lost, Charley Barrett and Doug Beggs thru graduation. Pete Panko and Milt Haywood, on whom Ted had banked considerably, are now in the armed forces. The Wildcats will open their season with a road trip, meeting Indiana in Indianapolis April 18 and Purdue in Lafayette on April 20.

A number of member clubs of the Chicago District Golf association already have set dates for annual invitational events. Two of these, the Elmhurst Blow-Out and the Hinsdale Buggy Ride, will be held on June 17, the day preceding the opening of the Hale America National Open at Ridgemoor. Medinah, following its long custom of holding its Camel Trail on the second Wednesday in August, will tee off June 12, the same day chosen by Westmoreland for its Tam O' Shanter. Ridgemoor will conduct its Jabberwalk on Aug. 26, Bob O' Link the Hullabaloo on June 24 and 25, and Nordic Hills its Hullabaloo on Aug. 1. North Shore was one of the earliest to set a date, picking July 29 for the Silver Tassel. Evanston's Rodeo and Sunset Ridge's Stampede will share July 15.

Amundsen, Farragut, Harrison, and Steinmetz scored practice game victories yesterday as Public High School league baseball teams continued preparations for the title race, which opens on April 13.

Dick Cahill, Amundsen first baseman, hit a home run with a mate on base in the fifth inning and also tripled in the sixth during a 9 to 6 triumph over Kelvyn Park in Winnemac park. Foreman of Kelvyn Park was the only pitcher in the four games to work the complete seven innings.

Double Drives in 3 Runs.

Farragut defeated Austin in Douglas park, 4 to 0. Three of the runs were driven home in the third inning on a double by Glen Randle, first baseman, when the bases were loaded. Only one other hit was made by the victors, who were not charged an error. Austin got only one hit and committed six errors.

Each team made five hits and four errors as Harrison beat Crane in Altgelt park, 7 to 3.

Chicago Cardinals Sign Tennant, Former Badger

The Chicago football Cardinals yesterday signed John Tennant, University of Wisconsin half back who played thru the 1940 season. The signing of Tennant followed the acquisition of Ralph Fife, star guard from last year's University of Pittsburgh eleven. Tennant is a good passer and runner. He weighs 190 pounds. Last year he was assistant freshman coach at Wisconsin.

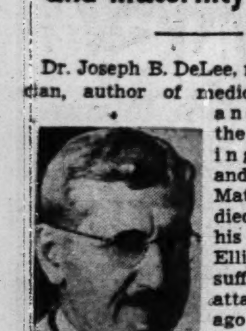
DR. J. B. DE LEE DIES; NOTED AS OBSTETRICIAN

Founded Lying-In Hospital and Maternity Center.

Dr. Joseph B. DeLee, noted obstetrician, author of medical textbooks, and founder of the Chicago Lying-In hospital and the Chicago Maternity center, died yesterday in his home at 5028 Ellis avenue. He suffered a heart attack three days ago and did not rally. He was 72 years old.



Dr. J. B. DeLee.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. in Sinai temple, 46th street and South Park way.

Dr. DeLee was born in Cold Springs, N. Y. He had lived in Chicago since he was graduated at Northwestern university medical school in 1891.

Class Produced Many Notables.

In the famous obstetrician's class at Northwestern were a number of men who later won fame as he did. Among them were Dr. Isaac Arthur Abt, still of Chicago, and Dr. Frank Walls, now of Cape Cod, Mass., famous pediatricians; Dr. Robert Preble, noted specialist in internal medicine; Dr. Daniel Eisendrath, surgeon who spent most of his life in Paris and died there, and Dr. Arthur Edwards, also deceased.

Dr. DeLee became a professor of obstetrics at Northwestern university medical school shortly after he was graduated there. He remained with the school in that capacity until 1929, when he became professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Chicago. In 1935 he was made professor emeritus of obstetrics and gynecology at Chicago.

Dr. DeLee, a bachelor, devoted most of his long career to obstetrics and was credited with delivering more than 8,000 babies. Close friends say he often expressed regret that he never married and had children of his own.

Friends and professional associates recalled Dr. DeLee's almost invariable habit of wearing white ties. Usually, they said, he wore a narrow, stringlike bow tie of white pique. Occasionally he would switch to a white four-in-hand of the same material.

Recall Battle for Hospital.

Many spoke of the battle he waged to raise money to build the Lying-In hospital and dispensary, established in 1895 and now affiliated with the University of Chicago. He conceived the idea, friends said, of obtaining the money from the late George M. Pullman and for a long time literally camped in the office of the famous railway car builder.

"Finally," said a well known physician last night, "Pullman agreed to put up the money but died before he could do so. Dr. DeLee had to start all over again. But he raised the money."

When the present Chicago Lying-In hospital was built about 12 years ago on the University of Chicago campus at 5841 Maryland avenue, this informant recalled, Dr. DeLee had long been successful and gave $300,000 of his own money in the general drive thru which the funds were raised.

Dr. DeLee established the Chicago Maternity center, Maxwell street and Newberry avenue, in 1903. In the heart of a section inhabited by poor people, the center now cares for more than 3,000 expectant mothers each year and trains about 300 medical students annually in the practice of obstetrics.

Won Many Medical Honors.

Dr. DeLee was a member of most local and national medical societies as well as several special organizations. He was also a fellow of Edinburgh Obstetrical Society of Scotland. In 1934 he was awarded the Rosenberger medal for achievements in obstetrics at the University of Chicago. In 1941 the Mississippi Valley Medical society honored him with its distinguished service award.

Dr. DeLee wrote a number of medical treatises and textbooks now in use thruout the world. The best known of his textbooks is "The Principles and Practice of Obstetrics," now in its seventh edition.

During recent years he was particularly noted for the production of motion pictures illustrating approved procedure in obstetrics and gynecology. He produced many of the films now used in hospitals, clinics, and medical schools for the instruction of physicians, interns, and nurses.

Dr. DeLee had two hobbies. One of these was his farm near Plano, Kendall county, known as Doradel farm. Another was photography.

The doctor's nearest of kin are two nephews and a niece, Dr. Sol DeLee, with whom he lived on Ellis avenue; Morris DeLee, and Mrs. Ruth Horner, wife of Dr. David Horner. He had several brothers and sisters but all died before him.

CRUISING TAXIS ARE PROBLEM FOR RATIONERS

Cab Firms Say They Can't Conserve on Tires.

The cruising taxicab, for years a problem of cab companies, drafters of city ordinances, motorists and pedestrians, yesterday became a problem of tire conservation—but still remains unsolved.

Michael F. Mulcahy, rationing administrator for the metropolitan area, and Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, conferred yesterday with Michael Sokoll, president of the Checker Cab company, and Benjamin Samuels, head of the Yellow Cab company.

"How can you eliminate the cruising cab and thus save rubber?" was the question asked by both Mulcahy and Hewitt.

Offer $1,000 for Plan.

The question, which both cab companies heads discussed for two hours, ended with the answer that it can't be done.

Both Samuels and Sokoll declared that they would post a reward of $1,000 each for any cab driver who will work out a practical solution to the cruising problem. They agreed to pay $1,000 for a plan which their firms can save one-half or 1 per cent of the useless mileage piled up by their companies.

Samuels, who said his company had no records to show how much useless mileage was added by cruising, said that in January Yellow cabs covered 5 million miles. His company has 1,595 cabs, more than half of the 3,000 licensed by the city.

Each Driven 100 Miles Daily.

Mulcahy estimated that the 3,000 cabs, each running on an average of 100 miles a day, cover about 9 million miles monthly. He told the company presidents that only 4,000 tires may be recapped in Chicago this month and that most of the certificates for this service will go to defense workers and others necessary in the war effort.

Samuels and Sokoll said the cab companies have issued instructions to their drivers to conserve rubber by curtailing unnecessary cruising. They said that they had put governors on their cabs several years ago limiting the speed to 40 miles an hour and that the governors are checked daily.

Cannot Cut Tire Waste.

"I doubt whether we can cut down any more on tire waste than we already have," Samuels said. "Why, just the other day we fired two drivers for running less than 100 feet on flat tires."

Asked by Mulcahy what they would do when all their tire casings wore out so that they cannot be recapped, Sokoll answered:

"Join the army. I was in the other one, and another hitch won't hurt." He added that he was optimistic about the development of synthetic rubber, which, he said, was superior to natural rubber in tires.

BOY TELLS HOW HE ACCIDENTALLY KILLED SISTER, 10

Twelve year old Joseph Rispoli, 5301 Emerald avenue, appeared before a coroner's jury yesterday and described the shooting accident Tuesday which took the life of his sister, Rose, 10.

"I was playing with my sister in the bedroom," said the boy. "I saw the gun in a bureau drawer. I took it out and held it over my head and I pulled the trigger and there was a loud bang."

The youth then said he summoned his father, James, 54, who found Rose lying on the bed, wounded in the face. Police, summoned by the father, rushed the child to County hospital, where she died two hours later.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death after Joseph had testified that he thought the gun was unloaded.

PAN-AMERICAN WEEK IN CHICAGO STARTS APRIL 12

A proclamation urging Chicagoans to observe "Pan-American week," beginning April 12, was issued yesterday by Mayor Kelly, who said that "results of immeasurable value" could be accomplished thru the unification of aims by all the American republics. He named a group of 200 citizens to receive Nelson A. Rockefeller, coördinator for inter-American relations, who is to speak at a dinner in the Stevens hotel on April 14. Joseph H. Spear, executive director of the Pan-American council, said steps toward making the western world more like the world that ought to be must be started now.

COUGHLIN ESTATE LACKS $32,000 TO SATISFY CLAIMS

Final accounting in the estate of John J. [Bathhouse John] Coughlin, alderman of the 1st ward for 46 years prior to his death Nov. 11, 1939, at the age of 78, left $32,000 in claims unpaid. The figures, approved yesterday by Judge John A. O'Connell in Probate court, showed the estate worth $25,654. They listed $15,248 in expenses and taxes and claims of $42,174 against the estate. The alderman's will left the income from whatever his estate might amount to to his sister, Mrs. Katherine Coughlin, 312 North Menard avenue, and her daughter, Ann.

MYSTERY BLAST BRINGS A FLOOD OF PHONE CALLS

A crash or detonation that rattled windows thruout the northern end of Cook county and in Lake and McHenry counties, and sounded like an explosion or the distant firing of artillery, brought several hundred telephone calls of inquiry to towns and villages all along the north shore about 6 o'clock last night.

Miss Madeline Baldwin of 693 Cherry avenue, Lake Forest, said she heard it and saw a "big red ball of fire," like a meteorite streaking across the sky from south to north about the same time. Another woman telephoned the police in Highland Park, saying she heard the "explosion" and immediately afterward thru a window saw the red flash in the "sky toward the west." The detonation shook windows in both the police station and the firehouse next door in Lake Forest.

Dozens of calls were received by police in Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Highwood, Glencoe, Winnetka, and Kenilworth. Others were reported having called Libertyville, Antioch, Barrington, Grays Lake, and Mundelein, further west in Lake county; and still others called stations in Woodstock, Crystal Lake, Harvard, Marengo, and McHenry in McHenry county, saying they heard an "explosion" which caused houses to rock and rattled doors and windows.

FALCONER'S WILL LEAVES $315,000 TO CHARITY UNITS

The will of William Falconer, bequeathing more than half of his $505,000 estate to charity, was filed in the Probate court yesterday. He died March 27 at the age of 89. He had lived all his life in the family home at 4824 Wellington avenue, once a farmhouse.

Mr. Falconer left $60,000 each to his niece, Mrs. Sadie D. Adams, 316 Division street, Elgin, and his nephew, Albert N. Downer, Lewis, Ia.; $30,000 each to George C. Hield, Maitland, Fla.; and Ernest E. Danke, 77 West Washington street, and $10,000 to Elsie M. Lang, 700 Braeside road, Highland Park.

In addition, he left $10,000 to the Salvation army, and $5,000 to the Home for Destitute Crippled Children. The remainder of the estate was left in trust for charitable uses as the Chicago Community Trust shall direct. The First National Bank of Chicago was made executor and trustee.

GEN. GUTHNER IS TO BE ARMY DAY PARADE MARSHAL

Brig. Gen. William E. Guthner of 6th corps area headquarters will be grand marshal of the Army day parade Monday, it was announced yesterday.

It is expected that more than 15,000 persons, including soldiers, sailors, marines, ROTC cadets, and veterans of the first World war will participate. It will be Chicago's first major military parade in wartime since 1918.

Numerous other events are scheduled for the day, among them a MacArthur day celebration at the Union League club in honor of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Maj. Gen. George Grunert, new commanding officer of the 6th corps area, will be the principal speaker. He will talk on Gen. MacArthur and the defense of Bataan peninsula in the Philippines.

BLAME YOUR LAZY LIVER BILE IF -

CONSTIPATION with its headache, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling may often result when your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day in your intestines. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stir up liver bile secretion to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are wonderful! Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15c, 30c, 60c. All drug stores.

ARTHUR N. TALBOT, FAMOUS ILLINOIS ENGINEER, IS DEAD

Known for His Reseacrh in Many Fields.

Dr. Arthur Newell Talbot, professor emeritus of engineering at the University of Illinois and internationally known as an investigator and teacher in that field, died early today in Passavant hospital. He was 84 years old.

Dr. Talbot's influence is seen in landmarks over the nation and in foreign fields. Skyscrapers, bridges and dams, and concrete roads all embody fundamentals of design based on his pioneering work in the properties of concrete, reinforced concrete, and other structural materials.

Work in Other Fields.

His researches assisted in the development of hydraulics, hydrology, and sewage treatment. Another of his contributions was the railway transition curve — a spiral effect which eases trains on and off curves without sharp changes of direction such as occurred in the earlier circular curves.

Track stresses also occupied his attention and his discovery of the manner in which trains pound rails and roadbeds resulted in designing rights of way which carry streamliners safely at high speed.

Dr. Talbot trained many young men who later became famous in their own right. He helped establish the University of Illinois engineering experiment station in 1903, the country's first such station.

In 1938 the new materials testing laboratory at the university was named the Arthur Newell Talbot laboratory, the first time the university had named one of its buildings after a living person.

Author of 400 Articles.

Dr. Talbot always said he was too busy to write textbooks, but he issued more than 400 articles and bulletins concerning his findings. He was a member of the board which determined the structure for the Galveston, Tex., causeway and also served on the board which in 1927 made a preliminary report on the location of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge. In 1936 he received the John Fritz gold medal, highest annual award in engineering.

Dr. Talbot was born in Cortland, De Kalb county, on Oct. 21, 1857. He attended elementary school there and high school at nearby Sycamore. He graduated from the University of Illinois in 1877. He worked as an engineer on railway location, construction and maintenance projects, and in 1885 joined the university faculty.

Professor Emeritus Since 1926.

When he reached retirement age in 1926 he was given the rank of emeritus professor, but continued his research work in the laboratory. His home was in Urbana.

Dr. Talbot was married in 1886 to Miss Virginia Mann Hammet, who had been a classmate at the university. She died in 1919. Surviving are a son, Lieut. Col. Kenneth H. Talbot, and three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Gilkey, wife of Prof. H. J. Gilkey of Iowa state college, Ames, Ia.; Mrs. Rachel Westergaard, wife of Dean H. M. Westergaard of the Harvard graduate school of engineering, and Mrs. Dorothy Goodell of Loda, Ill.

WM. L. HIXON, 45, BROKER, DIES IN UNIVERSITY CLUB

William L. Hixon, president of Hixon, Stewart & King, investment brokerage firm at 120 South La Salle street, died yesterday in the University Club of Chicago, 76 East Monroe street, while being attended by a physician for heart disease.

Mr. Hixon, who was 45 years old and lived on Brinker road, Barrington, had taken a room at the club a short time previously after his return to Chicago from a business trip.

Mr. Hixon also was part owner of Hixon, Peterson & Co., lumber dealers in Toledo, O. He was a native of Babylon, N. Y., and was educated at Yale university. He was a captain of field artillery in World War I. His widow, the former Dorothy Henning of Toledo, and four children, William, Stuart, Shirley, and Ellen, survive.

Saved After Leaping Into River at Washington St.

Harry Newman, 35 years old, 839 North Dearborn street, leaped into the Chicago river from the Washington street bridge yesterday in sight of scores of motorists and pedestrians. He was rescued by Bridgetender William Devereux and taken to the psychopathic hospital. He told police that he had come here from San Francisco two months ago and had been despondent over inability to find work.

FREIGHT TOTAL IS FORECAST AT 14.6% ABOVE '41

2d Quarter Car Need Near 7½ Millions.

A total of 7,475,175 railroad carloads of freight must be moved in the United States during the second quarter of this year, an increase of 14.6 per cent over the 6,525,083 actually loaded in the second quarter of last year, it was estimated yesterday in a compilation made by the 13 regional shippers' advisory boards.

The estimate was based on probable loadings of 28 principal commodities as compiled by the 13 boards. Normally the boards use 29 commodities in arriving at their estimates, but in the present instance automobiles, trucks and parts were dropped because of the war restrictions on automobile manufacture.

Ohio Valley Gain Sharpest.

All 13 boards expect substantial increases in the number of cars which will be required, the sharpest increase being the 33.8 per cent forecast by the Ohio valley board. The estimate for the area of the midwest board [embracing Chicagoland] was given in the tabulation as a 7.2 per cent increase. In its own estimate made public Monday the midwest board predicted that requirements for the area would only be 5 per cent over last year. The difference is the result of different methods in compiling automotive loadings.

Apart from automobiles, shipments of which will be near the vanishing point, there were only a few commodities expected to show decreases. These are: cottonseed and products, other than cottonseed oil, down 4.1 per cent; agricultural implements, down 26.7 per cent, and sugar, syrup, and molasses, down 1.2 per cent.

Among the commodities expected to show the sharpest gains are the following: coal and coke, 31.1 per cent; citrus fruit, 17.5 per cent; grain, 17.4 per cent; gravel, sand and stone, 17.2 per cent; chemicals and explosives, 16.3 per cent.

Some Data Withheld.

Several Chicago shippers have commented that the forecast may not adequately reflect the effects of the war on freight movements over the railroads. First, it is hard to estimate to what extent the requirements of war in the movement of freight will offset the virtual shutdown of many civilian activities. Second, complete information on a few commodities is withheld for military reasons.

Bolstered by a sharp upturn in ore shipments, the nation's railroad freight loadings rose to 804,746 cars during the week ended March 28, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. The total was an increase of 8,106 cars over the preceding week and 10,943 cars higher than the corresponding week of 1941. Ore shipments increased 14,191 cars over the preceding week as steel production continued to expand.

TEST TELEGRAMS SHOW TREASURY ISSUE IS FAVORED

Bankers handling corporation replies to United States treasury "feeler" telegrams said last night that the offering of 1½ billion dollars of certificates of indebtedness by the treasury, scheduled for next Monday, probably will be given a "highly satisfactory" reception.

The treasury sent 10,000 telegrams to corporations and large potential investors explaining the offering and asking their reactions to its terms. By prearrangement with the Investment Bankers Association of America, the work of distributing the telegrams and handling the replies was allocated to banks and securities dealers, with the request that the replies be in the treasury's hands by today.

The treasury has not issued a security of that type since 1934. The tentative interest rate is one-half of 1 per cent a year and the issue will mature in about six months. The maturity was fixed with the view of meeting the needs of corporations and large investors, some of whom were said to have asked the treasury for an issue of the kind proposed.

RAIL CHAIRMAN ASKS REJECTION OF ICC PROGRAM

Stockholders of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway were told by Edward N. Brown, chairman, in a letter yesterday that neither the courts nor security holders should accept the Interstate Commerce commission's plan for reorganizing the road.

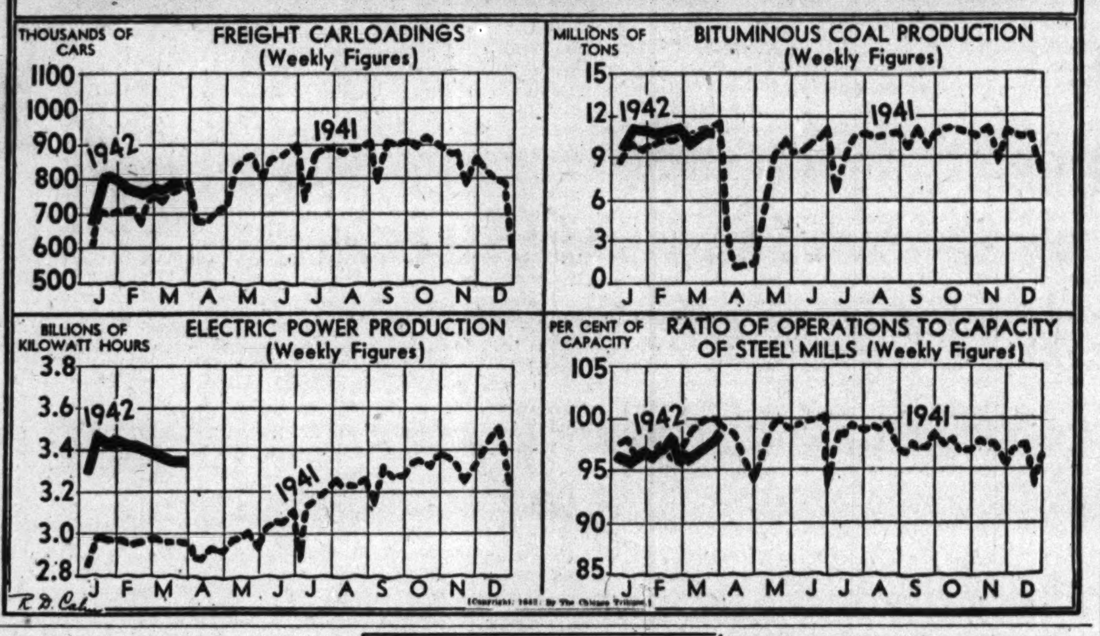
He asserted the railroad's earnings last year were sufficient to pay interest on present outstanding securities, full dividends on preferred stocks and "leave something" for the common shares. Under the commission's plan, preferred and common stocks would receive no return on the basis of 1941 earnings, he said.

Building Activity Slumps, but Stays Above Year Ago

New York, April 2 (AP).—Engineering construction for the week ended today topped the volume for the corresponding 1941 week by 55 per cent, but was 40 per cent below the preceding week, Engineering News-Record reported today. Comparisons follow:

[000 omitted.]	Wk. ended April 2.	Prev. week.	Year ago.
Federal	$ 83,034	$146,652	$21,608
State, municipal	11,878	10,620	25,291
[illegible]	12,224	19,843	22,090
Total	$107,136	$177,115	$68,989

FOUR BAROMETERS OF BUSINESS



Push New Car Sale, OPA Aid Tells Dealers

Cleveland, O., April 2 (AP).—While the government is working out a price ceiling for used cars, an Office of Price Administration official today urged automobile dealers to "get out and sell" new cars which they have on hand.

Cyrus McCormick.

Cyrus McCormick III., chief of the OPA's automobile and truck section, said the government's price regulations on used cars probably would be announced in a week or two.

Sale Going Too Slowly.

McCormick told a conference of more than 1,000 dealers, salesmen, rationing board members and others connected with the automobile industry that the sale of new cars was moving too slowly, and that dealers should "get out and sell" new models.

Cars can be sold only to eligible persons, but, he said, "it is not a crime to own a new automobile. It is a crime for a person who needs an automobile in war work not to have one."

While he did not order rationing board members to liberalize their standards, McCormick told questioners that the boards should use their own judgment in each case. He cited examples where he thought cars could have been sold to eligible persons but where dealers and rationing board members reported new cars had been withheld.

Refuses to Fix Rules.

Led by Clarence Doyle of Lansing, Mich., deputy administrator for Michigan, rationing board members requested McCormick to put into writing what they termed his more liberal interpretation of OPA regulations.

He declined to do this, saying Washington did not want to regiment boards, but wanted each board to decide eligibility on each case. When dealers pointed out that some rationing boards required applicants to appear before them in person and others did not, McCormick said there were no OPA regulations on how requests for new cars should be submitted, and that OPA refused to make any.

Baking Industry Plans Delivery Cut to Save Tires

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—The Baking industry proposed to the War Production board today a program for reducing mileage of bakery trucks 25 per cent to conserve tires and equipment. Special and Sunday deliveries would be stopped immediately and governors would be installed on trucks to limit speeds to 35 miles an hour.

MALCOLM MACDONALD QUITS AS CHICAGO WPB PRIORITY OFFICE CHIEF

Malcolm R. Macdonald, Chicago district manager of the War Production board's priorities field service, has resigned to return to private business, it was learned last night. He had held the position since last November.

Macdonald declined to discuss his resignation, but said he will announce shortly his new connection. Meanwhile, Edmund H. Eitel, assistant manager of the priorities service, has been named acting manager temporarily. Macdonald's successor has been selected and his identity will be disclosed soon, according to WPB officials.

Macdonald is a mortgage banker and real estate appraiser. He is president of Preston M. Nolan & Co., Inc.

Another important WPB post in the Chicago area is to be filled soon. WPB executives in Washington are considering the qualification of several men from whom to select a chief for the Chicago regional office, one of 13 being established thruout the country.

NORTH WESTERN ROAD WILL SPEND 46 MILLION IN 1942

The Chicago and North Western railway will spend 46 million dollars in 1942 for maintenance and improvement of roadways and existing equipment and for new equipment, R. L. Williams, chief executive officer, announced yesterday. About 18 million dollars will be spent on roadway track and structure, $17,600,000 for maintenance and improvements, and $10,275,000 for new equipment.

New equipment will include 3,375 freight cars of various types and 20 Diesel switching locomotives. More than 100 miles of 112 pound rail will be used to replace lighter rail and more than 300 miles of track will be ballasted. Williams said that extra effort is being made to avoid breakdown in equipment or service while the country is at war.

STORES EXPECT TRADE RUSH ON MARKET HOLIDAY

Banks and most security and commodity markets will be closed today in observance of Good Friday. An exception will be the live stock market at the stock yards which will be open as usual.

However, for most of America it will be just another day. Industrial plants turning out materials for the fighting forces will continue operations without a letup. So will most factories making civilian goods.

Department and other stores expect to do a rushing business in Easter finery, especially since the schools will be closed. The high rate of employment is counted on to accelerate the upward trade trend.

Metal Office Furniture Is War Casualty

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The manufacture of metal office furniture and equipment will be halted on May 31 and will be curtailed in the meantime under an order issued today by the War Production board. The order froze all manufacturers' stocks, forbidding them to sell, lease, trade, lend, deliver, ship or transfer any of the equipment specified except to fill top-rated priority orders.

The WPB also announced it is preparing "additional drastic curtailments" in the amount of copper assigned to civilian use. The orders, it was said, will restrict distribution of new copper and also the inventories in the hands of manufacturers of non-essential items.

Plan "First of a Series."

The announcement said that the copper program will be the "first of a series" to arrive at "a unified and planned disposition of the available supply of basic scarce materials, particularly metals and chemicals."

The 100 million dollar a year metal office equipment industry is to make bombs and airplane subassemblies instead of cabinets, desks, chairs, tables, trays, baskets and stands. After May 31, it can produce metal office articles solely for the army, navy and the like. During April and May it can use 40 or 50 per cent [depending upon the size of the manufacturer] of the metal it used in the same months of 1941.

The overall control of all scarce materials is being prepared under the WPB by a requirements committee created by Chairman Donald M. Nelson in a recent reorganization of war supply agencies. It is reviewing supplies and assigning distribution among competing demands, including those of civilians.

Reports Copper Shortage.

As for copper, the committee reported that the expansion of war production has created a shortage notwithstanding a record output of the metal by refineries.

"Direct military and shipbuilding requirements and the vital needs of the united nations for the quarter will require practically all the copper available," the report said. "At the same time, some copper is necessary for the maintenance of vital civilian operations, even at the expense of military production.

"The result is that civilian consumption, even in important operations, will have to be curtailed. The program contemplates a cut of approximately 60 per cent in civilian use of copper from that of 1940, with a large proportion of the remaining 40 per cent devoted to "behind the lines" uses that support the military establishment."

HILLMAN OFFERS 14 POINT PLAN FOR WAR WORK

Asks Power to Shift Labor as Needed.

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—A 14 point plan to mobilize men and women for work in war industries, including government power to transfer workers from one factory to another, was laid before the senate labor committee today by Sidney Hillman, labor director of the War Production board, who said 8 million more war workers would be needed this year.

Consolidation of all federal defense training agencies under a unified command also was part of the program. Some members of the committee promptly told Hillman that he should be placed in charge of recruiting, training, and placing defense workers under the program.

Authorship Uncertain.

It was not made clear whether Hillman was the author of the program, or what other officials may have indorsed it. It is understood, however, that a proposal of this nature has been submitted to President Roosevelt.

Hillman's 14 point plan follows:

1. Directives should be sent to all war contractors that all skilled craftsmen must be employed at jobs utilizing their best skills. To insure compliance, the utilization of plant inspectors is required with authority to review as frequently as deemed necessary detailed plant operations. Provision must be made for compulsory acceptance by the plant management of the recommendations of the inspectors relative to the utilization of skilled workers and of training programs necessary within the plant.

2. Procurement officers and other persons placing contracts should be

Assembly Line Speeds Tanks; Let Final Order on Ship Work

First Unit in 47 Days!

Detroit, Mich., April 2 (AP).—E. F. Fisher, general manager of Fisher Body division of General Motors corporation, announced today with war department approval that his company completed the first of a new type, all-welded 30 ton army tank four weeks ago.

Since then, Fisher added, the job has been pushed forward rapidly on an assembly line basis.

The first tank came off a production line in what once was the largest automobile body unit in the world just 47 days after work was begun converting the factory to war work. Meanwhile many other tanks were put into construction and were well under way.

Makes Own Machine Tools.

"Equipped only with skilled men and machines for building automobile bodies," Fisher said, "we started from scratch to make a completely new type tank. With little experience in machine tool building we turned out huge vertical boring mills faster than they had ever been built before and rushed them to the tank job."

The welded tank, Fisher said, is a successor to a riveted model. He disclosed that several processes never before used in tank production have been adapted to the job, outstanding among them being the forming of the thick armor plate.

"For this forming job," Fisher said, "we are using presses which formerly turned out auto bodies—presses of several hundred tons pressure."

Huge Program Told

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Awarding of contracts for history's greatest shipbuilding program—2,300 freighters and tankers of 23 million deadweight tons in two years—was completed today by the maritime commission.

Final contract in the vast program was for a new six way shipyard at Pana City, Fla., where the J. A. Jones Construction company, Charlotte, N. C., will build 33 emergency freighters of the Liberty ship design.

While the 1942 goal remains 8 million tons, the 1943 goal has been increased from 10 million tons, the figure established by President Roosevelt immediately after Pearl Harbor, to 15 millions tons. The 23 million ton program for the two year period does not include more than 700 other craft under commission order, such as tugs, wooden barges, and small power boats.

750 Ships in 1942.

Present plans call for the delivery of about 750 ships in 1942 and the remainder next year. Delivery of ships reached a one a day basis in February, but the program schedules an average of three a day over the two year period. Peak production is expected late this year.

Of the merchant vessels under contract, 1,511 are Liberty ships designed for mass production. Tanker contracts call for 313 vessels. The remaining vessels on the program are of various "C" designs, which the commission regards as the best merchant ships ever constructed.

Nation Assured of Enough Undies for at Least 1942

Utica, N. Y., April 2 (AP). — Roy Cheney, president of the Underwear Institute of America, told New York and New England textile manufacturers today the textile industry will be able to make all deliveries until next fall. He said the industry's greatest difficulty would be obtaining yarn, but that there will be enough underwear to supply civilian needs for the next year.

Clearings Drop for First Time in 1942; Chicago Up

New York, April 2 (AP).—A sharp drop in bank clearings here against continued high volume elsewhere lowered the total for the last week in 23 large cities to $6,711,503,000, a decrease of 5.1 per cent from the comparable 1941 period, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. It was the first time this year the turnover failed to match or better 1941 figures. Chicago's total was $427,700,000, against $387,500,000 a year ago.

RIP 'FLAGRANT' PROFITEERING IN WAR NECESSITY

Senate Group Flays Magnesium Deal.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The senate committee created to investigate the war production program asserted in a supplementary report today that "there still is something wrong in the light metals section of the War Production board," which is charged with providing aluminum, magnesium, and other critical materials for the war effort.

Sen. H. M. Kilgore.

The report said the section succeeded a branch of the old Office of Production Management which "failed so miserably to anticipate and prepare for the greatly increased demand for these metals." The same personnel was retained when the OPM was reorganized as the WPB.

The report was prepared by a subcommittee headed by Sen. H. M. Kilgore [D., W. Va.] and was approved by Sen. Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.], chairman of the full committee.

Blasts War Profiteering.

It discusses in considerable detail a case which it terms "one of the most flagrant attempts at war profiteering" which has come to the committee's attention.

This is a 70 million dollar magnesium plant at Las Vegas, Nev., which involves a group of English and American speculators, who are promoting the project, and the De-

STOCKS DEVELOP BEST RALLY FOR SEVERAL WEEKS

Usual Pre-Holiday Trend Is Downward.

New York, April 2 (AP).—The stock market negotiated another modest rally today in which recently weak specialties were the leaders.

Prices, slightly irregular at the start, soon began to edge forward. Fractional gains were the rule, but scattered favorities added 2 or more points.

The extension of Wednesday's belated recovery shift was accomplished on a little better volume altho the aggregate still was far under the break even mark for most commission houses. Transfers amounted to 371,760 shares, largest since March 17, against 281,220 yesterday. The Associated Press average was up .3 of a point at 34.6, also the best showing since mid-March.

Tax View More Hopeful.

The improvement was credited mainly to hopes congress was leaning toward a federal sales tax, the lack of particularly bearish war news and the further belief the long decline to 4 year lows had put many issues in a position to swing upward if given half a chance.

Encouraging also was the fact trends were able to make headway generally in the face of tomorrow's Good Friday holiday when major markets will recess. Ordinarily, it was suggested, commitments might have been lightened.

Low priced motors such as Studebaker, Packard, and Hudson were relatively fast performers. The last named edged into new high ground for the year, along with Nash-Kelvinator.

Rails had difficulty in making the grade as last week's freight loadings disclosed a less than seasonal increase. Change over of industrial plants for war production was said to have affected shipments

CHICAGO LIST FIRM.

Prices advanced on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday as the volume of trading was stepped up to 22,000 shares. Of 88 issues traded, 51 closed higher, 16 lower, and 21 unchanged. Nash-Kelvinator, volume leader, continued its advance of recent weeks, closing ⅜ higher at 5⅝. Armour & Co. advanced ⅛, Peabody Coal ¼, and Chicago corporation eased 1/16 point. Only one stock, Borg-Warner, which advanced ⅛, changed in the half hour after the close in New York.

EDISON COMPANY VOTES DIVIDEND WITH A WARNING

Directors of the Commonwealth Edison company yesterday declared a dividend of 45 cents a share on common stock, payable May 1 to stockholders of record April 14. The same amount has been paid in previous quarters. Charles Y. Freeman, chairman of the board, issued the following statement:

"This action was taken by the board of directors after careful deliberation and in the belief that, until the requirements of any new federal tax law are known, the dividend policy for the future cannot be finally determined. The board has in mind that the subsequent dividends will have to be reasonably related to the year's earnings."

A. G. Spalding and Brothers announced a dividend of $3 on $1.50 first preferred stock, clearing arrears and including this year's requirements to Nov. 1. After that date the stock will be cumulative at the rate of $2 a year.

Commodities

Cotton futures gained 35 to 60 cents a bale yesterday on demand influenced by forecasts of an agricultural labor shortage and delay in current farm work because of excessive soil moisture. Liquidation in anticipation of today's Good Friday recess kept the final prices below recently established 14 year peaks. Wool tops declined .2 to .5 cent a pound. Grease wool closed unchanged. Coffee, cocoa, and cottonseed oil remained at ceiling prices.

WHEAT OFF MORE, BUT SOY BEANS GAIN FRACTIONS

Argentine Markup of Flax Prices a Factor.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Wheat sank to a new low for 1942 yesterday as prospects of a large crop continued to depress the market. Other grains were irregularly lower but soy beans recorded a fractional gain as Argentina boosted its flaxseed price 15⅛ cents a bushel. The linseed oil made from flax competes with domestic soy bean oil.

At the close wheat was off ⅝ to ¾ cent with May contracts at $1.24⅝ a bushel. Corn finished ⅛ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower; oats, ⅛ cent lower; rye, ⅝ to ½ cent lower and soy beans, ⅜ to ½ cent higher.

Not since before outbreak of the war with Japan have wheat prices been as low as they dropped yesterday. Some sources reported evidences of hedging pressure on the decline.

Reports Large Cash Sale.

A cash house reported the sale of 25,000 bushels of No. 2 mixed wheat to flour mills, the largest sale of its kind in some time.

Closing out of spreads between the wheat and corn pits where dealers had sold wheat against purchases of corn tended to rally the wheat market from the day's lows and put a little pressure on the corn futures. At the close of the market the price spread between the May deliveries of wheat and corn had narrowed to 36¼ cents from 44¾ cents a month ago.

Corn Movement Larger.

Grain men commented that the summary of the movement of grain from Kansas City during March was representative of the grain trade thruout the nation. Corn shipments were 10 times as large as they were a year ago and were the largest since the drouth year of 1935. Other feed grains showed similar increases, oats shipments being the largest since 1937, and grain sorghums and barley largest since 1930.

On the other hand, the movement of wheat from this important bread grain market was the smallest in 15 years and 702 cars less than a year ago. Only 995 cars of wheat were shipped all month. Flour shipments were at an eight year low.

Light Receipts, Ceiling Rumors Bring $14 Hog; First Since '26

Hog prices advanced to new 16 year peaks at Chicago yesterday with the return of the $14 hog for the first time since October, 1926. The rise was the sharpest in the last 24 days.

Top loads of 230 to 246 pound fall pigs moved up 25 cents to $14 a hundred pounds, the highest figure for April since 1920. The average advanced 20 cents to $13.80, a new 22 year April peak.

Abnormally small receipts for a Thursday, reports that the Office of Price administration was considering a revision of some pork price ceilings, and rumors of heavy government lard buying were principal factors in the advance, live stock dealers said.

Only 8,500 Hogs Shipped.

Farmers shipped only 8,500 hogs to the Chicago yards, including directs to packers, one of the smallest Thursday totals on record. The average Thursday supply for the last five weeks was 16,500.

Most hogs yesterday that weighed from 190 to 350 pounds sold within the narrow range of $13.80 to $13.90. Sows weighing from 450 to 600 pounds brought $13.15 to $13.45.

Despite the high cost of live hogs, wholesale pork prices showed little change. Some plants were able to advance certain cuts 50 cents a hundred pounds without violating OPA ceilings. Most plants, however, have been charging ceiling prices the last few days.

Lend-lease buyers were said to be demanding immediate delivery of huge quantities of pork and lard for shipment to England and Russia, and contracts this week are expected to be larger than any let by the government since the lend-lease act was passed early last year. Requirements may exceed 30 per cent of the nation's output, packing sources said, compared with recent purchases amounting to slightly more than 20 per cent.

FREIGHT TRANSPORT ON INLAND, COASTAL WATERWAYS IS URGED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Rep. J. J. Mansfield [D., Tex.] urged the utilization of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers and the gulf and Atlantic intracoastal waterways for the transportation of oil and other freight before the house today.

"The Mississippi and Ohio rivers," he declared, "are in satisfactory condition for the movement of freight of all kinds. Texas and Louisiana have unlimited quantities of oil and sulphur, now so essential in our war effort. Wooden barges will be satisfactory for the movement of sulphur and crude oil, while our few steel tank barges can be reserved for gasoline shipments."

Unless our inland and intracoastal waterways are utilized, Mansfield said, gasoline consumers may expect further price increases in the near future, since all types of transportations will soon be used to the straining point. He said he had written President Roosevelt on this subject and had received a letter saying that the proposal was being studied by the Office of Defense Transportation.

Day by Day on the Farm

By GAIL COMPTON

Turkey Hens Laying.

THE flockmaster at the farm has been having a hectic time recently with the turkeys that wander about the barnyard. The spring weather has brought the old gobblers out with their chests puffed up, and the hens have begun laying eggs in every conceivable spot. The flockmaster is busy much of the day retrieving eggs from the garage, window sills, lambing pens, and odd corners in the yard.

One old hen took a fancy to the roof of the farm home and flew up and laid a big egg in the rain gutter. The flockmaster saw the bird on the roof, got a ladder and found the egg in a cold nest formed by a little drift of snow.

65 Eggs Go to Hatchery.

So far he has collected 65 turkey eggs. They have been sent to a nearby hatchery and should produce some good poults. When they have been hatched the poults will be brought back to the farm and put in a brooder.

To add to the flockmaster's daily Easter egg hunt, the mallards and the moscovy ducks have begun laying. Once in a while they drop an egg in some out of the way place. As a rule, however, these birds take the time and trouble to build a nest for their eggs. As a reward, they will be allowed to hatch their eggs this year. Previously the eggs have been gathered and incubated.

A trained German shepherd dog that belongs to one of the men at the farm celebrated the arrival of spring the other day with a plunge into the ice cold water of one of the ponds. Its master saw the dog go for its swim and hurried it into the house to dry out. The dog is very active and healthy as it spends a good deal of time outdoors. Thus it suffered no serious consequences from the wetting. Its heavy, dense, well oiled coat protected it from the cold water.

Tractor Uproots Trees.

The big caterpillar tractor was brought into play to uproot some old trees. Two cherry trees and one apple tree were pulled up and will be burned. The trees were old and rotten and were not producing any fruit. They constituted a menace to the surrounding trees and there was a danger that they would pass on some disease to the others.

A heavy chain attached to the rear of the tractor was linked about each tree trunk in turn, close to the ground. A few tugs were sufficient to make the roots give way. All three trees came out of the ground easily.

The flock of Karakul sheep, followed by some of the braver Southdowns, has ranged out into the woods near the sheep barn to graze. This is the first time since winter that the sheep have been out on the range. Most of the Southdowns refuse to leave the warm barn and stand about bleating for the flockmaster to hand them their feed. The Karakuls are much more independent and are excellent grazers. They seem to prefer to go out and find their own food.

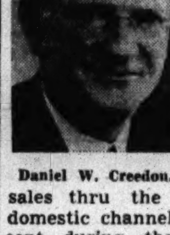
LIBBY SALES RISE 66 PER CENT TO PEAK SINCE 1919

Earnings Increase Despite Big Rise in Taxes.

Sales of Libby, McNeill & Libby in the fiscal year ended Feb. 28 totaled $104,574,571, 66 per cent more than in the preceding year and the largest business volume since 1919, the Chicago food products company disclosed yesterday in its annual report. Sales to the government increased because of the war, but sales thru the company's normal domestic channels alone rose 45 per cent during the year, Daniel W. Creeden, president, informed stockholders. Selling prices were slightly more than 10 per cent above average prices the year before, he said.



Daniel W. Creedon.

Altho provision for federal income and excess profits taxes rose from $711,117 to $6,096,638, Libby's net earnings were substantially improved.

Earns 93 Cents a Share.

The year's total was $3,375,285, equal to 93 cents a share, compared with $2,660,847, or 75 cents a share, in the fiscal year ended March 1, 1941.

The year's profit rise was checked by a $500,000 provision for contingencies and by adoption of the "last in, first out" method of inventory pricing, which dropped earnings after taxes about $235,000, according to the report.

Libby directors declared a dividend of 45 cents a share on common stock, the first since 35 cents was paid last May 31.

Creeden said the war, especially thru shortage of shipping space, may significantly curtail operations in Alaska and Hawaii.

Fishing in Doubt.

Company's ships plying between Seattle and Alaska are under charter to the government, with the provision that they may be used by Libby for its salmon business this season, Creeden said, but with the uncertainty of the future "we cannot say whether we shall be able to fish and pack salmon this summer."

He asserted chances are "reasonably good that we can operate our canneries in the southeastern Alaska area—not so good in the Bristol bay area beause of more open waters."

There has been no war damage to properties in the Hawaiian Islands, where the company grows and packs pineapple, Creeden reported. Despite handicaps of shipping and labor shortages "our plantings have been carried on and we have prepared for normal operation during the canning season," he said.

Tin Not "Too Serious."

The company's business is "not too seriously affected" by restrictions on tin cans because many Libby products are eligible for canning under government orders, Creeden said. He reported the company is "working to devise other packages" for items for which tin cannot be used.

In discussing advertising, Creeden said "experience proves the importance of Libby, McNeill & Libby continuing this service."

Despite an increase in federal taxes from $950,000 to $6,200,000, Anaconda Wire and Cable company of New York and Chicago, reported a substantial gain in 1941 profits. Earnings were $2,507,476, equal to $5.94 a share, compared with $1,717,468, or $4.07 a share, in 1940. H. Donn Keresey, Anaconda president, said the company's facilities are engaged entirely in war production.

HARVESTER CASE THREATENS RUIN TO LABOR BOARD

Issue of Union Shop Plagues Members.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—President Roosevelt's latest creation to settle labor problems, the War Labor board, today faced its crucial test over the union shop issue which wrecked its predecessor, the old National Defense Mediation board.

The same stumbling block has appeared in the International Harvester company case to plague and haunt the WLB membership, which is understood to be split wide open in considering the case now under discussion.

Labor members were said to be threatening another walkout on the board if it upholds the findings of a five man panel against a union shop for the 25,000 employés in eight midwest Harvester plants.

Lewis Won Previously.

The death warrant of the old NDMB was signed last November after labor members, including those representing the AFL, sympathized with the wholesale resignations of CIO representatives when the board refused to grant John L. Lewis' demands for a union shop in captive coal mines owned by the major steel makers.

Lewis finally won his point when the President appointed an extraordinary arbitration board acceptable to Lewis which decided in favor of the CIO's United Mine Workers of America. But the effectiveness and confidence of the NDMB was lost.

Now the new board must decide the same issue. It is understood that Wayne L. Morse, a member of the WLB representing the public, has written a decision, generally supporting the recommendations of the five man panel which voted 3 to 2 against granting union demands for a union shop in the Harvester plants, but recommending a pay raise of 4½ cents an hour retroactive to Jan. 15.

Unions Ask 10½ Cent Raise.

The unions wanted a raise of 10½ cents an hour and demanded a decision granting the union shop. The two dissenters in the recommendation were both labor representatives, John Brophy of the CIO and Richard Gray of the AFL.

Morse's decision for the full board, said to follow closely the panel's majority opinion, has brought on the current strife.

Labor members of the board are said to have insisted that the board's decision favor a union shop. International Harvester has agreed to bargain collectively with the majority unions in each of its eight plants, but has resisted firmly any demands for granting a union shop.

EXPECT TRANSIT OWNERS TO VOTE ON MERGER SOON

Attorneys for the principal securities committees of the Chicago Surface lines and the elevated lines yesterday asked Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe to order the submission of the proposed 179 million dollar transit merger plan to the lines' 100,000 securities holders on April 14.

At the same time, William H. Sexton, special traction counsel for the city, assured Judge Igoe the city plans to hold a referendum on the traction unification ordinance at the June 1 judicial election. Sexton said Mayor Kelly and other city officials favor holding the referendum then.

The city's ordinance, passed June 19, 1941, grants a franchise to the proposed merged company, which will operate the street car and "L" lines and the city owned subway, and will have the option of acquiring the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Judge Igoe indicated that the proposed vote by the securities holders on the financial merger and the June 1 public vote met with the court's approval. He set a further hearing for Monday, when the court is expected to order the submission of the plan to the securities' owners.

Wholesale Price Index Rises Highest Since 1928

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—The labor department's wholesale price index rose 0.2 of a point to 97.4 per cent of the 1926 level last week, the department said, largely because of higher prices for agricultural products. The indext was the highest since late in 1928. It was 0.6 per cent above a month ago, and nearly 19 per cent above a year ago. In the corresponding week of 1929 it was 96.

Farish Admits Rubber Curbed to Competitors

Washington, D. C., April 2 (AP).—Officials of the Standard Oil company [New Jersey] acknowledged today that the company sought in 1939 and 1940 to prevent individual companies from undertaking development of Standard's synthetic rubber for use in tires, but said this policy was adopted in the belief large scale development could be achieved only by coöperative action of the major rubber producers.

This testimony was given the senate defense investigating committee by W. S. Farish, president, and F. A. Howard, vice president of the company.

Denying the objective of the policy was to maintain a monopoly over synthetic rubber processes acquired from I. G. Farbenindustrie, the company's German associate, the officials said they had taken the lead in attempting to develop artificial rubber in the United States and had followed a policy recommended by the army and navy munitions board.

Doubts Competition.

"We didn't see how synthetic rubber could ever compete with natural rubber," Howard told the committee, "unless all the interested parties pitched in and tried to make a go of it as a coöperative matter."

He said that as a result of this belief and with the concurrence of the army and navy, Standard, after it acquired control of I. G. Farben's patents in this country in 1939, issued only "stop-gap" licenses to rubber companies for use in making relatively high priced specialty items and to fill only their immediate needs until arrangements could be made for an industry-wide, joint venture.

And because Standard's lawyers concluded such a venture might violate anti-trust laws, the project was abandoned, Howard testified.

During the questioning of witnesses Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] told them that "your difficulty proceeds from the fact that you are bound by two loyalties, loyalty to I. G. Farben and loyalty to the United States and its policies."

Denies "Conflict of Loyalty."

His comment was based on a letter, dated Jan. 20, 1941, in which the manager of the Standard Oil Development company observed that under 1939 agreements Standard Oil would have to refer Japanese and South American companies to I. G. Farben, the big German dye and chemical trust.

Denying that any "conflict of loyalty with the United States" was created by this arrangement, Howard said it grew out of "the simple fact that we did not own the patents in the countries in question, and I. G. did own them." Howard declared there was "never at any time" any effort by Standard to control retail prices in licensing agreements.

He acknowledged that Standard did not issue licenses to rubber companies which permitted them to manufacture synthetic rubber for other than their own use.

"As owner of the patents," he said, "we might properly have monopolized the whole business."

Fears "Premature" Action.

Howard said the company sought thru its license arrangements to prevent "premature development" of synthetic tire rubber by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company because "we were trying to keep the situation open until we could develop some more rational and constructive plan."

Howard said an erroneous impression had been circulated that his company had turned over "the secret" of butyl rubber to Germany in 1938. "It was not a secret," he said, adding that the formula had been set forth in patent applications filed in virtually every country in the world.

SALES TAX TOTAL SHOWS ILLINOIS TRADE UP 24 PCT.

Springfield, Ill., April 2 (AP).—State Finance Director George B. McKibbin reported today that sales [retailers' occupational] tax collections disclosed dollar volume of February retail sales was 24 per cent higher than in February, 1941.

March 2 per cent tax collections, reflecting business transactions in February, totaled $6,389,842, compared with $7,859,453 collected in March last year when the tax was 3 per cent.

McKibbin said that March cigaret tax receipts were $986,291, compared with $939,262 for February; liquor taxes were $1,604,195, compared with $1,649,212 in February, and oil production taxes totaled $384,165, compared with $456,942 the preceding month.

MINORITY GROUP ENDS NATIONAL CYLINDER FIGHT

Proxies Fail to Meet SEC Requirements.

A minority group of National Cylinder Gas company stockholders that had indicated it would fight to elect at least one director to the company's board abandoned its opposition drive at yesterday's annual meeting, and all of the retiring directors were reëlected.

The opposition crumbled when the group announced that proxies acquired prior to the meeting did not conform to Securities and Exchange commission regulations and would not be voted. The group had opposed salary increases totaling $46,500 received by company officers last year, and had attacked some provisions of National Cylinder's retirement annuity plan.

Charles J. Haines, president, after discussing the annuity plan, salaries, and the annual report, told stockholders the company is working on government projects, the nature of which could not be disclosed.

Haines Estimates Profit.

Haines estimated consolidated net income for the first three months of 1942 at $375,000 on the basis of federal income and excess profits taxes at the 1941 rates, but said profit would be cut to $215,000 under rates proposed by the treasury.

He said the annuity plan cost the company $410,284 since the plan was started in 1940, and said federal taxes had been reduced by the annuity payments.

The meeting was held at the company's office at 205 West Wacker drive. Officers were reëlected.

Abbott Laboratories directors and officers were reëlected at the annual meetings in North Chicago. S. De Witt Clough, president, told the stockholders that increased efficiency and closer coöperation with the government have resulted from the efforts of a general conservation committee appointed by the company nine months ago. The company produces pharmaceutical, biological, and vitamin products.

Effect on Ice Trade.

In Cleveland, O., Robert C. Suhr, president of the City Ice and Fuel company, told stockholders that industrial and economic changes resulting from the war may give the company a larger volume of business this year. He cited the government curb on manufacture of mechanical refrigerators, and said that domestic and industrial use of ice is increasing.

The Simmons company, maker of mattresses, springs, and related products, had a record breaking first quarter as a result of government orders and "a lot of civilian business." Grant G. Simmons, president, told stockholders at their annual meeting in New York. He said shipments of bedding to the government in the first two months of 1942 accounted for about 50 per cent of all shipments.

He estimated the company has 10 million dollars of unfilled government orders. The company is installing shell making machinery and will be in production within a few months, is making incendiary bomb casings and bomb shipping boxes, and is preparing to make gas masks, Simmons said.

Banking Group Offers Pet Milk Preferred at $105

A banking group headed by Kidder, Peabody & Co., G. H. Walker & Co., and Harris Hall & Co. yesterday offered 30,000 shares of Pet Milk company 4¼ per cent cumulative preferred stock at $105 a share and accrued dividends. Proceeds will be used to retire bank loans which amounted to $900,000 on Feb. 28, and to increase working capital.

CARELESS TRUCK OWNERS WARNED OF 'CRACKDOWN'

Federal Agency to Refuse Replacement Tires.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The Office of Defense Transportation warned today that it will disapprove replacement purchases by truck operators who are careless or reckless in the use of their present equipment, particularly tires. Buyers otherwise eligible under the rationing rules who might be disqualified under the ODT pronouncement include common carriers, industrial and agricultural producers, and ice and fuel haulers.

Joseph B. Eastman, federal defense transportation director, declared that any truck owner who permits a waste of rubber is aiding the enemy, and asserted: "The careless use of tires may force many badly needed trucks out of service."

Rules on Tire Care.

John L. Rogers, motor transport director of ODT, issued seven suggestions for eligible buyers to follow in avoiding the new penalty and for all operators to follow in prolonging the life of their tires.

The suggestions pertain to excessive speed, improper inflation, overloading, cuts and uneven wear, improper wheel alignment, careless starting and stopping, and unnecessary truck mileage.

The War Production board today authorized manufacturers to produce 28,000 trucks of 9,000 to 16,000 pounds gross weight from fabricated materials on hand on Feb. 28, when the board halted the production of all motor vehicles except those of a gross weight of 16,000 pounds or more. None of the newly authorized trucks will be available for civilian use.

Other Actions Announced.

Other moves made today by the War Production board and other agencies included:

FLUORESCENT LIGHTING FIXTURES—The WPB ordered an immediate end to the production of fluorescent lighting fixtures except for specified, essential uses, or on contracts accepted prior to today on which work had begun. For the next 20 days, manufacturers may produce equipment from materials on hand.

SUGAR—The Office of Price Administration has been given sole control over sugar distribution, price fixing, and rationing. The move was designed to place one organization in control of a product that previously was divided between the WPB, the department of agriculture, and the OPA. These agencies will retain jurisdiction over other phases of the sugar problem.

MACHINE TOOLS—The WPB reported that 20,307 new machine tools valued at $84,355,000 were shipped from manufacturers to industrial plants in February, topping the February, 1941, total by 63 per cent.

TEXTILES—John E. Hamm, acting price administrator, accused some members of the textile industry of "wilful violations" of OPA price ceilings on cotton and rayon gray goods, and said the agency was prepared "to take enforcement action."

SCRAP METAL—The OPA announced there would be no increases in price ceilings on scrap metal and warned, "There will be no profit in hoarding."

RAYON — The WPB telegraphed worsted mills that some users of rayon cut staple had failed to take up their March and April allotments and that the excess supply would be allocated to mills able to place it in process before May 1.

BANK DEPOSITS CUT BY 481 MILLIONS IN ANNUAL TAX EXODUS

Reserve system member banks in Chicago experienced a large reduction in demand deposits in the week ended Wednesday, the day for determining personal property tax assessments, a statement of the banks' condition showed yesterday. A temporary exodus of money out of Illinois bank deposits into tax exempt securities or into other states occurs annually prior to the assessment date.

Demand deposits in Chicago member banks declined 481 million dollars during the week and much of the drop reflected the annual migration. Additional funds had been taken out of such accounts in preceding weeks. A year ago the total exodus of capital was estimated at 476 million. In the latest week also, the Chicago banks' holdings of tax exempt treasury bills fell 285 million dollars as the banks sold the bills to their customers.

Meantime the federal reserve board reported that excess reserves of system member banks in the nation increased 150 million dollars during the week. The board's report follows:

ELECT HARRY KUNIN AS NEW PRESIDENT OF SPRAGUE, WARNER CO.

Harry Kunin.

Harry Kunin was elected president yesterday of Sprague, Warner & Co., long established Chicago grocery wholesale house. The board of directors named Kunin to the vacancy caused by the resignation on March 14 of Thomas C. Dennehy Jr. Kunin had been secretary and treasurer for three years. He will continue as treasurer. A. G. Hubbard, company counsel, was elected secretary. Col. A. A. Sprague was elected chairman of the board to succeed Samuel Kunin, father of the new president, who will continue as a director. Otho S. A. Sprague was added to the board.

HILLMAN OFFERS 14 POINT PLAN FOR WAR WORK

Power Asked to Shift Labor as Needed.

directed to keep informed of and give due consideration to the labor supply situation in communities in which they are planning the placement of contracts. Representatives of the labor division should be consulted in the initial stages of all contract negotiations.

3. The President should issue an executive order centralizing control of all federal agencies engaged in defense training.

4. The President should designate the United States employment service under the direction and supervision of the War Production board as the single agency to control recruitment and placement of workers in occupations essential to war production.

Urges Detailed Priorities.

5. WPB should set up the mechanism necessary to establish priorities of production by items of equipment and priorities of plants manufacturing such equipment in order that proper priorities may be determined.

6. Authority should be obtained for transferring workers among employers in accordance with war production needs. Such authority should include provision for protection of seniority and other rights of workers as well as transportation costs.

7. WPB should direct all contracting departments and agencies to take the necessary action to insure the full utilization of the local labor supply, including women and minority groups.

Would Requisition Housing.

8. Nonmigrant war workers should have first call on all war housing. Housing should be rented to war workers without requirement to purchase. In more critical areas, dormitories should be provided to accomodate workers whose families have been left in their former homes. In addition, authority should be obtained to requisition existing housing space for war workers.

9. To prevent the breakdown of local transportation systems, action should be taken: To stagger hours for departments of large industries, schools, office workers, and shoppers; and to obtain greater utilization of rail services, intercity, and sight seeing busses and other means of transportation in use not essential to the war effort.

10. Legislation should be secured authorizing WPB to mobilize a mobile labor corps of such size and in such skilled occupations as are deemed necessary for the prosecution of the war effort.

Man Power Board Urged.

11. WPB should curtail less essential production and services if and when necessary.

12. A national man power board should be promptly established.

13. Man power boards should, among other things, promptly consider the realistic and practical determination of the military needs of the army and navy on one hand and industrial needs on the other. This consideration should include controls necessary to prevent wastage of skills thru voluntary enlistment in the armed forces.

14. The necessary action should be taken to establish wage stabilization agreements wherever feasible.

BARE 'FLAGRANT PROFITEERING' IN WAR NECESSITY

Senate Group Attacks Big Magnesium Deal.

fense Plant corporation, government agency which is financing it.

Evidence thus far received by the subcommittee, according to the report, indicates that the government financing agency is paying "tremendous fees" to Basic Magnesium, Inc., which has a contract to build and operate the Las Vegas plant, and that "miserable progress" has been made, the metal producing units being only 9 per cent complete altho the contract was signed last Aug. 13.

Basic Magnesium, Inc., is owned jointly by Magnesium Elektron, Ltd., which holds 45 per cent of the stock, and Basic Refractories, Inc., of Cleveland, which has the other 55 per cent.

Uses German Process.

Magnesium Elektron is an English company that has been making magnesium with a German process under a license from I. G. Farbenindustrie, the huge German chemical trust, since 1936. The English company does not have or claim the right to license the operation of American plants, since American patents controling the German process are owned jointly by the Aluminum Company of America and German interests.

Nevertheless, the report indicates, the English promoters made a deal with the Cleveland corporation, whereby the British company furnished the so-called "know how" of building and operating the plant, and Basic Refractories furnished the magnesite ore deposits of its subsidiary, Basic Ores, which it proposes to lease to the government. Howard Eells, representing Basic Refractories, became president of B. M. I.

600 Acres in Nevada.

The 600 acres of ore deposits in Nevada were claimed from the public domain. Eells testified that not more than $25,000 to $50,000 was spent in developing the claims, yet the government is asked to pay $1 a ton royalty and all costs of quarrying. If the plant operated at cost this would produce $280,000 a year royalties on an investment of $50,000 at the highest estimate.

For operating the plant B. M. I. is to receive a fee of 2 per cent of the sales value, which would amount to at least $560,000 on an estimated minimum yearly output of 112 million pounds.

In addition, B. M. I. is to receive a $300,000 fixed fee plus cost for constructing the plant and for engineering services, altho, the report states, "it had had little experience in the past, and altho more than a million dollars is to be paid in fees for construction, engineering, and architectural services to be performed by others on a cost plus fixed fee basis."

Invites "Incompetency."

The contract provides that if the Defense Plan corporation should cancel it for poor performance or for any other reason, it would have to pay B. M. I. a million dollars and also double the royalties on the proposed ore lease, which would be $2 a ton or $560,000 a year. According to the report, the terms "put a premium on mismanagement and incompetency."

Included in the report was a section on aircraft production, previously released on the west coast, which blames the armed services and the old OPM for a "poor job of over-all planning from aluminum ingots to finished aircraft." Notwithstanding the failure of the parts program to keep abreast of the big assembly plants on the west coast, the report states, their production of planes is several times larger than a year ago and is increasing each month.

The subcommittee was "most favorably impressed" with the production job being done in four shipyards visited on the west coast and found that labor relations were "excellent."

Armour Official Elected to ODT Advisory Position

Chicago area companies operating their own fleets of trucks, meeting yesterday in the Palmer House, elected Fred L. Faulkner of Armour & Co. their permanent representative on the advisory committee of the motor transport division of the Office of Defense Transportation.

EARNINGS AND COSTS.

What were du Pont's earnings, costs, and taxes in 1941 compared with 1940? I heard recently that this company has organized a photo products department. Is this correct?—A. M. S.

Answer: Comparative earnings, costs, and taxes of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. follow:

	Net sales and oper. revenue.	Sales costs and oper. charges.
1941	$503,352,294	$271,369,369
1940	359,055,655	196,619,564
	*Federal taxes.	Net income.
1941	$103,190,000	$90,401,470
1940	47,437,000	86,945,173

*Includes excess profits taxes of $70,250,000 in 1941 and $19,345,000 in 1940.

Early in February this year the company announced that with the acquisition of the du Pont Film Manufacturing corporation a photo products department had been formed for the manufacture of motion picture, X-ray, and other films.

SILK SITUATION.

Has the Real Silk Hosiery company reported its position with regard to the government's freezing of raw silk last summer?—N. L.

Answer: In its 1941 report to stockholders, Real Silk Hosiery Mills, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind., stated that on July 26, 1941, the federal government froze 422 bales of raw silk representing all full bales in the company's hands. This silk, the report said, has been taken over by the government at ceiling prices for the manufacture of war materials.

"The freezing of raw silk and the restrictions and allotments of substitutes for silk in our manufacturing operations have caused many difficulties which your management is endeavoring to overcome," the company said. "We have been experimenting with various substitutes which we have been able to obtain up to the present time."

GENERAL TELEPHONE.

What territory is served by the General Telephone corporation? Does it have any connection with the Bell System—M. S. T.

Answer: The General Telephone corporation, a holding company, serves about 2,700 communities in 17 states thru 14 operating subsidiaries. Operating headquarters are in California, Washington, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Texas, and New York, while exchanges also are in Idaho, Montana, Kansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and New Mexico. There is no corporate connection with the American Telephone and Telegraph company, but there are line connections with A. T. & T. and its associated companies in the Bell System.

2 PLANS STUDIED TO MEET WAR'S SUGAR PROBLEMS

Two plans designed to help meet the domestic sugar supply problem are under consideration by the refining industry and the government, Joseph F. Abbott, president of the American Sugar Refining company, told stockholders yesterday in the company's annual report issued from headquarters in New York.

One is to reduce ocean shipping space requirements by shortening routes and using railroad facilities for transporting raw sugar to refineries in the United States. The other is to increase the production of industrial alcohol from surplus grain and other products, thus permitting larger production of sugar for food.

Abbott expressed concern the sugar shortage and rationing "may impair the progress which has built the per capita consumption of sugar in this country into one of the highest in the world." He said sugar "is the pivotal food of industrial nations."

The executive estimated 1941 sugar distribution in the United States at 7,870,997 short tons raw value, the largest on record and a million tons more than in 1940.

The war cost America the source of about a million tons of sugar with capture of the Philippines, Abbott said, and predicted Hawaiian shipments will be cut 50 per cent to not more than 500,000 short tons.

American Sugar Refining's 1941 net profits were $5,417,513, equal to $5.04 a share, compared with $3,444,680, or 65 cents a share, in 1940. Earnings were the largest since 1930. A reserve for war contingencies of 1½ million dollars was set up from last year's income. The company set aside 1½ million dollars for federal taxes.

SEC WOULD STRIP UTILITY OF ALL BUT ONE SYSTEM

Philadelphia, Pa., April 2 (AP).—The public utilities division of the Securities and Exchange commission contended today that the Engineers Public Service company should be permitted to retain only the electric system of one of two subsidiaries and should withdraw from the gas, transportation, ice, and water businesses. This drastic limitation was suggested during oral argument at an SEC hearing on a plan of integration for the company under the public utility holding company act.

An order by the commission last year gave Engineers a choice of limiting its system to one of two possible maximum combinations, either Virginia Electric and Power and Savannah Electric and Power companies or the El Paso Electric company in Texas and New Mexico and the Gulf States Utilities company in Louisiana and East Texas. The utilities division, however, maintained that Engineers should limit itself to the electric system of either Virginia Electric or Gulf States Electric.

EASTER EGG SALE OVER, DEALERS REDUCE PRICES

The wholesale egg dealers had about finished their annual job of supplying Peter Rabbit with Easter eggs yesterday and, with fresh arrivals large, lowered their prices for farm run and storable eggs ¼ cent a dozen. Egg futures sold at the lowest prices of the week on the Chicago Mercantile exchange with Octobers down 1-5 cent at the close to 32.05 cents.

Despite the largest butter receipts in 4½ months—more than a million pounds of fresh butter arrived to supply Chicago's requirements—prices on best storage butter advanced ¼ cent a pound to the highest levels since mid-January. Best butter sold at wholesale at 36 to 37 cents.

The best storage butter was ½ cent above federal support levels, but the Dairy Products Marketing association bought 31,548 pounds of lower grades to support the market.

EASTER SHOPPING LIFTS SALES TO PEAK 1942 LEVEL

Pre-Easter sales sent last week's department store buying in the 7th federal reserve district to a new 1942 peak, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Dollar volume of sales was 6 per cent larger than in the preceding week and 24 per cent larger than a year earlier.

Chicago sales gained 3 per cent during the week and were 19 per cent higher than last year. For the four weeks ended March 28, compared with the corresponding 1941 period, district sales were up 23 per cent and Chicago sales 20 per cent.

The federal reserve board estimated that nationally, compared with corresponding periods of 1941, sales increased 26 per cent both for the week and the four weeks.

MOTOR COMPANY CUTS PRICES OF WAR CONTRACTS

Washington, D. C., April 2 [Special].—Continental Motors, Inc., Muskegon, Mich., has agreed voluntarily to an over-all reduction of prices involved in army ordnance and air corps contracts totaling 40 million dollars, the war department announced today.

The amount of the reduction was not disclosed, but it was stated officially that it "was made possible thru increased efficiency, plant economies, improvements in methods and the wholehearted coöperation of employés."

Hawaii Gets 48 Hour Week on All War Jobs

HONOLULU, T. H., April 2 (AP).—A 48 hour work week for all war projects, consisting of six days of eight hours each, was decreed today by the military governor of the Hawaiian Islands. Time and a half will be paid for overtime in excess of 44 hours weekly or eight hours daily. It was explained the order does not apply to federal, territorial, or civil service employés.

9 ADVANTAGES of Getting YOUR LOAN from 'PERSONAL'

1. Loans made to all employed men and women whether single or married.
2. Business women and those working in defense plants—borrow here "on your own."
3. A special plan provides loans for defense workers and others on a new job or who have just moved into the community.
4. Between pay-day loans for small amounts and short periods made as readily as other loans.
5. Loans made for purchase of tools, uniforms, car or home repairs, medical or dental attention, payment of old bills, etc.
6. Your account here establishes NATION-WIDE Cash Credit at any of more than 400 'Personal' offices.
7. Monthly payments arranged that you can comfortably afford. Take a year or more to repay.
8. Complete privacy. Loans made on signature, furniture or auto. No wage assignments. Outsiders not involved.
9. Quick, friendly service. No waiting for a "Board" or committee to pass on your loan.

More people from coast-to-coast borrow from 'Personal' than from any other similar company. If you need $10 to $250 or more, phone or come to our nearest office today.

FURNITURE LOANS At Commonwealth you may take your choice of several loan plans. Actually, however, a furniture loan is by far the most popular. The requirements are so simple that nearly any one keeping house can qualify. The payments, too, can usually be adjusted to fit even the most modest income. If you are hard pressed for cash, investigate the various loan plans Commonwealth has to offer. STOP IN, WRITE, or PHONE for full details.
